

Kidney Troubles

Vegetable Compound is Especially Effective in Curing This Fatal Disease

Mrs. Samuel Frake, of Prospect Hill, N. J., writes: 'I cannot thank you enough for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I first wrote to you I had suffered for years with what the doctor called kidney trouble and constipation of the bowels. My back ached all the time, and I suffered so with that bearing-down feeling I could hardly walk across the room. I did not get any better, so decided to stop doctoring with my physician and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am thankful to say it has entirely cured me. I do all my own work, have no more backache and all the bad symptoms have disappeared. I cannot praise your medicine enough, and would advise all women suffering with kidney trouble to try it.'

Mrs. J. W. Lang, of 636 Third Avenue, New York, writes: 'Dear Mrs. Pinkham— I have been a great sufferer with kidney trouble. My back ached all the time and I was discouraged. I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure kidney disease, and I began to take it, and it has cured me when everything else had failed. I have recommended it to lots of people and they all praise it very highly.'

THE DRESS GOODS SECTION ALL OVER A WATCH

JOSEPH ABRAMSKY ACCUSED OF STEALING WATCH.

Only One Case at Police Court This Morning—It Was a Long and Merry One—Principals Were Talking Machines When They Got Wound Up. There was plenty of diversion at the police court this morning. It was certainly amusing and no mistake. Sergt. Snodden was kept very busy crying for 'order in the court.' The magistrate had to threaten several times to clear the room, and it was all the counsel could do to get a word in edgewise. The gallery will surely be 'sore' when they learn what they missed for only a couple of listeners were on hand. Joseph Abramsky was charged with stealing a gold watch from Sarah Johnston on the 23rd of May last. B. Walkem appeared for the complainant and W. F. Nickle for the defence. Both the learned gentlemen were somewhat disinclined to go on with the case, and the defence insisted that they could prove a mistake in the date as Abramsky was in Toronto on the 23rd. Mr. Nickle was willing to go on with a hearing, provided he could apply for an adjournment later if he saw fit. On the other hand Mr. Walkem objected to a witness being called and showing his opponent his cards. Finally the issue of the date of the defence was waived and the merriest proceeding.

Sarah Johnston took the oath. She brought a watch from Abramsky a year ago last January. Was to give her watch and $15 for it. Paid three dollars of this amount. Defendant represented this watch as a gold one. Was to pay whenever able, either in money or produce. Bought a dress also from Abramsky at the same time. Did not pay for it then, but later. Saw him on the 24th of May, the day after the watch was missed. Witness went to work on Monday, and returned Wednesday. The watch was gone. It had been kept on the sidewalk. On the Wednesday Abramsky came. He then said the watch needed cleaning and he would fetch it back in a week. Witness told him to never mind, but he kept it and did not return it in the week. Was up to his place on Saturday, when defendant said she could have the watch if the $12 was paid. Never authorized any person to give the watch to Abramsky. Cross-questioned by W. F. Nickle, witness was not certain as to the date on which the watch was bought. An interesting discourse was made on a note, jewel, etc. Witness received to make up the $3 payment on the watch followed. Witness was absent in the 23rd, or the day the alleged theft was committed. On the 24th, the door of the house was open. Witness said: 'What about the watch, I'm going to get it cleaned?' Did not show the watch at the time. Defendant did not ask for any money on being told not to clean it. The watch did not keep accurate time since that time. Witness denied giving the watch to be repaired. Her old watch cost $10 and Abramsky allowed her $5 for it. Abramsky's wagon was in the yard on the 24th. Witness' memory was of the date as to state of the weather at the time in question. The mother, Mary Jane Johnston, next took the stand. She knew Abramsky. It was near the first of January when the watch was purchased. She had nothing to do with it. It was sold to her daughter. The deal was made between the two while sitting at the kitchen table. Witness was attending to the house work and bought nothing on the day in question. Abramsky said they could put him in jail if people did not say it was solid gold. Her daughter was to pay $15, and her old watch for the new one. The $3 payment was made in butter, peas and peas, etc., which the daughter earned by working about the house. The watch was taken on the 23rd. Her daughter was away all day Tuesday, and returned Wednesday. Witness was not at home the day Abramsky returned and had no conversation since with him. Did not give him the watch. Was at home on Tuesday, but not in the house. Never authorized any one to take the watch. Stood at the door of Abramsky's when he came since and asked when the watch would be returned as it was a long time getting fixed. He answered as soon as the $12 was paid on it. Witness was then questioned by the counsel for the defence. The daughter told her Abramsky had taken the watch away to be cleaned. Witness then got huffed and refused to answer the lawyer's questions, and he good naturedly decided to drop the cross-examination. William Bennett was next sworn. He is a neighbor of the Johnstons. Sarah Johnston was at his place on the 23rd of May, and returned home on the morning of the 24th. Abramsky told witness the girl had given him the watch but did not say when. In answer to Mr. Nickle witness thought Abramsky was in that part of the country about the 23rd of the week later the mother told him about the watch being taken. Counsel then questioned Bennett regarding the disposition of Sarah Johnston and her mother. Q.—'Mrs. Johnston is rather set in her ways is she not? When she says so she means it.' Mr. Walkem—'She is not his wife.' For the defense J. Abramsky took the stand. The question of dates was dealing with the mother. On the day in question he went to see the mother. The girl gave him the watch to be fixed. The whole trouble was over the twelve dollars. The mother wanted him to hold the daughter responsible, but he refused. They could have the watch and chain at once if the mother says she will pay within six months. He has been in business fifteen years and only did things square. 'Don't steal nothing,' said Abramsky in conclusion, 'and never was in the Johnston house when no one was at home. There was either a pool or a game. That's the truth and the gospel truth.'

