A RECORD BROKEN

FOSTER RAISES POLE VAULT BY ELEVEN INCHES.

An Ideal Afternoon's Sport—Close Competitions at Queen's Annual Games—J. R. Akins, Won the Individual Championship.

At Queen's Athletic grounds, yesterday afternoon, the students from the college on the Old Ontario strand held their annual games. But before speaking of the sports a word or two would be in order relative to the grounds on which they were held. The football campus is level and green, but the new track was the admiration of all. It is built where the old bicycle track was and on the most approved pattern. It looks what it is, a daisy. Just at present the cinders make it a little heavy, but when the roller gets through its work, and a little binding material has been added, it should exceed all expectations. This year's games have shown marked improvement in the competitions, and in the general interest taken therein, results directly attributable to the new track. Queen's is now in a fair way to develop a speedy track team, and three years hence when it comes her turn to have the Intercollegiate meet she should be able to maintain the proud position now held in other lines of sport.

The attendance was very good and besides students a large number of citizens were interested spectators. The fair sex was also well represented. The weather was ideal. Well in short, everything was beyond compliment and a credit to Queen's. One record was broken. Foster, '08, raised the record for the pole vault by five inches. It now stands at nine feet nine inches. Particular mention might be made also of the good work of R. D. Paul, '07, in the running events. He went in to tire out his opponents and succeeded in wearing them down in the half mile run. In the quarter the game did not work quite as successfully, however, for Craig was there with the goods, and in a pretty spurt pushed Paul hard at the finish. There is one question which caused considerable comment among the spectators and that was the manner in which the jumps were measured. A man who started his jump beyond the line, lost that try. He could spring from as far behind as he liked and it was measured from the mark. The result was that several decisions caused considerable discussion in the grandstand. Some measurements were allowed to go when it was very questionable whether the competitor jumped behind the mark or not. In the opinion of many it would have been fairer to have measured the distance from where the jumper rose. Had this been done, it is likely K. Williams would have won the hop-step-and-jump quite easily.

The day's officials were: Referee, Prof. Matheson. Judges at finish, Prof. Dyde, Dr. Dalton, Dr. Etherington. Field judges, Prof. A. K. Kirkpatrick, Prof. McPhail, Rev. D. M. Solandt. Timekeepers, H. G. Brell, P. B. Crews, Prof. Kennedy, Starter, Dr. Richardson. Clerk of the course, W. Wolsey. Scorer, Prof. Calhoun. Track club executive, Hon. Pres., Prof. Matheson; Pres., A. G. Cameron; Vice-Pres., J. R. Stewart; Sec.-Treas., H. D. May. Committee, D. McLellan, A. Fetherland, G. Baker, J. C. Gardiner.

120 Yards Hurdles.—(Record, 18 seconds.) Foster, 21 seconds; Akins; J. Williams.

Team Relay Race, Half Mile.—'07, Curtin, Akins, Paul, Letherland; '08; '09.

The cadets had things easy in the mile run. The hurdle race was a cinch for "Jack" Williams, but he tripped at the last hurdle and only got third. Up to the time of his fall he had all his competitors outdistanced.

The individual championship went to Akins, '07, with thirteen points; Foster was only one point behind. The year trophy was won by '07, with forty-nine points; '08 was only half a point behind.

Some O.R.F.U. Rules.

The attention of all intermediate and junior teams in the O.R.F.U. is called to the following clause in the rules:

"No member of a club which has a first twelve in the senior series shall be eligible to play on an intermediate twelve having played more than once in the same union season on a senior twelve in a tie match, and a match in the senior series of his club must intervene in the following season before such player can again play on the intermediate team of that club.

"No member of a club shall be eligible to play in a junior tie match who has played more than once, in any one season, on a senior or intermediate team, or who has played during two seasons on a junior championship team. Notwithstanding anything in this rule contained, the executive or sub-committee may, upon application from a club, grant a permit to any player prohibited under this rule from competing on a junior twelve.

