The annual reception to Queen's Freshettes was held last night, and was a huge success, far surpassing the parts of previous years, so they say. All the professors wives were there, and received everybody, and added much to the total of the evening's pleasure. Several new features were introduced in the initiation proceedings. The trembling freshettes were compelled to crawl through hoops, held by three ghosts, and afterwards to shake the hand of "Gustavus Blimples." Non-compliance with orders was punished quickly by two constables, gloomily in outward appearance, but thirstily muscular in reality. Music was contributed in an instrumental way by Miss Mackenzie, and Miss Eleanor Macdonnell, and Miss Mona Knight sang, Dr. Margaret O'Hara also sang an Indian song. The cake contest resulted in Miss Jessie Dickson, one of the freshettes, carrying off a very nice prize. Another feature, and an enjoyable one, was the Shakespearean contest. Chorus filled in the evening, mingled with congratulations to the makers of the party for the beautiful decorations, and all the capital arrangements.

Owing to Mrs. Uglow's kind thought Mrs. D. M. Solandt was saved the somewhat uncomfortable experience of holding her post-nuptial reception at a boardinghouse, and on Thursday, Mrs. Uglow's own reception day, the bride from Ottawa was welcomed to town in that hostess' drawing-room. Mrs. Uglow received all the guests as they crossed the threshold of the drawing-room, and receiving with the bride were Mrs. Adam Shortt, and Mrs. J. C. Connell. Mrs. Solandt wore her very pretty wedding gown of white. In the tea room, indeed, Alexander Richardson made the tea, and Miss Gertrude Craig, cut ices. Miss Florence Williamson and Miss Eleanor Ferguson, both Queen's girls, like the bride, waited on severely and most assiduously. The tea table looked specially pretty with its graceful arrangement of many shades of pink carnations, and maidenhair fern, in a glass and silver epergne. Silver candelabra, with the lights pink shaded, were on the table and sideboard. Mrs. Solandt as Miss Edith Young, was one of the best-liked of the Queen's girls, and all her old friends are glad indeed to welcome her back.

club, in honor of his approaching marriage to Miss Yates. The latter was married in a very handsome gown of purple and blue, both gown and hat being E. W. York's creations. Her travelling dress was of a pretty grey-blue cloth. Congratulations to the groom and very warm good wishes for his bride, the latter being very tangibly expressed in gifts, have gone down to Quebec to-day.

The sports at the Royal Military College called out a large contingent of the younger element among the girls, to-day, and indeed, a good sprinkling of their seniors was not lacking, many of them still interested in our city's youthful red coats. The affair is always one of the chief events of the autumn season. After the sports tea was served, as usual, in the mess room.

Eig Shipment of Apples. Montreal, Oct. 7.—Some unexampled shipments of apples are being made from this port of late. The Bavarian space was reserved for 32,500 barrels, most of which are on board, and the balance expected before the scheduled sailing date. Ontario growers are prominent shippers in this consignment, and to watch the barrels, each marked with the name of the shipper, place of shipment and species of apple, is a lesson in geography and pomology. A noticeable feature of this consignment is that each barrel bears the mark "Canadian Apples," as a means of identification.

Why Red Rose Tea is Economical

RED Rose Tea has all the good points of two good teas and none of the weaknesses of any. You never drank a cup of straight Ceylon or Indian tea that could compare in strength, richness, delicacy and fragrance with the "rich fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea.

Yet Red Rose Tea goes further and costs no more than either Indian or Ceylon teas alone.

Red Rose Tea is better than either Indian or Ceylon tea and is more economical because it goes further.

Red Rose Tea is good Tea

HAD A THUMB SMASHED

While Loading a Stove Upon a Wagon.

Napanee, Oct. 7.—W. H. Boyle met with a painful accident on Wednesday last. He was loading a stove into a farmer's wagon and the horse started, causing the stove to drop down, catching his thumb between the stove and end board of the wagon, pinching off almost to the first joint of the left hand thumb.
