COMMERCIAL MATTERS.

What is Going On in the Business World—The Markets.

A synopsis of American capitulation, during the season which has just closed throughout the west, and will manufacture for the export trade.

The Canadian Yukon shipped gold to the value of something more than $5,000,000.

There is an impression prevailing that the Grand Trunk Pacific, intends to inaugurate a commercial telegraph system of the zone.

Canada imported 2,604,187 tons of attractive coal from the United States in the year ending June 30, 1905, valued at $12,000,000.

The Northern Cotton Association estimates this year's cotton crop at 9,444,347 bales. This compares with Miss Gile's estimate of 10,300,000 bales and Burton's estimate of 10,250,000 bales.

Toronto financial men are being interested in the formation of a street railway to manufacture railway rolling stock in Toronto, with capital of $5,000,000, and giving employment to 2,000 hands. The company will be a five to the Pullman Car company of Chicago, and will build a factory for the Canadian Pacific Railway company in Hamilton, Ontario.

The American Agricultural estimates the farm value of the crops in the United States for 1905, at $10,000,000,000, wheat at $18,000,000,000, hay at $400,000,000, corn at $1,000,000,000. Although the crop this year is much larger than last year, it is valued at nearly $800,000,000 less than it was last year.

PLAY AT KINGSTON.

Kingston Would Be a Very Fine Point.

This year the champions of the Intercollegiate Rugby Union will try for Canadian championship honors. Where will they meet? The Toronto News is inclined to believe that a better spot than either of those mentioned would be Kingston. At that point Queen's University offers probably as fine a grandstand accommodation would probably prove inadequate for such an event, but as no one particularly desires to sit down outside on a frosty day, that lack would not be noticed to any extent.

On the other hand, the supporters of both the teams would have an almost equal chance of being present. If the Hamilton enthusiasts have to go to Montreal they will be forced to travel 270 miles, whereas the Ottawa could reach the scene of action by a 112-mile trip. To go to Kingston the Ottawa people would only be called upon to travel 120 miles, very little more than the Montreal trip would involve, whereas the Hamiltonians would cut off 170 miles, as it is only 203 miles between the Ambitious City and the Lionsgate City.

Under the circumstances both the Tigers and the Rough Riders could run day excursions if the game were played in Kingston, whereas, if it taken place in Montreal—where the unwritten rule of the Canadian Rugby Football Union requires it to be played this year—the supporters of the Ottawa town team would be able to avail themselves of that advantage.

SOCIETY THANKSGIVING.

For Completion of Centenary Fund of $50,000 Guineas.

In view of the Bible Society's great thanksgiving on November 7th for the completion of its centenary fund of a quarter of a million guineas, the following details as to the chief sources from which the money came, throw a curious sidelight on the attitude of various countries towards the society and its work. Thus, for instance, $12,900 was sent by British North America; $3,000 came from continental Europe; $4,000 came from India; $2,500 from South Africa; $3,500 from New Zealand; $3,000 from Australia; £740 from Egypt; £720 from Russia; £6 from Japan, and £1,100 from China.

The great bulk of the fund, as much as $280,000, came from England and Wales. Among the more striking contributions to the fund have been one gift of £10,000, one anonymous gift of £3,000, one gift of 2,000 guineas (one of which was anonymous), one anonymous gift of £9,000, thirteen gifts of 1,000 guineas (two anonymous), and ten of £1,000 (four anonymous). By far the greater part of the fund, however, has been raised by comparatively small gifts, often from poor people. The smallest separate contribution acknowledged at the Bible house was 1d. from a domestic servant.

RIDES INTO OTTAWA ON N. Y. C. ENGINE.

Hiatus in Ottawa Civic Affairs—Conference With Head Officers of C.P.R. and G.T.R. Over Alleged Traffic Congestion.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—Chairman Killam, of the railway commission, and Traffic Inspector Hartwell, are in Montreal, today, conferring with the head officers of the C.P.R. and G.T.R., in reference to the alleged congestion of traffic.

A hiatus has been created in civic affairs by the city auditor, W. H. Cliff, refusing to pass accounts of the board of works, owing to the appropriation being overdrawn. As the board is rushing work to a finish before winter, the city council will likely have to make some special arrangement.

