WHAT IS THIS?

A Secret Treaty Between Japan and China.

ALL OVER EUROPE

THE PEACE NEWS WAS RECEIVED WITH PLEASURE.

Russia to Pay for Caring for Her Soldiers and Sailors—Japanese Representatives Disappointed, But Hold Their Tongues.

Special to the Whig.
Portland, N.H., Aug. 30.—Peace between Japan and Russia is now a certainty. Every matter of principle has been determined, and all that remains is the arrangement of details. By the terms of the agreement, reached yesterday, Russia will not pay a cent of indemnity to her victorious enemy. She will lose half of the island of Saghalien, now held by the Japanese forces, but will receive back the other without compensating Japan. The actual cost which Japan was put in caring for the 65,000 Russian soldiers and sailors, captured in action, will be borne by Russia in accordance with the terms of the Hague convention. This, however, will not be tribute money, and its payment casts no stigma on Russia's pride or honor. In other words, Russia will pay nothing, except proper expenses, and will give to Japan part of the czar's territory acquired, by conquest, by the Japanese in the war now brought to an end. Japan also withdrew her demands for the return of the Kurils, and the limitation of Russia's naval power in the far east.
An armistice is to be arranged immediately. There will be no more fighting. The Russians are jubilant. They claim they have achieved a great diplomatic victory, that the Japanese have been outgeneraled in their attempt to inflict punitive damages upon the czar's government. The Japanese represent consider their hopes disappointed, but they are holding their tongues. They cannot criticize those at Tokio, who were responsible for the reconciliations which made peace possible. They anticipate, however, that their people at home will be furious over the agreement of the government to peace on Russia's terms.

Pleasure in Europe.

London, Aug. 30.—Except in official circles at St. Petersburg and Berlin, the news that peace has been made was received throughout Europe with unbounded satisfaction and rejoicing. Hope of the result had been practically abandoned here, and now it was no chance of Russia yielding to Japan's principal demands. The idea that Japan would again abandon the fruits of victory after repeatedly declaring that she would not be hardy considered among the possibilities of the situation, until two days ago. Then it was whispered in certain diplomatic circles, that a secret agreement had been made between Japan and China, by the terms of which the latter agreed to pay the expenses of the war for the restoration of Manchuria in case Japan failed to compel Russia to pay an indemnity. There is no adequate authority for the rumor, but it is received with a certain amount of credence, especially since the news has come of Japan's amazing sacrifice of her principal claim.

St. Petersburg Dismayed.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—The news of the peace agreement did not reach here until nine o'clock last evening. It was speedily circulated by word of mouth, and was received with general incredulity. It is no exaggeration to say that it produced dismay in official circles, and amazement to the general public. Not for a moment had it been expected here that Japan would abandon all her essential demands. The plans of the government are completely upset by the sudden change in the situation. The reactionaries talk chiefly of future re-venge against Japan, but they are more immediately concerned by the vital effect of the agreement on the situation and the resulting confusion in all the government plans. There is even rash talk of sending Gen. Linévitch's army immediately against Constantinople, in order to prevent the return of the troops to their homes to foment revolution, and for the purpose of also retrieving the military prestige of the empire. There cannot be the smallest doubt that the country, at large, will welcome peace with the utmost enthusiasm, now that an indemnity has been abandoned, and the territorial sacrifices will be a mere trifle.

Will Cause Disappointment.

London, Aug. 30.—The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Mail says that the terms agreed to at the peace conference unquestionably will cause the bitterest disappointment. The treaty is completely upset, but in all probability, the cabinet, which sanctioned it will fall. The loss of half of Saghalien probably will cause greater dissatisfaction than even the abandonment of an indemnity.

KING PETER FORGETS

The Man Who Stood to Him in Days of Trouble.

Berlin, Aug. 30.—Belgrade is talking loudly of peace, and scanning the Greek King Peter plays a prominent part. Some time ago a Russian, Col. Protapapan, who fought for the independence of Serbia, returned to Belgrade and was awarded 500 francs by the government as a reward for services to the country.
A few days after his arrival he asked for an audience with King Peter, against whom, he said, he had a claim of 12,000 francs, which he had advanced him years ago, while he was still plain Prince Karageorgewitch. King Peter refused to receive him, and when the colonel insisted, he was expelled from the city and went to Budapest, where he wrote, and where he has written in a daily paper an article which has made King Peter furious.
In 1875, the articles states, Prince Peter Karageorgewitch, when one of his numerous mistresses, Mlle. Lamay, were living at Nice in a cottage belonging to a hotel proprietor, Turand, Prince Peter, who then, as now, was a very poor man, at the time owed the lawyer at Nice 20,000 francs. Not being able to pay, the couple disappeared in the dark of the night, but had to leave all their baggage behind. The lawyer immediately seized the trunk and publicly stated that unless he received his money the prince's trunk would be sold at public auction.
Greatly alarmed because one of the trunks contained papers of great interest importance, Prince Peter begged Col. Protapapan to redeem the baggage, which he did, the prince asking him to hold the trunk as security until he could pay its 25,000 francs. A few weeks after the colonel was approached by two agents of King Milan, who offered him 200,000 francs if he would allow them to photograph the papers contained in the trunk. This offer was refused by the prince, and he passed, and he heard nothing from Prince Peter, until one day he received a dispatch asking him to come to Vienna.
When he had arrived at that city he was received by an agent of the prince, who said that he was at the point of death at Cetinje, and he then foolishly gave up the trunk against the payment of 3,000 francs, and the prince's note for the remainder.
When he came to Belgrade to get his money, King Peter sent him 500 francs, but when he tried to get the larger amount he was unceremoniously conducted across the frontier, and permission to see the Russian ambassador refused.
The colonel now threatens to King Peter, who which will force him to abdicate.

