The Difference Between Expert and Unskilful Tea Blending

THE qualities of different teas prove that there is a distinct difference between expert Red Rose blending methods and the usual methods.

Several kinds of teas may be blended, but if unskilfully selected they will not combine to make a perfect blend; they will retain their original individual characteristics with their roughness and harshness emphasized.

Such tea is bitter, poorly flavored in the cup (and there is much of it in bulk and package form on the market). It emphasizes the result of inexperience, lack of knowledge of combining qualities of different teas, imperfect blending, poor selection, and the hundred and one other causes of poor tea.

But my expert Red Rose blenders select the right grades of strong, rich Indian teas and delicate fragrant Ceylon teas, and produce Red Rose Tea with entirely new characteristics—a tea with that "rich fruity flavor"—a tea so exquisitely different and better than any brand of Ceylon alone, that no one who once tries it ever goes back to Ceylon again.

Red Rose Tea is good Tea

PEOPLE WHO ARE VICTIMS OF HALLUCINATIONS.

Many Lunatics in the World Outside Asylums—Man Who Heard Tunes Played.

A patient in Colney Hatch once slyly remarked that it was astonishing to find how many lunatics there were in the world outside the asylums. It will probably be equally astonishing to most people to discover how many people there are outside the asylums who are subject to pronounced hallucinations.

We know from Forster's life of Dickens that that great novelist habitually saw all the creatures of his imagination as if they were real beings, and that he even heard them speak, says the Humanitarian Magazine. Sometimes the illusion was so strong that after a story was finished the imaginary persons remained visibly with him for several days and refused to be dismissed. Mr. Jaine in his work "De Intelligence" mentions a very curious case of this kind. "One of the most exact and lucid of modern novelists," he says, "when imaginatively working out the poisoning of one of his characters had so vivid a gustatory sensation of a corpse that he was attacked by a violent fit of indigestion."

The leading case of non-insane hallucination is the account related to the Royal Society of Berlin by the celebrated bookbinder, Nicolas concerning some experience of his own. At a time when his nervous system was slightly overstrained in consequence of some anxiety and emotional disturbance, he one day seemed to perceive the figure of a corpse about ten yards distant from him.

Next day the corpse disappeared, but was replaced by a number of living figures, some being likenesses of friends whom he recognized, but most of them being strangers. These figures appeared to him as clear and distinct as life, in company or in solitude, by day as well as at night, at home as well as abroad. He was perfectly well and at the time that they were mere phantoms, and he adopted what he thought proper measures for getting rid of them. After remaining with him for about four weeks in silent figures began to talk, and he distinctly heard them speak, sometimes to one another and sometimes to himself. But one day, after the application of leeches to his head, all the figures completely disappeared and he never afterward had any repetition of the uncanny experience.

A patient of Dr. Maudsley was so annoyed by voices which he heard continually addressing unpleasant remarks to him that he was obliged to use a box in order to circumvent them. He used to wind this up and place it under his pillow every night when he went to bed, but unfortunately, as soon as the instrument ran down the voices were heard again. He would even sometimes wake him up after he had fallen asleep. Another very distressing hallucination was described by Dr. Elam in a perfectly calm and sensible manner by a lady who consulted him. She recently saw objectionable persons standing not far off making faces at her and sometimes throwing stones. She knew quite well that it was not real, but the sensations were so strong that she was occasionally obliged to go to her mirror before she could assure herself that her head was not wounded. This proved to be a merely transitory condition, due to a depressed state of the system, and it passed completely away without attaining any more serious aspect.

Many persons who have auditory hallucinations never have visual ones, and vice versa, but they sometimes occur in combination. Dr. Abercrombie records a very queer case. A clergyman fifty-six years of age, who had been accustomed to rather high living, was one day seized with vertigo and vomiting, and for several days afterward complained of "perpetual ringing" in his head, most distinctly played, and in accurate succession. At the same time he experienced a rare and remarkable affection of vision, seeing all objects inverted, as a photographer does in a camera. His vivacious clergyman, however, may be relieved to learn that after a short time the unwelcome music ceased and external objects resumed their normal position.

An incipient form of hallucination shows itself in the practice common enough among children, and familiarly known as "seeing faces in the fire." Dr. Abercrombie, with perhaps an excess of caution, thinks the indulgence of this practice, as well as of the habit of day dreaming, or building castles in the air, to be distinctly dangerous. He says it sometimes leads to an unshakable belief in the real existence of the visions and quotes as a case in point, an instance known to him of a man who very much wished to be appointed to a certain office;

CAPE VINCENT FAIR

PROVED AN UNQUALIFIED SUCCESS.

Many Visitors in Pretty Little Yankee Town—Good Fishing About There—Polling Places Named—Crops in the Vicinity Poor.