Herbert McDonald, a boy from Massena Springs, rode into Ottawa on a New York Central engine. He says having no money he had to sleep at the police station. The city charity officer took him in charge, and sent him home. The boy says his father is a nephew of Charles Dickens, the novelist.

JOSEPH B. WALKER.

An order-in-council has been passed appointing Joseph B. Walker as local master in chancery, in succession to the late John Mudie.

The master came to Kingston in 1870 from Montreal, where he was educated at the high school and McGill College. He entered the office of Gildersleeve & Walker as a student, and on his being admitted to practice, formed a partnership with his brother, Dr. Walker, and has been active in practice ever since. Mr. Walker, though a resident of the county until about a year ago, has been an alderman of the city for about ten years, being returned each time for Ontario ward, and he is at present a representative of that ward. For twenty-five years he was secretary of the Conservative Association of the county of Frontenac, but retired from that position about six years ago.

Mr. Walker's appointment to his present position was with the approval of the members of the profession, as he possesses, not only the proper legal qualifications, but has those qualities which make him an agreeable man to do business with.

ARE HELD BY FLOES.

Men Must Face Arctic Winter's Perils.

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—Eleven whaling vessels, comprising almost the entire fleet which sailed from this city, have been caught in the Arctic ocean. They will not be able to get out until next July or August, and in the meantime their crews of 400 men must face the hardships of a winter in the north.

This news is conveyed in a telegram to Lewis Anderson and Ford & Co., of this city from Captain H. B. Bodfish of the steamer William Baylies. Only this vessel and the schooner Monterey were able to escape.

The eleven vessels were caught after the steamer Alexander, Captain James A. Tillon; steamer Belva, Captain B. J. Coninsky; schooner Bonanza, Captain William Mogg; steamer Bowhead, Captain John A. Cook; schooner Charles Hanson, Captain James McKenn; steamer Herman, Captain W. S. Evernum; steamer Jeanette, Captain E. W. Newth; steamer Karluch, Captain A. H. McGregor; steamer Norwalk, Captain George B. Leavitt; schooner Oscar, Captain George B. Leavitt; steamer Thresher, Captain William F. Macomber.

Most of the vessels now in the ice are not provisioned for a stay in the Arctic. Unless the boats are heard from within a short time the government will be asked to forward supplies and relief to the imprisoned men.

BAD FOR BOTH SIDES.

"So far there are very strong indications," said Justice Testal, "that there was a lavish expenditure of money on both sides."

"I do not propose," said Mr. Mabee, "to let only one side of the affair be exposed."

"His lordship," remarked Mr. McIntyre, "says both sides have already been disclosed."

"We cannot not help disclosing closing scenes of your dealings," retorted Mr. Mabee; "but they are only incidental."

PROF. ADAM SHORTT.

Speech on International Trade and Tariffs.

At the Alumni conference at Queen's on Wednesday, Prof. Shortt, in lecturing on "International Trade and Tariffs," said the most rigorous protection secured by English manufacturers was at first against the Irish and Scotch producers. This spirit was not entirely dead, he continued, as for some years past there have been gradually established in Canadian protection against the English manufacturers and industries and their protective duties. The desire for economic protection had no special national quality, but was simply the desire for artificial assistance in increasing gains. The stimulus for international trade came chiefly from those who were most anxious to shut out all other in their own lines. With that practical enterprise which disregards all inconsistency, the manufacturer who seeks to prevent the importation of competing foods from other countries is always most anxious to export his own goods to other countries. Moreover, he is equally anxious to import any goods from foreign countries which he requires as ingredients in the manufacture of his own wares. The local production and consumption of as many articles and services as are necessary to the full life of the community, such a condition of things was not, however, possible. The science of economics," said Prof. Shortt, "in discussing the principle of protection, looked at wealth as a means to life. Hence the conclusions of economists were not always popular with the business men who are devoted to the accumulation of profits. The process named dumping was a frequent economic fact, but was much more frequent within countries than between them. It was the familiar accompaniment of over-production, surplus stocks, forced or bankrupt sales, changes of fashion and other circumstances. If a fiscal device could be arranged whereby protection against dumping could be secured, then the advantage of an abnormal tariff would be derived from their own effective argument. Such a device, it might be claimed, had been discovered and put in practice by the Canadian government."
