SMASHED 'EM

A Demented Man Among Tombstones.

HE WAS NABBED WHILE HE WAS BREAKING DOWN MONUMENTS.

Fellow Was Half Starved and Said He Did the Act for 'The Good of God'—Collared at Ishpeming, Michigan.

Ishpeming, Mich., Sept. 30.—The man suspected of having wrecked tombstones in a number of cemeteries in Michigan and Northern Michigan in the past two weeks, was captured by Marshal John Lehman and Deputy Marshal Manny Trevarter, who caught him in the act of breaking one stone after he had damaged a couple of others in the Ishpeming cemetery.

The suspect is a Hungarian, forty-six years old, and answers the description of the man suspected of having committed similar depredations in Escanaba and Gladstone. He is shabbily dressed, apparently half-starved, and carried a turban wrapped in an old bandana handkerchief and part of a Catholic prayer book and other devotional emblems, also a scant package of clothing in another.

When asked why he committed the deed, he simply replied in poor English that he did it for the good of God. The man gives evidence of slight mental derangement, and said he has been in Ishpeming since last Tuesday.

THE TWO TO HANG.

Brantford, Ont., Sept. 30.—Felix Doyle, and Joe Bennett, were, to-day, sentenced to be hanged on Friday, December 15th, the former for the murder of his aged mother, and the latter for the murder of the English girl, Betsy Jacobs.

Doyle's solicitor, it is said, will appeal against the verdict for leniency for his client, and ask that the death sentence be changed to imprisonment.

Mary Breicher, New York, claims to have been drugged and forced to marry Arthur Solenhing. The charge is denied.

In New York police with axes chopped their way through the walls into a poolroom, and captured 200 men in the room.

SHOT THROUGH BRAIN

Lawrence Bedore, aged eleven, was found this forenoon lying on the commons, off Nelson street, with a bullet in his brain.

He was hurried to the Hotel Dieu, where he will likely die. He is unconscious. The lad, a son of Charles Bedore, 274 Nelson street, was out on the commons, with a rifle of 22-calibre. A lad named Noel H. Reid and told of the lad having been shot.

Dr. Morrison was called and had the youth removed to the hospital. It is thought the shooting was accidental.

MARRIED AT TAMWORTH.

Miss Coxall and G. A. Reid Were Wedded, Napanee, Ontario.

A pretty wedding was solemnized in Christ's church, Tamworth, on Thursday, when Miss Adelaide Coxall became the bride of G. A. Reid, Rev. J. E. Serson, Gannanque, officiating. The bride, given away by her father, looked lovely in a gown of cream crepe de chine, with dainty chiffon trimmings, and wore a veil caught up with ribbons. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Fannie Coxall, in white silk, carrying pink roses. The groom was supported by his cousin, G. S. Reid, Centerville. Miss Lucy Wheeler presided at the organ. The groom's gift to the bride was a brooch, maple leaves set with pearls, to the bridemaid an initial brooch set with pearls and a pearl tie pin to the best man.

After the ceremony the guests repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where the wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Reid left, mid showers of rice, for Montreal, on the ten o'clock train. Mrs. Reid wearing a travelling suit of vesalia green with blouse of white embroidered linen and roseda green hat to match.

As Bridget Heard It.

A fashionable woman had a bit of statuary bearing the inscription "Kismet." A housemaid dusting the room asked the mistress, "Share, ma'am, what's the meaning of the 'ritin' on the bottom of this?"

"Oh, you mean 'Kismet.' It means fate," replied the mistress.

Bridget was limping painfully when out with her sweetheart not long afterward, and he asked: "What's the matter, Bridget?"

"Faith, was the answer, "I have the most terrible korns on my kismet."

Grasp The Opportunity.

New Business enterprises are constantly creating new positions, and death, marriage, promotion, change of employment, and incompetency are constantly making vacant old ones. The position is all right. Get ready to hold it by the neck.

The British mission to delimit the boundary between Persia and Afghanistan encountered terrible hardships. Fifty of the party succumbed to the elements, hunger and thirst, and the savage attacks of wild animals, the unaccountable madness of which produced hydrophobia among the men.

THE BEDORE SHOOTING.

Was It An Accident or Was It Not?

Regarding the Bedore shooting, late this morning, it is doubtful if the real truth of how it occurred will ever be known. According to the little fellow who was with the family, the latter said: "I have a notion to shoot you." Then he turned the weapon on himself, and whether it went off by accident or not, cannot be told.

The bullet went through the centre of the forehead and passed down to the base of the brain. The boy fell to the ground, and his little companion rushed off for help. A girl living in the vicinity went over and was carrying the lad to her home, when Mr. Reid, returning from his son's funeral, came up with them. He lifted the boy in his carriage and had him conveyed to the Hotel Dieu. Dr. Bell attended the lad, and with the assistance of a couple of other doctors, probed for bullet, but it was found impossible to reach it. Nothing could be done for the young fellow whose life ebbed slowly away. He was still living at two o'clock.

The shooting took place about 10.30 a.m., in the woods beyond Nelson street. The dying boy in the son of Charles Bedore, 274 Nelson street. His mother was down town marketing when the shooting occurred, and knew nothing of the family and the doctors is to know whether it was an accident or a bit of folly.