DEATH ENDS ROMANCE.

Her Girlhood Fiance Killed as She Goes to Meet Him.
Omaha, Neb., Aug. 30.—En route to wed the sweetheart of her girlhood, whom she had not seen for fifty years, Mrs. Lola Mdr, Lynchburg, Va., was stopped in the railroad station by a telegram announcing his death in Elmo, Wash., and containing information that he had left her his fortune, amounting to thousands of dollars. Mrs. Mdr is sixty-five years old. She is prostrated in the home of friends.
Before the war, back in Lynchburg, Lola Saunders and Charles Clay were sweethearts. A misunderstanding arose, and Clay left for the west and was not heard of again. Miss Saunders waited his return for five years and was then married; her husband left for the war the day of the wedding and never returned. The widow was remarried and in a few years again was a widow. The first of this year she received a letter from her old sweetheart, Charles Clay, who had amassed a fortune in the west and raised a family and had been left a widower. He wanted to correspond with his first love. Each had kept photographs they had exchanged in youth.
The wedding was arranged for September 1st. Mrs. Mdr was to make the journey from Lynchburg to Elmo, where the ceremony was to take place. In the meantime Clay was killed accidentally in Elmo.

LABOR MEN TO CONFER.

Do Not Want Protectionists to Capture Colonies.
London, Aug. 30.—The labor party promise to send a deputation of labor M.P.'s to Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and possibly to South Africa to discuss with representatives of labor in those colonies general subjects which are expected to be considered at the next colonial conference. The suggestion emanated from the labor representative committee. The deputation is to have a full mandate to consider any proposals which may be put forward for bringing the labor forces of the empire into closer touch with each other. The promoters of the project think it probable that out of the conference will be evolved an imperial labor policy. Besides ordinary labor matters to be discussed at the imperial labor conference, an endeavor will be made to prevent the labor party of the colonies being captured by the protectionists, as it is certain Mr. Chamberlain's proposals will be largely discussed at the next conference.

Girl Defends Father.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 30.—While protecting her father, twenty-year-old Annie Riley fatally wounded Robert Kile, of Centuria, and is in county jail at Centuria with her three-month-old child. Kile and the older Riley had a struggle on the porch of Riley's house and the old man was getting the worst of it when she girl ran out and fired four shots at Kile, hitting him twice. Two officers went to the house to arrest the girl, but she locked them in a room and escaped with her child. Afterwards she surrendered.

DEAD KITTEN; LIVE CHILD.

Little Girl Falls from Window on Playful Cat.
New York, Aug. 30.—Annie Lombardi, two years old, leaned out of a window of her home, on the second floor of 102 East Houston street, to watch the antics of a kitten in the yard below. She lost her balance and fell on the kitten.
The kitten was flattened out and killed. The girl's scalp was cut. Dr. Gillman said that the kitten had probably saved her life. The girl went over the kitten's body when she was lifted into the ambulance.

Royal Arcanum Rate Question.

Put-in-Bay, O., Aug. 30.—The members of the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum are assembled here to hold a conference for the consideration of the development growing out of the establishment of the new rate. The plan adopted by the supreme council earlier in the year and which is to go into effect October 1st, has caused some of a cord and has evoked the most energetic protests among the lodges and state bodies in all parts of the country. An effort will be made to induce the supreme council to make a reduction in the rates, which would decrease the burden which the older members will have to bear. The session will open this afternoon at the Hotel Victor, and over 100 supreme representatives will be in attendance.

HEROES BEG ON STREETS.

Indignation in St. Petersburg Because of Such Conditions.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—Indignation is increasing here over indifference of the government towards the wounded and crippled soldiers. On nearly every street one sees soldiers with an arm or leg or both limbs missing, stretching forth their hands in a pitiable appeal for alms. Some wear on their breast the Cross of St. George, only given in case of personal bravery. All have a right to be fed by the state and receive a small pension, and if one asks why they beg the answer invariably is the old story of wholesale peculations by some officials.
GIFT OF PEACE ENVOYS.
Two Hospital Beds to be Endowed With Money.
Portland, N.H., Aug. 30.—Baron Kousura, and M. Takahira, who last week attended a garden party at York, Me., having subsequently ascertained that the party was organized partly for the benefit of the York hospital, gave $1,000 of the fund. An Unfaithful Wife.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 30.—Harry Adler, a Toronto cigar-maker, leading a six-year-old boy by the hand, went to police headquarters, last night, and asked for the arrest of his wife, to force her to return with him to Toronto to take care of the child; he says a three-year-old girl is left in Toronto. Adler claims that his wife eloped with a Detroit man a year ago last May. He had traced the woman to this city. He says he will get a warrant out today. Mrs. Adler was seen. She says she loves her children but detests Adler and will not live with him. She intimated that the river would be the solution of her trouble.
No More Military Servants.
St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—Following the Russian retreat at Liao Yang, Mukden, the battle of the Sea of Japan, etc., earnest and persistent demands were made upon the war office for army reforms, one result of which is that it is now proposed to do away with officers' personal military servants about to tour the world, the question was discussed of travelling via Canada and avoiding the United States on account of the Chinese exclusion laws, but the idea was abandoned as a telegram announcing an allowance with which to provide them with servants, but doing away with military servants.
