The American fish commission for years has schooled the waters of the St. Lawrence with millions of various fry annually, and the majority of the fishermen favor free

During the session several interesting speeches were delivered by various members regarding the purpose and progress of the Protective Association and the necessity of maintaining the harmonious co-operation between the Canadian and United States authorities in their efforts to protect the fish eries of the St. Lawrence.

A letter from President Roosevelt acknowledging the receipt of the invitation of the association to be present at the meeting was read by the secretary.