Cape Vincent, Sept. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bove and daughter have returned from a visit to the Toronto fair. Many of the crops in this vicinity are very poor. There will be less than half the ordinary potato crop. Work on the extension of the pulpwood conveyors of the Pentecost Lumber company across the eastern portion of Broadway is about completed. A large number from this place attended the fair held at Watertown last week. E. Hartness has gone to Watertown, where he will learn the plumbing trade. Joseph Wiley, Albany, is visiting relatives and friends in the village. Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Gardner returned from a visit to Richville, Monday. L. F. Pixou, who has been spending several days at this place, left for Cleveland, Ohio, Monday. Mr. and Mrs. A. Crabb have returned to New York, after a short visit here. Mrs. G. M. Phillips and little son have returned to their home at Rose Hill, after visiting relatives here. The new pipe organ to be placed in St. John's church, will be manufactured by the Estey Organ company, Brattleboro, Vt. E. Cross, electrician at the electric light plant, is taking a vacation. G. Strawbridge, employed in Bailey's barber shop for several years, has left for Picton, Ont., where he has similar employment.

The Lambda Sigma society of the Cape Vincent high school, and their friends, made a pleasant trip to the islands Saturday afternoon. At the game of ball played at the fair grounds, Sunday afternoon, the Lambda Sigma of this village, beat the "bunch" of Watertown, 9 to 6. G. Coyle, who has been in the Sisters' hospital at Watertown, recovering from an injury to his leg, caused by the bite of a dog, has returned home. The Cape Vincent Mutual Protective Association held a meeting at Roseboom's hall, Wednesday evening, last week, and elected G. Chapman, president; F. B. Moore, vice-president; G. S. Vincent, secretary-treasurer; J. B. Stewart, salesman. Members will be received up to October 1st. Miss L. Bodette has returned from a visit to her sister at Adams, Watertown, is assisting in the central telephone office, this village. A Wiley is attending the Casnovia seminary. Miss E. Gravelle, and Master J. Keif, Syracuse, are guests of T. Gibson.

The town board met last week and designated the following polling place for the coming election in November: Village, firemen's building; Miller's Bay, White's store, Rosiere, Brady's blacksmith shop.

A large number of our people attended Haggenbeck's will and auction at Watertown, Monday. Miss C. Hiltz, this village, is teaching in the Sandy Creek high school. F. Grant, this village, is again teacher of mathematics at the Governor high school. L. H. Dzwengromel is slowly recovering from a long and serious illness. The Gorman and Ford theatre company are playing this week at Odell's hall. T. Hollister, New York, is the guest of his cousin, Mrs. E. De Valin, this village.

The feeling still continues good at this place. Good catches of bass and pickerel are brought in. The fair, which opened Tuesday, bids fair to be a success if the weather continues favorable. Never before in the history of the society has there been such an exhibition of vegetables, fruits, horses, cattle, etc., and the attractions are first class. The first day was pleasant and the programme was carried out. The number of people on the grounds was up to the average in number for the first day. Yesterday (Wednesday), which was the second day, started in rainy and it was decided to continue the fair Saturday. However, the storm cleared up by the afternoon, and a good time was had. No races were held or ball games. To-day (Thursday), will be one of the best days, as the races are in good classes, and the ball games between the club from Brantford, Ont., and the Syracuse team, will draw a large crowd. The exhibition is good in every particular, and compares favorably with the county fairs generally held. Friday and Saturday will be good days with good trotting and baseball games.

LESS CRIME IN NEW YORK Than Last Year Says Commissioner McAdoo.

New York, Sept. 16.—The residents of the city find it rather difficult to give credence to the authoritative statement of Commissioner McAdoo, that there is less crime in this city now than there was last year. During the past week about half a dozen houses of wealthy families, spending the summer out of town, were visited by burglars and completely cleaned out. In nearly every case the burglars carried off everything of any value, including jewelry, silverware, valuable pictures and bric-a-brac, etc., and in some cases they even loaded the most valuable furniture on wagons and carted them away. Not only has the boldness of the burglars and thieves assumed appalling proportions, but there has been a fearful increase in the number of murders and other crimes since last year. But, Brutus McAdoo says, "The number of crimes has decreased this year," and Brutus McAdoo is an honorable man.

Public Opinion is Changing. In every quarter there is a manifest hostility to cough mixtures, which usually contain opium, cocaine and other harmful drugs. Doctors now recommend Catarrhose, they know that for coughs, bronchitis and throat trouble "Catarrhose" is safe and sure.

PSYCHINE

Taken promptly and faithfully according to directions will not only invariably prevent Consumption but will never fail to cure any of these lesser diseases which are always the forerunners of Consumption.

It affords me pleasure to speak of the merits of Psychine, which I found to be a marvelous tonic and tissue builder. I was taken down with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs. In fact, I believe I was never free from colds for months previous, and tried many of the common cure-alls and cheap nostrums you see advertised, but obtained no relief. I had then learned that such remedies are merely palliative and not curative preparations. Friends advised Psychine, and after taking several bottles I became sound and strong again. Scores of my friends have been saved much suffering with Psychine, and I voluntarily give permission for the publication of this statement.
