very serious female trouble until finally I was unable to go to work. I then thought of a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when her health was in the same condition that mine was, and I straightway sent out for a bottle. I finished that and took two more before I really began to improve, but after that I really began to improve, and I was very much better and went back to work again. I certainly shall go back to work again. I certainly shall go back to work again. I certainly shall go back to work again.

Miss Clara Beaubien of Beauport, Quebec, writes:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham—
"For several years I have suffered with Leucorrhoea, which has been a serious drain on my vitality, sapping my strength and causing severe headaches, bearing-down pains and a general worn out feeling, until I really had no desire to live. I tried many medicines, but did not get permanent relief until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In two months I was very much better and more disengaged, no more pain. So I have every reason to praise the Vegetable Compound, and I consider it without equal for the ills of women."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles, and displacement with all its horrors will no more crush you. Bloating, dizziness, fainting, bearing-down pains, disordered stomach, moodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled, and it will make you strong and well.
You can tell the story of your sufferings to a woman, and receive helpful advice free of cost. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

JACKALS AND WOLVES AT-TACK TROOPS AND STEEDS.

British Soldiers With Camels and Horses Die of Hydrophobia, Sunstroke, Thirst and Cold on Survey Mission Along the Borders of Persia.

London, Sept. 29.—The story told by members of the British mission which spent two and a half years in marking the boundary line between Persia and Afghanistan in the Seistan region shows that they encountered terrible hardships. Fifty of the members died, and nearly 5,000 camels and 120 horses succumbed.

The mission consisted of eleven British officers under Col. Arthur Henry MacMahon, with survey and irrigation staffs and 200 native infantry, and a transport service, embracing altogether some 1,500 men.

The base was at Uelta, whence all supplies were taken to Seistan, 500 miles distant, over a waterless and uninhabited desert. During the summer several died of sunstroke or fever, while during the winter others were frozen.

Last winter numbers of jackals and wolves, which abound in Seistan, went mad for some unexplained reason, and in large packs attacked the men and animals belonging to the mission. Many of the men, camels and horses were bitten and died of hydrophobia.

On March 29th, of this year, the temperature fell to zero, accompanied by a blizzard, and during this storm 600 camels were killed.

DUNDONALD ON DEFENCE.

Citizen Army the Basis of Home Guard.

London, Sept. 29.—In the October number of the Fortnightly Review there is a twelve-page article, entitled "Notes on a Citizen Army," by Lord Dundonald.

"That such an organization as a citizen army for home defence is feasible, I have always believed, and my recent experience with the citizen militia of Canada has given me practical proof of the soundness of my belief."

Lord Dundonald entirely disapproves of compulsory military service for adults in time of peace. "The basis and starting point of any scheme for a large voluntary citizen army must be the military training of boys."

Lord Dundonald, after a lengthy review of his own work in Canada says: "In the past all efforts pursued by colonial governments to maintain forces in readiness for imperial purposes have been doomed to failure and there is nothing in the history of the last five years to lead us to expect a change of attitude. But all the advantages sought for might be obtained without any accompanying objections by applying the bonus system to colonial forces. A colonial war service might be instituted, for which I am certain whole regiments of colonial militia would volunteer."

My experience of the Canadian citizen soldiers convinces me that many regiments would thus volunteer en masse to take part in the campaigns of the mother country. Lord Dundonald mentions Major Morrison and other officers of the Ottawa militia corps, who volunteered to take part in the Thibet expedition.

Recent changes in the higher administration of the national forces of Canada and Australia have brought about something like a divorce between the imperial and colonial military organizations. It is not necessary to emphasize the disadvantages, or even the dangers, of such a tendency. The whole question of imperial unity is seriously affected by it.

LAI D MATTER OVER.

To See if the Law Had Been Complied With.

