FRIEND ROY

He is Regarded By Russians As A Hero.

BUT NEBOGATOFF

HE IS LOOKED UPON AS A TRAITOR.

Sailors Returning Tell the True Story—Russian Comptroller of Finance Has Refused to Audit Bills—Carried Grand Piano to the Front.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 25.—Your correspondent interviewed a number of sailors from Nebogatoff's fleet that arrived here a few days ago. A very intelligent shipman described the situation as follows: "We were without hope and energy from the start. We sailors knew that we were to be sacrificed—hence we were never allowed to leave the vessels, even if we stayed for weeks in a harbor. While the great battle was on, we learned that the admirals could not get Rojstvenky's advice to break through the Japanese lines while Nebogatoff proposed to make a round about run for Vladivostok. We sailors sympathized with our admirals, because he had been good to us, and had our interests at heart. "The battle proceeded and we found ourselves surrounded on all sides. We saw that our guns were to be short-ranged to inflict punishment, while the Japanese shot reached the mark, increasing our danger. We were ordered for the enemy without being allowed to do any damage. There was a storm raging besides. On my vessel the cannon was full of water, on several of the other vessels the cannon burst. They say our admirals had committed suicide rather than submit, but he was a good man. He loved us, and rather endured personal ruin than cause so many men to die."

Both Rojstvenky's and Nebogatoff's reports have been received, but the papers are withheld from press and public. It is announced, however, that Rojstvenky will be nominated adjunct to the secretary of the navy. Nebogatoff has been degraded, his rank and decorations have been declared void. Rojstvenky is a hero in the official eye, Nebogatoff a traitor.

Now that Stoesel, whose fame as a commander has been degraded, and his name since the Kaiser decorated him, returned from his round trip to various Russian honors, he has to face the comptroller of finance, who refuses to audit Stoesel's bill for travelling expenses, "back account" and "expenses." Stoesel put in a bill for no less than 35,000 roubles; ordinary mortals, not heroes, usually make the trip for 300 roubles. But Stoesel carried a lot of baggage, among it a grand piano, the grand accompanist, and a grand Port Arthur, then to Japan, then again to Russia—it's probably the most expensive grand in the wide world. Aside from the piano, Stoesel carried a few hundred specimens of deer, and a few hundred of his luggage. "My clothes," he said, "lost," says public opinion. At any rate the comptroller refuses to pay the bill. He says, if all the captured Russian generals and admirals would put in similar bills for travelling expenses, the czar would have to sell the other half of Saghalin to pay the account. "And that Nicholas will never do."

Rose An Island Queen. Camden, N.J., Oct. 25.—Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland, sister of the ex-president, has become wealthy through ownership of an island a few miles from Camden. Twenty years ago she paid $4,500 for it, and closed up $200,000 from the sale of building lots. There are more house lots left, which will add as much more to her fortune. She is absolute queen of the island, and enforces her rules as rigidly as though it were situated in the South seas.

Gift To Eloping Niece. Hempstead, N.Y., Oct. 25.—Nancy Carnegie Hever, who married her mother's coachman, is to become a neighbor of the fashionable folk of the millionaire colony here. Andrew Carnegie, who forgave his independent little niece and said she had made a wise selection has purchased for the couple the Silas Abernethy seventy-eight acre farm at Roslyn, where they will establish a handsome country residence. Mrs. Hever, who was immensely popular in Pittsburg society before her marriage, will thus regain her lost prestige.

Given Seven Years. Hamilton, Oct. 25.—August Hamner, convicted of stealing a number of sheep from Andrew Fairbairn, Berkeley, was sentenced to seven years in Kingston penitentiary. Hamner, who has been convicted before at Brantford, Berlin, Cobourg, and other places, denied his identity, until the authorities threatened to bring officers here from Brantford who would identify him.