"Any junior team playing a person in a championship match contrary to the provisions of this rule may be suspended from the series by the executive."

General Notes On Sport.

The Young Corbett-Mike Ward match has fallen through. Ward has a match with Adam Ryan at Grand Rapids on October 26th.

Munro, the heavyweight boxer, won a decision in six rounds over Tom Murphy, of New York, at Halifax on Tuesday night.

The association football league, of St. Louis, has written the Berlin Rangers, asking their terms for a series of games there in November.

The world's championship baseball contests will be played on October 9th, 11th and 13th at Philadelphia, and October 10th, 12th and 14th, at New York.

Rathbun, who played quarter-back for Upper Canada College last year, is making good with McGill. He was one of the best quarters that college ever had, and is almost sure to catch a place on the McGill senior team.

In the Northern Baseball League, with Winnipeg, Piper of Toronto, stood twentieth in the batting list with .256. He led the league with forty-four stolen bases. He fielded .885.

Alfred Shrubb, to whom the London Amateur Athletic Association refused permission to run in Canada, has been permanently suspended by that body for malpractices in connection with running.

A pugilist named John R. Costigan is being sued for $5,000 damages by A. E. Kelley, another boxer, who claims that since he was knocked out by the former in a bout at New Haven, that he has been paralyzed.

Terry McGovern, the once "terrible," and Tommy Murphy, the New York featherwright fighter are to meet in the next bout of any consequence. The pair are to meet in a six-round bout in Philadelphia, on October 16th.

Manitoba Free Press: The Ottawa Capitals are going up against the real thing in the New Westminster lacrosse champions. The salmon bellies seem to be travelling at their old-time pace this year. Saturday they trimmed Victoria by the record score of 31 to 2.

With the return to the game of Maclaren, Doran, Ritchie and Graham, Brockville supporters of football have taken on a new lease of life, and if present indications hold good, Brockville will not be far from the O. R. F. U. championship when the season has been brought to a close.

Toronto Globe: 'Varsity will have a fairly strong back division, with McInnes, Robertson, Baldwin, McPherson Burns and Wallace to choose from. McInnis is a fast, tricky runner, but a little weak in punting. Robertson, last year played with the Victoria College and with the Torontos. He has lots of weight and is fairly speedy.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Kingston's Birth Rate Not Keeping Pace With Death Rate.

Kingston, Oct. 4.—(To the Editor): There has been some comment upon Kingston's census returns as given by the city assessor being incorrect, because they do not show the increase of population that citizens want to see. Perhaps the returns are not correct. No doubt the city has a larger population in the autumn. But when one looks at the vital statistics as registered each month in the city clerk's office, he is inclined to think that Mr. Gordon's figures may not be far astray. What do the citizens think of the following figures: From January 1st last till yesterday, October 4th, there have been 275 births in Kingston, and 286 deaths! In nine months the deaths exceeded the births by eleven! The birth rate is not keeping pace with the death rate, and that is a bad sign. Is it any wonder the population does not show an increase.—OBSERVER.

Where's The Stool?

Great sorrow exists around the weigh house at the Market Square. The "national guard" wear sorrowing countenances, while Market Clerk McCammon and Market Lessee Daley, armed to the teeth are scouring the surrounding country. What is it all about? Why, the stool. What stool? Why, the stool of state which for over a quarter of a century has been in careful hands. For years it has been the seat of honor at the weigh scales and consternation reigned supreme, when its loss was announced this morning. It is no ordinary stool either. It has a history. Did you ever know that the last murderer hanged in Kingston was supposed to have spent the death watch sitting remorsefully thereon.

ARCHIVIST'S VISIT.

MR. FRASER HERE TO LOOK UP VALUABLES.

Found Much He Was Looking for in the Diocesan Library — Wants People to Save Old Documents.

