MARRIED AT WINNIPEG. An Event Kingstonsians Are Interested In. Winnipeg Telegram. At the residence of the bride's parents, 293 Kennedy street, Wednesday afternoon, Miss Annie Elizabeth Franklin, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Franklin, and Professor Manly Benson Baker, of Queen's College, Kingston, were joined in holy wedlock by the Rev. Mr. Woodworth of Grace church. A pretty frame for the wedding party was formed of palms, ferns and vines, surmounted by a large floral bell. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a lovely creation of white duchesse, trimmed in scroll design, with ruching of chiffon and old rose point. A bridal veil of lovely old lace floated from the top of her soft hair, where it was secured with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried bridal roses.

Her attendants, Miss Florence and Miss Grace Franklin, sisters of the bride, wore pretty gowns of pink silk satin, which were worn boleros of accordion pleated chiffon. Mrs. Franklin, mother of the bride, wore pressed chiffon over duchesse, with garniture of old rose point.

Miss Robertson, of Kingston, a smart costume of blue silk satin, with garniture of the sequin and point duchesse lace.

Miss Brock, Stratford, white broadway with chiffon trimming; white picture lace.

At the close of the ceremony, about fifty guests partook of refreshments, after which the happy couple left on the five o'clock train for the east. The bride's going-away gown was of green chiffon, broadcloth, with facing of white, lined with Persian trimming. Her hat, of the close-fitting toque order, was a combination of blue and green chenille and velvet.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker will reside in Kingston, much to the regret of the bride's Winnipeg friends, of whom she has made many since coming to reside here two years ago.

TRADE AND LABOR. Asks for Grant to Technical Education. Toronto, Sept. 23.—At this morning's session of the trades and labor congress, the greater part of the time was taken up with discussions on resolutions. The committee on resolutions continued their report, and a large number of motions were carried, dealing with the recognized principles of the federal government, and others to cut off the financial supplies of the senate, to take steps to prevent a legal eight-hour day for the dominion, and asking for taxation of vacant church lands in Quebec. The last resolution was advocated by Quebec delegates. The abolition of the statute labor tax was also advocated.

LITTLE GIRL MISSING. Suspicion of Foul Play Near Rosebuck. Prescott, Ont., Sept. 23.—The community of Rosebuck is aroused over the disappearance of an eight-year-old girl. On Wednesday, John Gill, a farmer living six miles north of Prescott, sent his little daughter on an errand across the fields to a neighbor's. She arrived there safely and left about 10:30 o'clock and has not been seen since. She had no shoes or stockings on, wore a navy blue dress and a man's felt hat. Foul play is suspected, as four rough characters were seen in the swamp near her home that night, and it is reported they tried to hold up a man near midnight. The county is being searched by an armed force.

The Young Men's Chancery To-Day. Let a young man be capable, have enterprise, be willing to work and carry himself like a man, and he is sure to succeed. Success never yet came to a laggard, and it never will. Too many have the insane notion that success comes by luck. As trade widens, opportunities increase and those who improve their spare moments will always be advancing. If you have purpose and perseverance attend the Frontenac Business College, corner Barrie and Clergy streets, and we will guide you to success. Day and evening classes begin Monday. Terms very reasonable. At quarters, 280, T. N. Stockdale, Principal.

Saturday, the finest selection of peaches. Low price. Crawford. Attend night classes at the Kingston Business College, head of Queen street. Terms very reasonable. At quarters, 280, T. N. Stockdale, Principal.

THE REOPENING OF QUEEN'S. Next Wednesday—This Will Be a Banner Season. Queen's University opens next Wednesday, and never before in its history has a college been in a better condition to accommodate its students, come beneath its overshadowing wings, in search of knowledge. The magnificent buildings are fitted up internally quite in keeping with their exterior, and throughout the summer vacation many minor details have been attended to. Nothing pertaining to the high standard of excellence set by Queen's has been overlooked, and the returning students will find every convenience for the furtherance of physical and mental growth. The teaching staff has been slightly added to, the changes made having been already noted in this paper. The attendance last year in arts and science came close to the thousand mark. This session no doubt it will surpass that. In the medical department the same may be said. Increased attendance is looked for and it is understood several students from abroad will also come to the school. To this can be added a percentage of the former Bishop's College school Lennoxville, who will study at Queen's this year. Thus everything considered, this ought to be a banner year at old Queen's, and mark an epoch in her forward march.

Profess Not Promises. Within a week two graduates of the Kingston Business College, head of Queen street, secured positions with the Canadian Pacific railway company; James Clark in Winnipeg, and Clarence Weagman in Montreal. Two telegrams were also received this week from prominent firms, asking for office help. It will pay young men and women to consult their best interests by attending the day or night classes in this practical business training institution. Its graduates are successful. Terms moderate. Visitors welcome. Investigate for yourself. H. F. Metcalfe, principal. Phone 440.

New novelties in burnt leather purses, cigar cases, bill folders, card cases, etc., have just arrived from manufacturers, and will be on sale at special introductory prices, until September 23rd. See our new line in burnt leather post cards and burnt wood post cards, these are new and neatly designed. McDermott Bros., 260 Princess street.

Kingston Has Good Cabs. Kingston is given credit for having a good cab service. Perhaps enough notice is not taken of the cabbies' turn-outs. Take a look over them, and observe the improvement over two years ago. In comparison to its size, Kingston has a more creditable lot of cabs than has the city of Toronto. Some of the Queen City turnouts are scarcely fit for a good sized village.