Lizard In His Stomach. Deer Park, N.Y., Oct. 25.—Months ago Campbell Walker, the five-year-old son of John Walker, drank what was thought to be a small insect in a glass of water. The incident was forgotten until Sunday, when the child died in extreme convulsions. Beside the child on the bed was found a live lizard, three and a half inches long, which the boy had vomited.

"No thanks," said a man at the breakfast table yesterday. "I don't see those patent boots. Toy's bread is good enough for me." and he helped himself to another piece.

NO LAW AGAINST IT.

Lake Grain Vessels Without Supervision.

Ottawa, Oct. 25.—The surprising fact is revealed that the department of marine has no supervision over inland grain vessels. In answer to an enquiry, a leading official of the department said: "We have no central office vessels logging grain for inland ports. Our jurisdiction extends only to ships taking grain cargoes to ocean ports. Of course, if the attention of the department were drawn to vessels that were deemed to be unseaworthy, action would be taken to prevent such vessels from leaving port. I cannot tell you how it is that the lake carriers are not on the same footing as the ocean vessels. A number of seagoing vessels foundered owing to shifting of their grain cargoes and this led to an agitation which resulted in the adoption of the present law against overloading. But that law does not apply to inland ports."

Another official stated: "Shipping is very lax on the upper lakes. There is little or no observance of the rules of the road, and there seems to be equal laxity in regard to every other safeguard. The department of marine will give attention to the matter."

A NAVAL SHOW.

Paris, Oct. 25.—A Berlin despatch to the "Eclair" says that Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy have reached an understanding for carrying out a Joint Naval demonstration against Turkey, in case the Porte continues to oppose the programme of financial reforms agreed upon for Macedonia. It is said that Germany hesitates to co-operate with the other powers.

SANDOW COLLECTS BUNCH.

Brings Thirty-Two Natives, on Tour, to London.

London, Oct. 25.—Eugene Sandow, the champion of physical culture and famous man of show, has just returned here after a tour of Africa and the east and has brought back a native from every country he visited, thirty-two in all. They include Chinese, Hindoo, Hottentot, Kafirs and natives of Punjab. These he has systematically trained.

Sandow conducted a mission during his tour, the gospel he has preached being the duty a man owes to his own body.

"One of my objects was to study the methods of physical culture adopted by different races, but I did not see any that were worthy of being copied. I have chosen and brought back with me a native of every country I visited. The men chosen, in the majority of cases, were weaklings, and, in some cases, feeble specimens of their race. They travelled with me and I trained them as I went."

HERO EXPELLED.

Turn Down Man Who Fought in Manchuria.

Moscow, Oct. 25.—The Moscow police have ordered the expulsion from the city of a soldier named Schwartz, who had come to visit his parents on his return from the front on the ground that he is a Jew.

Schwartz highly distinguished himself in all the great battles in Manchuria. He was wounded eleven times, several of his wounds being serious, and he received the St. George's Cross on no fewer than three occasions for bravery. One of the crosses was in gold, as a special mark of distinction for his having blown up a Japanese magazine.

He was also the recipient of the life-saving medal for having rescued an officer from drowning in the Yalu.

LORD CHARLES BERESFORD.

Convinced Advocate of Total Abstinence.

London, Oct. 25.—Lord Charles Beresford now appears as a convinced advocate of total abstinence from liquor.

"I do not believe alcohol in any form ever has or will do any 'good,'" he says. "I am now sixty years old, and since I have entirely given up wine, spirits and beer I find I can do more work, physically, mentally, and morally than when I was thirty. I am always well, always cheery, always feel fit."

"If only some young men would try going without liquor for three months I believe they would be convinced that liquor is unnecessary."

Celebrating Town's Rejuvenation.

Marion, Ky., Oct. 25.—The wonderful resurrection of this town, which was generally observed as a holiday and all business, not absolutely necessary, ceased. "All public and many private buildings are decorated and the streets are thronged with people. There was a parade this morning and in the afternoon there will be a barbecue and a general jollification with speaking, singing and other amusements."

