BABY TUCKER'S WONDERFUL CURE

Covered from Head to Foot with Humours—Forty Boils on Head at One Time—Could Not Shut Eyes to Sleep—Doctors Did No Good.

CURED BY CUTICURA IN ONE MONTH

Mrs. George H. Tucker, Jr., 335 Greenfield Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., is a grateful mother. "When six months old," she says, "my little girl weighed a pound and a half less than at birth. When one month old a scab formed on her face, spreading until it completely covered her from head to foot, followed by boils, having forty on her head at one time, and more on her body. These her skin started to dry up, and it became so bad she could not shut her eyes to sleep. One month's treatment with Cuticura Soap and Ointment made a complete cure, and now my child is as large, strong, and healthy as any other child of her age. The doctor's and drug bills amounted to a large sum, and my baby grew worse all the time. Then we got Cuticura Soap and Ointment and cured her at trifling expense."

CUTICURA A BLESSING
To Skin-Tortured Babies.

The suffering which Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have alleviated among the young, and the comfort they have afforded worn-out and worried parents, have led to their adoption in countless homes as price-less curatives for birth humours, and every form of itching, scaly, pimply skin, and scalp humours, with loss of hair, of infancy and childhood. A warm bath with Cuticura Soap, and a single anointing with Cuticura Ointment, will permit of sleep for baby, and rest for mother, and point to a speedy and permanent cure in the most distressing cases.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. London, Wm. Lusk & Co., Ltd., 25, Abchurch Lane, E.C. 4, London, E.C. 4, England. Sole U.S. Agents, J. C. Foley & Co., 120 N. 2nd St., New York, N.Y.

THE IPRESS GHOULS

RESPECTABLE JOURNALISM DETESTS THE WRETCHES.

The Scheme Projected for Robbing People Who Do Not Wish to Be Held Up to Ridicule—Is Wireless Telegraphy An Unqualified Blessing?—Ready for the Peace Conference.

Special Correspondence, Letter No. 1,472 New York, Aug. 4.—One of the meanest and most contemptible crimes in the calendar is blackmail when it has a newspaper backing, which set forth in "Town Topics" and "Fads and Fancies," where hidden transgressions, not perhaps criminal in themselves, but which would subject people to ridicule, are held over their heads for years by a pack of bounders who hold the same position in the honest newspaper press, that the Marconi or the regular army, who, when the fight is over and there is no

NATHIAN C. SCHAEFFER, President of the National Educational Association.

Further danger, prowl over the battlefield at night to rob the dying and the dead. Respectable journalism detests, and abhors such dastardly practices, and it is frequently held responsible, but when they are discovered it will hunt them down as wild beasts or poisonous creatures, and hunt them down, whom it is a virtue to kill and exterminate. The press which is true to its mission, is the champion of human rights, it is the shield of the weak against the opposition and dishonor of the strong, and the power which it holds today, as the arbiter of the world's destiny, has been won by men who gave their lives to the advancement of human freedom, who labored on through long years of suffering, want and disappointment, without free or reward, and who died like the Hebrew of old in the sight of the Promised land.

The scheme projected for robbing people by preying on their fears of exposure was well digested and exceedingly profitable. One of the advanced guards of these literary pirates took as his share of the loot nearly seven thousand dollars in a few days. One Crowell, the editor and proprietor of a paper named The New Yorker, got five hundred dollars just last week for threatening a lawyer named Wallace with the exposure of some little peccadillo if he did not hand over the cash. Mr. Wallace had just been married to a very lovely wife and he wanted thousands more than dollars; so he reluctantly parted with his lure, but when Pirate struck two tapped Mr. Wallace's strong box for another $500, his wrath arose, and he went for Crowell, who, seeing state's prison staring him in the face, came down like Crockett's coon and handed back Lawyer Wallace five hundred dollars with an humble apology for the mistake. TO BUILD A PALACE

MAHARAJAH'S HOME IS TO COST $1,000,000.

Building Will Be Constructed of Blue and White Marble and Will Have All Modern Improvements.

London, Aug. 4.—There is now rising in the north-west Punjab a royal palace which for beauty and splendour will eclipse any similar building in India, the country already so rich in monumental treasures.

It is the new winter palace of his highness the Maharajah of Kapurthala, and its total cost, it is anticipated, will not be far short of $1,000,000.

"It will be a dream in blue and white marble," was the terse but picturesque description given of the building, sweetly by a gentleman intimately connected with its construction, "and the designers," he added, "might well have based their plans upon the gorgeous palaces which appear only in the pages of the Arabian Nights."

Despite the famous speech of Lord Curzon in which he deplored the fact that Tottenham court road art was ousting native art in the palaces of Indian rulers, the new building will almost throughout be decorated in European style.

All around this vast palace of delight will run a spacious verandah, with marble floors, supported by blue and white marble columns, and the entrance hall will be paved with blue and white marble, the colors of the Maharajah. There will be fourteen stairways, many of them overlooking a beautiful court-yard and gardens, where fountains will play among the foliage.

The durbar hall alone of all the chambers will be decorated in Indian style. Adjoining it will be the state saloon, in the style of Louis XIV, and the English dining room of Charles II period. The many other rooms in the palace will exemplify the representative period of English and French art. The erection and decoration is being carried out by Messrs. Waring and Gillow, limited, and will occupy about two years more.

So far as sanitary arrangements, ventilation, and lighting are concerned, it will be equal to any building in the world. All fittings, furniture, carpets, wall-papers, curtains, picture, tiles, marble, etc., everything of the finest procurable, will be taken from this country and the kitchen, the fitting of which will cost $25,000, will, it is stated, be second to none in the world.

THE CONTENTED MAN.

W. J. Herbert.

"Contented" that makes him contented? The comfort that struggles have gained, Which has discontented invented. The safety, that facturers obtained.

Content in the mire would still wallow, Or feed in a tree's ready hollow. The shelter, that facturers obtained.

Content hinders progress and action (Counts study a sort of distraction, And piles the sorbs of both).

Content maketh, freemen dependent. And fastens the shackles on slaves. In motion is ever descending. To ditch and paupers' said graves.

But the reverent, hearty submission To Deity's footstool men bring. After toiling with little fruition, Is a different, manlier thing.

THE FARMER'S LIFE.

The farmer's life is the life for me, get up in the morning at half past three, and out and at work before I can see, that is the life of a glee. With milking and chores at morn and night, and other things full of such keen delight. Of course, I enjoy it with all of my might, the life of the farmer's right. Sing ho for the farmer's life!

At morn when I go to the fields I hear the song of the thrush both loud and clear, And it fills my heart brim full of cheer, the song of the thrush and dear: At night when I'm tired, and like a log, I hark to the song of the blatt-fant frog. As he hammers away to the seedy bog, and the drowsy grunt of the hog. Sing ho for the farmer's life!

The calves are to feed, and the pigs to slop, the garden to hoe and the wood to chop, From morn till night it is keep on, It is late to bed and early to rise, and to see the fields with absent eyes, And what do they get for their enterprise but a paltry little prize? Sing ho for the farmer's life!

The farmer's life is the life of toil, and is spent in tilling the fertile soil, And there's nothing in it but bustle and hroll, But a farmer he has an appetite, and he eats a good square meal all right. And sleeps when he goes to bed at night, and I guess the farmer's life is at right. Sing ho for the farmer's life!

Prompt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea, constipation, pain in the side, guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One a dose. Small price. Small dose. Small pill. Seven shillings a day has been adopted by the New South Wales government as a minimum wage to railway labourers.

If a man has a big family he won't have to worry so much about the disagree of dying rich.