Very dusty, with the dust of years, the provincial archivist, was discovered on Wednesday, in his shirt sleeves, climbing over the face of one of the big wall bookcases in a class room of the Synod Hall. In justice to the prominent government official, however, it must be stated that the dust, if old, had been recently acquired. Not at all the sort of man the mind naturally associates with museums, fusty archives, and such things, Alexander Fraser, head of the bureau of archives, has a breezy, approachable, youthful worldliness about him which finds genial expression in an accent which does fine credit to the name he bears. In short, he's an old newspaper man, which accounts for his being so distinctly a man of parts.

The cause of Mr. Fraser's visit to town was the article on the books in the diocesan library in Saturday's Whig; his object, the rescuing from destruction, reports, pamphlets, odd copies of magazines, etc., which a less experienced eye might count worthless, and consign to the capacious maw of the paper mill. So over the shelves he roamed, and the pile on the floor beneath him grew fast, as he threw down upon it all sorts of printed matter, that would be designated by the populace, as "rubbish." Some will be used to complete sets, others will supply the leaf that is missing in a volume, or a pamphlet already in the big Toronto treasure-house. Finding a copy of the "Life and Times of William Lyon Mackenzie," Mr. Fraser quickly offered a price for it, for hitherto no copy has been in the archives. A few minutes later a thin, flat book was dropped upon the pile, with an exclamation of profound satisfaction. This proved to be a marriages and births register, kept by the late Rev. John MacKerras, and which will appear indexed in Mr. Fraser's next annual report. This was a rare find for him. Many complete sets of long ago magazines, will also be boxed up, and will follow the official to Toronto, where he will sort and classify the whole consignment. He promises the Rev. Stearne Tighe that even if his cherished project of clearing the Synod Hall of the mass, and at the same time making a trifle of money from it, out of the paper mills, is defeated that the government price will be as high as the manufacturer's.

Besides the collection and preservation of such things as have been spoken of above, the archivist is hot after all families who have papers, of any sort, which may throw light on any subject connected with Canada's history, or with the men and women that made it. Any document, (not excluding bills of lading, and love letters) which has any age at all to it, may be of value. Its possessor may not think so, but Mr. Fraser will know it. "Don't let them destroy anything. It may contain just the particle of information needed," he said, referring to a well-known family.

Township records are under Mr. Fraser's care, and so he gathers up old copies of newspapers, these being records of births and deaths, and full of accurate and invaluable biographical notes. In this connection Canon Grout has given him permission to look over his large library, which he has never removed from his old home in Grimsby, and which contains files of many old papers.

Mr. Fraser's visit was a flying one, as he left by the afternoon train for Napanee, where he intended to look up a correspondent who would undertake, in a local way, just the work in which he himself is engaged, and send the net result to the provincial archives. There are now 800 such correspondents scattered about in the various municipalities of Ontario, all of whom will endeavor to save from the burning much that relates to Canada's early life. If anyone having such papers will let the Whig office know, arrangements will be made for their transportation to Toronto.

THE HULL SPREAD

And a Lot of Coal Dumped Into Water.

Tuesday night at Wolfe Island dock, the old propellor Scotia used by William Allinson, as a coal shed, collapsed, and dumped between four and five hundred tons of coal into the river. This will mean a loss of close to $1,000. Some years ago the propellor Scotia was condemned as unfit for navigation. She was towed across the river, sunk on her bottom at the dock and for over ten years has been used for coal. The collapse was due to the pull of the boat, "spreading."

The small fire in the Ontario Chambers was due, it is claimed, to imperfect electric wiring. The fire began at a switch.

NOT YET RELEASED.

Heavy Seas Are Pounding on the Schooner Annandale.

The schooner Annandale is still lying on the Charity Shoal, the weather having been too bad for the wrecking vessels to get near her. There was a very heavy sea all last night, and it is doubtful if the Annadale will come down here except in pieces. The cargo is insured, but the vessel is not. It is possible that the marine department will be asked to make good the loss sustained, on the ground that the Pigeon Island light was at fault in not revolving as it should have done. Affidavits of the crew to this effect were taken to-day.

In 1889, while running before a gale of wind, the Annandale went ashore opposite Mimico and had a narrow escape from going to pieces at that time.

