Concerning his visit to Scotland Dr. Third said that of course the allabsorbing topic of discussion there was the Scottish church bill. The laims of the United Free Church, numerically the strongest of the Scot tish churches, are gradually being re-cognized, although there is much bit-terness, especially since the evictions

For example, at Ayr, the birth-place of Bobby Burns, the United Free congregation was evicted by the Wee Frees, or the Legal Free church, they prefer to call themselves on July The Legal Frees, numbered 119 the evicted congregation considerably over 1,000. The latter rented a hall and with numbers augmented to fully 1,500 worshipped there. At the close of the morning service the Wee Frees found themselves in the midst, of a dense and none too orderly street crowd. Such weapons as stale and bits of rock were frequently evidence. Nothing but the vigilance of a well-organized police force prevented bloodshed. After stating the rela tion of the college to the Presbyterian church, as far as I knew it. Mr Carnegie assured me that Queen't would, participate in the fund, fact, he stated that the claims even state universities would not absolutely ignored if presented to the trustees of the fund. His scheme far as I understand it, is not to in terfere with any existing relationship between a university and the state or a university or any branch of the church. Such phrases as 'Indiscrim mate giving impoverishes.' those who help themselves,' were fre quently on his lips. I found him ex ceedingly liberal in his views and for my own part I see no reason why Queen's should not enjoy the fruits of this branch of his generosity.