Our stove parlor open every night this week. See the largest assortment of heaters and cookers in the city, at Yellow Hardware Store, opposite Grand Opera House.

VERY PACIFIC

Is Entente Between Britain and Russia.

GOOD M. BOMPARD

WAS ABLE TO BRING ABOUT UNDERSTANDING.

British Ambassador Received in Special Audience by the Czar in Regard to the Anglo-Russian Agreement—Germany Busy to Prevent It.

Paris, Oct. 25.—The Petit Parisien's St. Petersburg correspondent declares that an entente between Great Britain and Russia is an accomplished fact. He ascribes the success in bringing the understanding about to the efforts of M. Bompard, the French ambassador to Russia, who worked hard against the German ambassador's attempts to arrange a Russo-German alliance. The entente, according to the correspondent, is grounded on a most pacific basis, the ending of the development of commercial relations in the far east and the maintenance of peace in Central Asia.

Has Special Audience. London, Oct. 25.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times cables: "The British ambassador was received, yesterday, in a special audience before his departure on two months' leave. I understand the audience was connected with the projected Anglo-Russian understanding. The ambassador's presence in London is necessitated by the preparations for the coming year's parliament. In this connection I learn that Count Benedek is coming to St. Petersburg for a similar purpose."

The correspondent adds that it is no longer a secret that Germany exerted every effort to defeat the Anglo-Russian entente. The precise nature of Germany's offer, the correspondent adds, has not yet been divulged, but he is informed that the proposals had reference to joint action in the Baltic and ultimate apportionment of Austria and Hungary.

KING CLIPPED THEIR WINGS.

As Far Back As Middle of Fourteenth Century.

Munich, Oct. 25.—The Munich Medical Weekly (German) published a most interesting historical review concerning the status of female physicians in France, Austria and Spain. In France, we learn, female physicians were not numerous up to the middle of the fourteenth century, when the king clipped their wings. Afterwards the male physicians gradually suppressed the female competitor, leaving her only the practice of surgery. This latter, however, Charles VIII. prohibited towards the end of the fifteenth century. In the eighteenth century, many women of fashion took up the study of medicine. At present, however, very few women practice in France. Of the eighty female doctors, forty are foreigners—this despite the fact that the Paris University offers French women every advantage.

Austria has only twenty-nine female physicians, and public institutes still refuse them shelter as assistants, directors, etc. At present the seven Austrian universities have forty-three female medical students.

In Spain branches have been admitted for more than fifty years to the lower branches of medicine, such as midwifery, bloodletting, etc. They are not allowed to practice in the big cities, however, but are restricted to the country districts where there are no regularly ordained physicians.

Drawn of Russia's Strike Situation.

London, Oct. 25.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Telegraph draws a sensational picture of the strike situation, among other things, where in the provinces, and that speeches are being made by any body and every body. Demands are being formulated which the government would not grant if it could, and could not if it would. Resolutions are being passed, unanimous and enthusiastically, to continue the strike until these demands are conceded. Down right frenzy, revolutionary frenzy, seems to have seized the entire people, who rush headlong, as though literally possessed, and resolved to bring down on themselves, or else end the odious regime which is dying too slowly. Lynch law, officials and police being murdered almost nightly.

ROSDALE IS SAFE.

There Were Fears For Her on Tuesday.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 25.—Some apprehension was felt here, yesterday, about the safety of the steamer Rosdale, owned by the St. Lawrence & Chicago Steam Navigation company, Toronto, but a telegram, last night, states that the steamer passed the Soo down bound yesterday afternoon and was due with her grain cargo at Menard to-night. The Rosdale passed the Soo, up-bound, the day before the great storm and weathered it on Lake Superior, reaching Fort William in good shape.

Mrs Rogers' Appeal.

Wellington, Oct. 25.—Mary Mabel Rogers, under sentence of death in Vermont for killing her husband, was granted leave to proceed on appeal before the supreme court of the United States as a pauper without payment of costs.

A SERIOUS FIRE.

Armory of a Military Company Burned.