The steamer Hamilton resumed her route to-day. When the machinery was examined at Toronto, the break was found more extensive than at first supposed.

The tug James Norris and dredge scow, owned by Haney, Davis & Co., are in the government dry dock for repairs. They are en route from St. John, N.B., to Toronto.

Swift's wharf: Steamer Belleville, down, last night; steamer Picton, up, to-night; steamer Rideau King, for Ottawa, this morning; schooner, Theo Voges, with coal from Charlotte.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

"Cousin Kate" as Played by Two Prominent Actresses.

The production of "Cousin Kate," at the Grand Opera House last evening, was witnessed by a large audience. The comedy is well constructed, and contains a number of strong lines on the affairs of life. It takes but seven people to produce the comedy, and the interest never abates. "Cousin Kate," the role assumed last season by Miss Roselle Knott, the Hamilton actress, is now taken by Miss Virginia Drew Trescott, who throws into some parts a little more of the tragic element which is quite in keeping as there are a number of serious reflections in the lines of this character. Miss Trescott made the character real and charming. Her predecessor, Miss Knott, played portions of it in lighter vein and used her merry laugh to advantage. In other respects the two actresses played the role almost alike. Miss Trescott's portrayal was charming all through. Herbert McKenzie was the leading man, giving a good interpretation of the role of "Heath Desmond." The rest of the company fitted their parts well.

"West's Big Jubilee Minstrels."

With McDevitt & Kelly, the world's greatest dancers, Banta Bros., and Von Dell in the most pretentious and funniest of all musical acts, Henry B. Hoff and his marvelous unsupported ladder, Major Smith and his famous "Devil Stick," Alvin Bros. with their amusing acrobatic turn, George L. Van, known as the king of monologuists, George L. Wade, the real old-time darkey, Best and Johnny Swor, in a brand new fun creation, and a half dozen other equally interesting novelty features, in conjunction with an unsurpassed orchestra and a corps of vocalists headed by James A. Flynn, the celebrated baritone, Manager Ricaby may well calculate on delighting a large audience with the William H. West Jubilee Minstrels, at the Grand to-night.

Irish Play Coming.

It is a long decade since Joseph Murphy made his first appearance in this city, and he has steadily grown in public favor ever since. His engagements have always been most successful, and he has proved to be one of the surest money-makers on the stage. Joseph Murphy will present "Shaun Rhue," at the Grand, here, on Tuesday, October 10th.

PURCHASED TOMATOES.

Prince Edward Stock Goes to Rochester, N.Y.

The tomato crop in Prince Edward county this year has been a bumper one; so much so that the many canning factories could not handle, for what they contracted. Curtis Bros., Rochester, have purchased several thousand bushels from the Old Homestead Canning company, of Picton, and other factories, for the manufacture of their catsup. Tuesday night the steamer Niagara made a special trip to Charlotte with her vegetable cargo.

Died In Chicago.

Word reached this city yesterday that William Virtue an old resident of Kingston, died at his home, in Chicago, Wednesday morning, of typhoid fever after a short illness. The remains which will be buried here, will reach this city by the noon train on Friday. Mr. Virtue was a member of Kingston Lodge, No. 59, I.O.O.F., of twenty-four years' standing. The funeral will be in charge of the lodge.

Had His Arm Broken.

Reuben Bryant, guard in the penitentiary, living on upper Colborne street, was picking pears on Wednesday afternoon, when the limb he was standing on collapsed, throwing him to the ground. He had his forearm broken, one bone being snapped off the other, a "green" break. He was otherwise bruised.

A big engine, while hauling cars over the branch line to Richardson's elevator, broke several rails, and the elevator traffic has been delayed. Shipments of grain and feldspar are awaiting repairs to the track, which is being changed.

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills; they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

It took a Scotch traveller from Glasgow to get the better of the law in Quebec province requiring outside travellers to pay a tax of $100. He was in Kingston lately, and his card was made out as representative of a Quebec firm, which he gave a small commission on his earnings, thus "doing" the Quebec government.
