Charles McFaymeny Shellmouth, N. W.T., was arrested on a charge of misappropriating government funds. While overseas he failed to account for some district money in his possession. He was sent for trial.

Judge Dow's Kind Of Liar... Judge Dow of New Hampshire said one day: "I admire a liar, even when his prevarications strain my credulity. A friend of mine, who objects to efforts to pry into his personal affairs, recently limped into my office. 'What's the matter with your foot?' I asked, more to be polite than because I cared what was the trouble. 'Then he gained my everlasting admiration by a display of nerve and mendacity I never saw equalled. He said: 'An eel stepped on it.'"

Marshall Field... Marshall Field is described by an "eastern" writer: "He never borrows money, never gives a note or a mortgage, never deals in margins on stocks or grains, sells on short time and narrow margin; always buys good for cash, and insists to the last letter on the fulfillment of every contract between him and his customer."

To-morrow, the 8th, will be the golden wedding anniversary of Judge Hamilton and Mrs. Hamilton, who for several years spent their summers in Kingston, his honor's home in early life. Their friends will wait many well wishings and kind thoughts to the estimable couple speeding across the ocean for England. Judge Hamilton's best man was the late Mr. Christopher Robinson, K.C. A curious fact is that Mr. Hamilton's father and mother, the late Chief Justice and Mrs. Draper, celebrated their golden wedding at Hazeldean, Toronto.

"Doris," in the Guelph, Ont., Mercury's social column, remarks: "Every one is sorry about the approaching departure of Mr. Van Sant, the United States consul. He has not been with us for any length of time, but since he came to make himself so congenial to every one in the city. We often hear of bright and sunny men, but we seldom meet them. Well, Mr. Van Sant is of this sort, and his brightness and sunny Jim ways have made him an acceptable sojourner in our midst. Of course every one is glad to hear of his promotion just as every one regrets that Kingston's gain is our personal loss. No one will ever be changed with the statistics of praise regarding Mr. Van Sant's attitude towards the people amongst whom his lot has been cast during the past ten months. It is only necessary to say that he has made good in every respect, and as everyone knows, he followed a popular man when he accepted the United States consulate here."

Gold in the Twilight

The wedding took place, Tuesday morning, at the home of the bride's parents, Queen's College, of Miss Eleanor M. Watson, eldest daughter of Rev. Dr. John Watson, vice-principal of Queen's University, and of Mrs. Watson, general manager of the Thousand Island Steamship company. The bride was given away by her father, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Macgillivray, of Chalmers church.

The bride wore champagne voile, over tulle of the same shade, and trimmings of old point lace. With this was worn a bridal veil of net, and her bouquet was of white roses. Miss Harriet Watson, sister of the bride, was in cream voile, over cream tulle, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. Watson was in black voile, with petticoat of black tulle and elaboration of black lace. The groomsmen were Dr. H. A. Bowie, of Essex.

The wedding breakfast was served at quartette tables, white roses being upon that at which the bridal party sat, and pink carnations decking the others. Among the guests were the principal and Mrs. Gordon, Archdeacon and Mrs. Carey, Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Goodwin, Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Shortt, Professor and Mrs. James Cappon, Professor and Mrs. Macnaughton, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mackie, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Macdonnell, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Folger, Miss Goodearle, and Mr. Henry Folger.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodearle left on the 11:00 o'clock G.T.R. train for the east and will visit New York on their way to Toronto, returning in about three weeks' time by way of Washington and Baltimore. The going-away gown was of lawn cloth, with vest of white silk; hat of white chenille, with oquer feathers, and large bow of white fur.

With a remembrance of what a shivery thing crossing the bridge is on a raw November day, Mrs. E. T. Taylor very thoughtfully decided to receive in town, before leaving for the commandant's residence, and yesterday, in spite of threats from above, and very tangible unpleasantness underfoot, many called upon her at the Hotel Randolph. Receiving with Mrs. Taylor was gracious little Mrs. Laferty, wife of the staff adjutant, and Colonel Taylor himself. The drawing-room of the hotel looked very pretty, and quite home-like with those marvellous transformers, flowers, Crimson roses, the white and golden chrysanthemums, with greenery of all kinds in plenty filled the windows, and decked the piano, and every available spot. As the function of a newspaper is to express current thought, it is only fair to put in words, what Colonel and Mrs. Taylor must have already felt, that they have already won their way far into the regard of Kingston. That this is due to their attitude, and cordiality of their attitude, has of course not occurred to them. Those who feel the deepest pleasure at the advent of the new commandant and his wife, are those who have sons at the college, for with Colonel Taylor to rule them wisely, and Mrs. Taylor to just be good to them, in the way that earns for colonels' wives much depth of gratitude, parents know that the best is going to be got out of their red-coated boys at the R. M. C.

