The principal basis for this belief rests upon the fact that the agreeunion, it is stated, would not ruth expiration. Despite these optimistic declarations, however, it is well-known that the labor union leaders have been very active this season in the anthracite districts stirring up the miners and creating enthusiasm for the labor cause. Picnics and other public gatherings have been held at which the cause of the miners was discussed. Incidentally efforts have been made to have the members of the union pay their dues, and the delinquents have been urged to pay their arrears, Those who profess to see in the activity of the union leaders signs of preparations for another anthracite struggle maintain that a great contest will