All business was done with the mother not the daughter.

SHE USED HER RIFLE

DROVE OFF A POSSE HEAD-ED BY HER FATHER.

Had Eloped With Her Lover—Girl Became Separated from Him and Sought Refuge in Mountain Gorge—Sweetheart Surrendered. Rifle, Col., Sept. 11.—Miss Sewering, a girl whose thud, brought to bay by members of two posses, took refuge in a mountain gorge and fired more than twenty shots at her pursuers, compelling them to retreat. Under cover of darkness she escaped, and is now presumed to be in the mountains near the state line of Utah and Colorado. In company with her sweetheart, Emil Stahl, the girl, who is seventeen, and a daughter of a wealthy ranchman, eloped. The two took two horses with them. In less than two hours the girl's father organized a posse. During the fight, with the posse in sight, the girl became separated from Stahl. She had three horses with her. Her father, desiring to kill Stahl, kept on after him, and it is supposed he is surrounded. The girl is naturally supplied with arms, ammunition, and though in an unsettled country, no fears are entertained for her safety.

Y.M.C.A. ATHLETICS.

Paper Chase of Saturday the Best Yet.

The boys' paper chase on Saturday morning, was the best held in many years. The 'hares,' Willie Goodearle and Calvin Day, started off shortly after ten o'clock and six minutes later the first lot of 'hounds' were let loose, followed two minutes later by the second contingent, and the last pack two minutes after them. The trail, which was a good one, all the way, started at the corner of Johnston street and Penitentiary road, and led up and through the bush to King street, thence west, across the Catorqui Creek bridge. Half a mile further on the trail turned off to the road, across ploughed fields, ditches, fences and swamps, to the Bath road, then east again to the Forty-foot road; through orchards, swamps and fields again to York road, thence in to the building. The hounds were within one hundred yards of the hare on the Bath road, but they hid in a swamp, and as the trail led away, they escaped capture, and arrived home twenty minutes ahead. The distance covered was in all about twelve miles. To-night the first swimming class will be held at eight o'clock. Already a number of names have been handed in and more are expected.

Every Tuesday and Friday evening this month the Harrier will have a run out, leaving the building at 8.15 o'clock. The pace set is an easy one, and on the moonlight nights these runs are very enjoyable indeed.

The men who are going to Ottawa to compete in the Y.M.C.A. sports, on Friday, have finished their training, and are in good condition. It is hoped that a number of supporters will take advantage of the specially cheap rate good for that time. These sports will be a feature of the Ottawa fair.

Why Help Canada?

London, Sept. 11.—Lord Ripon, speaking to the Ripon liberal association, said he did not see why this country should adopt a policy for the purpose of developing the undeveloped resources of Canada in the matter of wool growing, which would create a rival this country could never pass, and which, ere many years had passed, must bring an increase of no diminution in the price of home-grown wool.