The annual meeting of the Badminton Club was held on Saturday, at the armories. Mrs. Hunter Ogilvie has again been appointed president, and Captain Norman Leslie, secretary of the club. There are twelve or thirteen names on the waiting list, and twelve vacancies. The names will be posted, and objections will take place in a fortnight. Play will go on as usual.

Miss Macmorine gave a little musical yesterday, in honor of Miss Kathleen Jenkins. Among the others there were Miss Dupuy, Miss Christie MacLeod, Miss Louise Kirkpatrick, Miss Maud Knight, Miss Carrie Waldron, Miss Ethel Waldron, and Miss Gladys Grant. All contributed something to the very delightful little musical programme. Miss Jenkins has brought her violin to town with her, and her playing seems to have gained in charm, since she was last here.

Mrs. Knight is giving a very young peoples' dance for Miss Phyllis to-morrow.

Miss Lois Saunders entertained at bridge on Saturday evening for Mrs. E. T. Taylor.

Mrs. W. Dale Harris gave another tea on Saturday, in honor of Mrs. Duncan Macpherson. The table was decorated with white chrysanthemums. There was several out-of-town guests, including the Misses Macpherson-Ottawa paper.

Success of Central Prison Night School—Many Totally Illiterate When They Entered—The Railway Commission in Session.

Toronto, Nov. 7.—The fisheries department has received another communication from the commissioner of one of the states, bordering on Lake Erie, who says that rumors have reached him that some of the American fishermen on Lake Erie, after November 15th, propose getting clearance papers from Ohio ports, and New York ports, to the port of Erie City, Pa., and after leaving the original ports, to raid Canadian waters, and getting what fish they can; make the Erie port, and claim they got the fish from the state from which they got their clearance papers. The attention of Washington has been directed to these rumors. The commissioner further states that assistance will be rendered by Canadians in capturing any of these boats. The information has been communicated to Capt. Dunn, of the Vigilant.

The annual report of the Central prison night school it is stated that out of 128 attending, twenty-eight were totally ignorant of the alphabet, and numbers, the remainder being scarcely able to read or write their own names. The cost of those attending were under twenty years of age, the others being chiefly between twenty and thirty. The youngest was sixteen years old, and the oldest sixty-three. The latter could neither read nor write when he went into the prison, but on the completion of his term he could conduct his own correspondence with his friends at home.

The railway commission opened its session here this morning, by hearing the application of the Hamilton & Toronto Electric railway for power to change the route, in Lincoln county, from the north to the south of certain farms. Of the farmers present four opposed the alteration. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., for the latter, held that the commission had no jurisdiction, this being simply a power line. The commission, after hearing both sides, reserved the question of jurisdiction of the C.P.R., for an order permitting the construction of the track, and the crossing several streets along the Toronto water front, east, was then heard. The James Bay railway opposed, as did the city, in this connection the commission decided to take up the whole question of the entrance of the James Bay road this afternoon.

William Lee, eighty years of age, who lived with his wife and two daughters, on the outskirts of Toronto, was found dead in bed, this morning, having been asphyxiated by coal gas. Mrs. Lee and one of her daughters are in a very serious condition.

Dominico Taberinto, the Italian, who is on trial at the assizes, charged with the murder of Amos Marlow, Mimico, was heard this morning. He contradicted the statements of several follow-Italians, to the effect that he had a knife in his possession on the night of the murder. He said he had given his knife to Bruno's brother, who had carried it to the United States. Thomas Wace, a young Italian, swore that he had seen Taberinto cutting tobacco with a knife in the bar of the Windsor hotel a few minutes before the murder. James Chute will address the jury this afternoon.

TO KILL MONARCHS.—Anarchists Were Run Down at Madgeburg.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—The police have discovered an anarchist conspiracy to assassinate King Alfonso of Spain and Kaiser Wilhelm, when their majesties visit Madgeburg, together, on Thursday, to inspect the German Regiment of March. The king is honorary colonel. Three Spanish anarchists have been arrested at Madgeburg, where they were making preparations to murder both monarchs with one bomb.

Irving's Absent-Mindedness. Like many other men of genius, Sir Henry had sudden surges of absent-mindedness, which means, says Marshall P. Wilder, the popular American entertainer and lecturer, in his book, "The Sunny Side of the Street," that his mind is for a quarter of an hour and unavoidable. The field was in good shape and there was no outside interference. "When we are treated well," he said, "I like to acknowledge it and we were in Ottawa."