Lucknow, Ont., Oct. 25.—A venerable brick block on the north side of Campbell street, next to the post-office, was destroyed by fire, early this morning, with all the contents. The losers are: Miss Bechtel, milliner, A. Bennett, produce dealer, John Marchant, son, agent, and Mrs. N. L. Campbell, grocer. A. T. Davidson, furniture and undertaker, and T. Watson, barber, in a frame building adjoining, saved a very small portion of their contents. The armory, containing rifles and uniforms of company No. 3, of the 32nd Battalion of Bruce, was in the venerable building and is a total loss. The total property loss will be $12,000, insurance about $7,000. Cause of fire unknown.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS.

Meeting in Ottawa—Guests at Rideau Hall.

Ottawa, Oct. 25.—The supreme council of the Scottish Rite Masons began its sessions here, today. Hon. J. M. Gibson presided, and among those present were: Senator Ellis, St. John, N.B.; E. T. Malone, Benjamin Allen, W. G. Baker, Toronto; C. W. Hagar, Angus Hooper, and J. H. Stearns, Montreal, and representatives of several districts. The secret convales have to do with the routine of the order.

Hon. Neil Primrose, son of the Earl of Rosebery, and Senator and Mrs. Kirchoffer are guests at Government House.

BY TO-MORROW.

St. Petersburg May Be Cut Off From World.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 25.—Over half of European Russia is in the grasp of the striking railroad men, and the strike continues to spread into all directions. The roads in the Volga region are at a standstill, and to-day a general strike was proclaimed on the two remaining lines running out of St. Petersburg. Before to-morrow the capital is expected to be cut off from the outside world, by way of the continent. This will also involve the suspension of postal communication.

MENTALLY UNBALANCED.

Doctor Committed Suicide—Tariff Commission Meeting.

Montreal, Oct. 25.—A verdict of suicide in a moment of mental aberration was the verdict of the coroner's jury, which enquired into the death of Dr. P. A. Desilets, of St. Charles de Richa. Dr. Desilets was killed by a Grand Trunk engine, on a city crossing.

The government tariff commission will meet, in Montreal, shortly, and has accepted the offer of the board of trade to use their offices.

WEARERS OF HIDES.

Ordered For January, Grass on Western Ranges.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—An advance of one cent per pound for heavy leathers went into effect this morning. It is stated that all the hides in sight to the end of the year, have been already purchased, and that buying is now going on for delivery in January, of hides still on the backs of the ranches grazing on the western ranges. Such a situation is unprecedented in Canada.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS.

Recorded on Seismograph at Toronto.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—Heavy earthquake shocks experienced at Kingston, Jamaica, October 14th, also at Santiago de Cuba, on the same date, are plainly recorded on the Seismograph at Toronto Observatory, and are also recorded on the instrument at Victoria, B.C.

THE TRAIN DERAILED.

That Was Carrying the Irish Guards' Band.

Montreal, Oct. 25.—A C.P.R. special with the Irish Guards' Band, from St. John, to Quebec, was derailed at Asquith, Maine, early to-day, and Engineer Conroy and the fireman injured. None of the passengers suffered.

Terrible Domestic Tragedy.

Budapest, Oct. 25.—In the village of Pabony, not far from Budapest, a terrible domestic tragedy, actuated by the jealousy of a husband, has taken place. A peasant named Johann Koutra was jealous of his pretty wife, and killed her by striking her with a hatchet and striking her with a knife. There were no fewer than twenty-two wounds on the unfortunate woman's body. After committing the crime, Koutra wrapped the body in a lead sheet, and then hanged himself from a tree in his garden.

Reptile Coiled in Bananas.

Cazenovia, N.Y., Oct. 25.—While handling a bunch of bananas yesterday John Morse, clerk for Richardson the grocer, had a severe fright, caused by putting his hand on a large snake fully two feet long. The reptile is peculiarly marked, being nothing like any snake ever seen in this vicinity.