Winnipeg, Sept. 29.—The application of Thomas Bell for a wholesale liquor license, on Logan avenue, was strenuously opposed, last night, before the license commissioners, by a deputation of residents from the surrounding district. The decision was in favor of those, that the majority of notices published in the Manitoba Gazette were not advertised for the number of days required by statute, and for this reason, were illegally considered by the licensing commission. Newly received license granted since April, is affected by the claim, and it is declared that if this was disregarded the matter could be carried into the courts. The Bell license was laid over by the commission.

FIVE WERE SLAIN

MOTHER AND CHILDREN VICTIMS OF ASSAILANTS.

Whole Country on the Trail—Woman and Young Daughter Both Subjected to Assault—Baby Alone is Left Alive.

Edna, Tex., Sept. 29.—Mrs. A. J. Conlitt and four children, a daughter of thirteen years and three boys ranging in age from six to ten years, were murdered in cold blood at their home near here yesterday. The mother and daughter were assaulted and their bodies brutally disfigured. A baby about two years old is the only one left alive. All of the victims seemed to have been attacked with some blunt instrument, their heads being crushed. Their throats are cut with a knife or razor. The girl and mother were killed in the house. The boys were killed about 100 yards away.

Mr. Condit was working in the rice fields. A negro boy about twelve years old was ploughing in a field near the house and heard the children screaming.

He saw a man chase a woman, who was running around the house. Being afraid to go to the house, he ran to a neighbor and told what he had seen. This neighbor ran to the place and found the five members of the family killed. Officers were informed at once, and the entire county is out in search of the murderer. It is supposed, were two persons who committed the crime. Boys have been sent for to track the murderers.

REBEL TROOPS GIVEN AID

Are Transported Over Asphalt Company's Railroad.

New York, Sept. 29.—Testimony to the effect that the Buenos Aires asphalt company's railroad transported revolutionary troops in Venezuela during the Matos rebellion in 1901, that its Viking carried revolutionary supplies and that the company's acting superintendent on more than one occasion gave the revolutionists food and supplies was given yesterday by John Perry, acting superintendent for the company in 1901, in the suit brought by the Venezuelan government to recover $11,000,000 from the company because of its alleged participation in the revolution.

Perry declared, however, that the revolutionary troops were transported only because similar transportation had been accorded the government troops, that the supplies and arms were smuggled on board the Viking by individuals without the company's consent and that his contributing to the revolutionists was entirely a personal act.

Perry said he had been appointed acting superintendent to succeed Superintendent Jeff, who had been suspended for assisting the Matos element. He added that Jeff had told him that whatever assistance he had given the revolutionists had been personal and was to avoid trouble.

William J. Ewart said that when he left for Caracas to become general manager of the company, General Francis V. Greene, then the president of the General Asphalt company, told him it would be demanded of him that he keep clear of all political complications, and that he should, as the company's representative, recognize the existing Venezuelan government.

THE COURT'S DECISION.

In Several Points in Port Arthur Election.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—Justices Maclean and Tiesed, this morning, delivered judgment on several points served at the Port Arthur and Beiny River election trial, in which W. A. Preston, the defeated conservative candidate, was the petitioner, and H. W. Kennedy, the liberal member elect, the respondent. The petitioner failed to unseat Mr. Kennedy. The judgment reads: "We do not think that Alonzo Sutherland should be declared disqualified from voting, either on the ground of treating or receiving money for hire of his cutter or horse."

"We think James Saunders and Blake Sutherland were disqualified from voting at the election on account of having received payments for employment on the election."

"We also think that the costs occasioned by the filing of the cross-petition, should be paid to the respondent therein."

THINK HE WILL RISE.

He is Made Head of Ottawa Section.

Montreal, Sept. 29.—The following Grand Trunk circular has just been issued: "Effective October 1st, 1905, W. P. Hinton, is appointed general agent of passenger department of the Grand Trunk, with headquarters at Ottawa, Ont. He will have charge of the immigration and other trans-Atlantic passenger traffic, and will also perform such duties in connection with the general passenger work as are assigned to him from time to time." There is a general impression that Mr. Hinton, who is a railway officer of exceptional ability, is slated at an early date to be head of a new and important department.