W. W. Gibson, to-day, received official notification regarding the twentieth semi-annual examinations at the Ontario School of Pharmacy, Toronto, which will be held December 11th, and following days. Mr. Gibson is executive in practical pharmacy.

The grand president and board of trustees of the C.M.B.A., for Canada, are in session, here, this afternoon. "Cent" high red castile soap on sale at Gibson's Red Cross drug store.

FASHION'S FORM. A Simple Dressing Sacque of Pleasing Design.

Pale pink-henrietta is a satisfactory material for a dainty dressing sacque that shall be light in weight, and yet of sufficient warmth for the coming cold weather. Such a one is pictured here; and its practical possibilities are apparent at a glance. The sacque is laid in pleats in the centre back, and at either side of the front, fastening, the pleats stitched down for a short distance, and then well pressed to the hem. The side seams flare widely, and a round, deep collar makes the finish at the neck. The sleeves follow the loose pagoda design, and may be banded in at the cuff, should personal preference so dictate. A Persian banding follows the hem of the garment all around, appearing likewise on sleeve and collar.

SHOCK DETHRONES REASON. Loses Life in Attempt to Find Remedy.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 7.—Anthony Moore, aged thirty-five years, after being put into a seemingly comatose condition, was later removed to the Reed's Lake Sanitarium, where he died under circumstances so peculiar that Coroner Levy will hold a post-mortem examination. Moore was a stonemason and was employed at the time of his death in a machine exhibit.

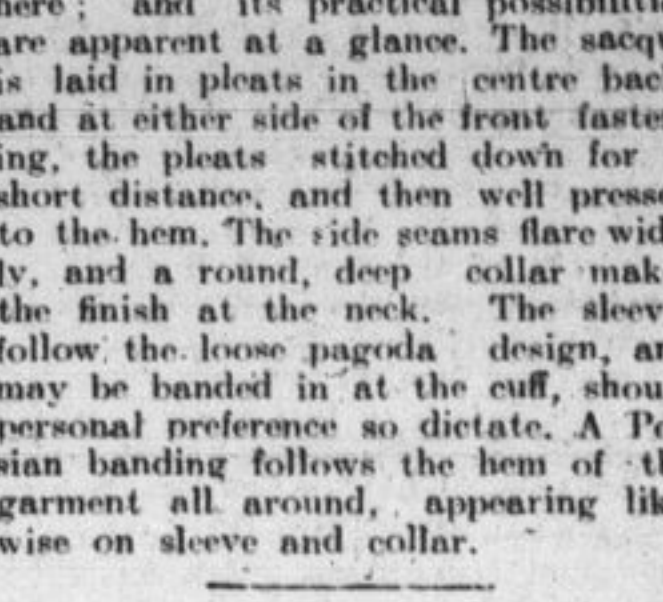

The attendant gave him a chair and took off his shoes. He took one or two slight shocks.

The next his friends heard of him he had been lodged in the county jail as demented.

Cave Discovery In Kentucky. Glasgow Junction, Ky., Nov. 7.—While investigating the geological formation of this district of Barren county, Dr. Hanson and John Thompson found evidence of the existence of a large cave or subterranean passage. With great caution the two explorers penetrated into the cave. They found it to be of enormous size and ramifying in different directions. They explored one branch to a distance of about thirty miles, when further progress was stopped by a wide and flowing river. As their lights were insufficient to reach to the other side of the river, they were not able to judge of its exact width. They returned to this place and obtained material for building a boat or raft, with which they will make an effort to cross the river and explore the cave on the other side. It is believed that the new cave is larger and more beautiful even than Mammoth Cave.

THROWING LIGHT ON THE SUBJECT OF HOME DYEING.

Home dyeing is a fascinating and money-saving work when Diamond Dyes are used. Home coloring has an attraction for ladies in all ranks of society, and the wonderful results achieved by the Diamond Dyes for women, have made them the popular dyes in all parts of the world.

One ten cent package of the Diamond Dyes will do the same work that a steam-dyeing establishment charges one dollar for.

All faded and dingy looking dresses, skirts, suits, blouses, jackets, ribbons, stockings, coats, vests and trousers, can be re-colored in the home and made to look as good as new, at a cost from ten to twenty cents, when the new-fading Diamond Dyes are used.

It is well to bear in mind that guaranteed when Diamond Dyes are used. Have a care that you do not buy the worthless imitation run by some dealers. Refuse such deceptive dyes if you would avoid trouble and loss of money and temper. Ask for the Diamond Dyes; refuse all others that may be offered to you.
