The Prentice Boys picnic at the exproved a great success. The speeches and sports were billed to commence at one o'clock sharp, but owing to the tardiness of the crowd in arriving, it was nearer three when they got underway. But, when the people did begin to come, nothing stopped them and the grounds soon held a record attendance. The Battersea band rived about half-past two o'clock and played during the afternoon, The first part of the programme arranged for was speeches, which were delivered in the palace. Lieut.-Col. Sam Hughes F. M. Clarke, and Lieut, Col. J. Halliwell were unable to attend, and John Richards, grandmaster, P.A.P.B. took ill at Colborne on the way here. However, the speakers who were in atupheld the honor of the day and were attentively listened to, Edward Bennett, P.G.M., of the orange noney—many wise buyers body, occupied the chair, and after Rev. Follick had given the opening prayer, delivered a few remarks. He said they were all met to celebrate a glorious event in history, under the uspices of a society which bears glorious name, a society which stands or everything good, brave, God fear-Its history is a glorious one.
