MILITARY MATTERS

NEWS OF INTEREST TO THE KINGSTON GARRISON.

Need of Provisional Schools at Different Centres - Petewawa Camp Not the Paradise Some Expected to Find It - Abolish Aids to Shooting. It is hoped that during the coming winter season provisional schools will be established at different centres where subalterns and non-commissioned officers of both city and rural corps may qualify. Such a scheme could be carried out at very little expense, and the benefits accruing would be vast. In this generation of keen competition in commercial and other life, many officers and non-coms. find it impossible to spare the time necessary to journey to a central school and there spend a month or two qualifying. The schools have sufficient instructors available for distribution at smaller military centres, and if a general plan was prepared and dates selected for the holding of courses, full classes would be obtained. In this way the force would be greatly benefited, and improvement in corps would show in ensuing drill seasons. Apart from the fact that subalterns and non-coms. could thus secure qualification, lies the opportunity which senior officers would have of "brushing up" their military knowledge. No officer can "know it all," new ideas and methods are constantly creeping in, and by the means of these provisional schools this fresh information would be disseminated throughout the force.

No doubt the big rifle associations throughout the British empire will take cognizance of the words of condemnation in behalf of "Aids to Shooting," made use of by champion marksmen at the recent Bielemeet. Several noted shots have condemned all aids to shooting, and counsel their abolition, suggesting the substitution of actual warfare conditions, as far as practicable, on all ranges. This is sensible advice, and no doubt the big associations will heed it. It is farcical folly to allow rifle shots to train with appliances which they could not use on the field of battle. Let them practice under service conditions, and their home training will then be of some use to them should they be called upon to take "pot shots" at an enemy. The D.P.H. A. should be the first to set an example for the empire, by forbidding the use of all aids on the Rockcliffe range.

The sergeants of the 14th Regiment have been granted permission to use the rifle range on the Royal Military College ground, until such time as college opens. They made use of the range last Saturday for the first time, and had another practice to-day. Notwithstanding the lack of target exercise, some good scores were made. The enthusiasm of the sergeants in going so far as to secure use of this range, serves to further emphasize the need of the establishment here of such an adjunct to military training. No argument can be advanced against the building of a range, and why work on such a needy military utility is withheld is beyond ordinary comprehension.

Reports drifting in from the Petewawa artillery camp are to the effect that the men are not pleased with the location. The chief cause of complaint is the fact that sand is too plentiful; one writer likens the place to the sandy wastes of South Africa. At the same time, the location may be and no doubt is ideal for the purpose for which it has been selected. It is a soldier's privilege to "grouse," and it is impossible to satisfy some.

Considerable practical work is being accomplished by the Royal Engineers, in camp at Levis, Que. It is the first camp of the kind to be held in Canada, and the benefits which the several units of the Canadian engineering force will derive from the instruction there received will be of incalculable benefit.

The fine fishing and hunting which the artilleryists expected to enjoy while at Petewawa camp, have failed to materialize, and disappointment is keenly felt. Many of the soldiers took out shot guns and large supplies of fishing tackle, but so far they have not had use for them.

Professors of the Royal Military College, who have been out of town during the heated term, are beginning to drift back to the city, preparatory to resuming duties at the opening of that institution next month.

It is reported from Petewawa that water for drinking purposes is not as good as could be desired. But doubtless this defect will be rectified before another drill season comes around.

A HUGE FISH.

Maslinonge Hooked That Weighs Forty-One Pounds.

Napanee, Aug. 24 - R. E. O'Flynn, barrister, Belleville, caught a fine maslinonge in the lake, near Thompson's Point, Friday. The fish tipped the scale at forty-one pounds. This is the largest take this summer. Last season a fifty-pound maslinonge was captured near the same place. Mrs. (Dr.) Ming and daughter, Florence, and little son, Lorne, spent a few days this week guests of Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Boyce and Mrs. Hill, Conway.

Miss Gertie Hawley will leave Monday for Melita, Man. She will spend Monday in Toronto, with her brother, Clark, before leaving for the west. Mrs. F. H. Hall will leave Monday for Wetaskiwin, Alberta. Miss Myrtle Knight returned last evening after a week's visit with friends in Gagnagoque.

Invitations have been issued announcing the marriage of Miss Lena Maud Hawley, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Gibson Hawley, Hay Bay, to James E. Robertson. The ceremony will be performed in the Methodist church, Hay Bay, September 13th. A reception will be held afterwards at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. McHenry, Chicago, is the guest of her sister-in-law, Miss Nellie McHenry.

The post-office officials thought they had another mail bag robbery yesterday. A bag that should have been in the midnight mail was missing, and at once the conclusion was accepted that it had been filched. But it came along on the noon train and relieved the anxiety.

World's Sunday Schools. Clifton, Mass., Aug. 26 - At to-day's session of the International committee of the Sunday School Union, it was reported that there are 164,160 schools, with 1,200,720 teachers, and 14,167,365 members in the world, and that there are 294 members in the home department, and 121,000 names on the exalted rolls. During the last year 219,703 members of Sunday schools joined the church.

To Observe Sun's Eclipses. Madrid, Aug. 26 - Professor Beran, the celebrated German astronomer, of the Madrid observatory, will take observations of the forthcoming solar eclipse from a balloon which will ascend ten thousand feet from the town of Burgos, Burgos is in the mountains, and the combined elevations will give the astronomer a near view of the eclipse.
