The Election Laws Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

The Kingston election is to be voided, whatever else may happen. It was proven that an agent of the member hired a team for use on election day and for that reason Mr. Pense must vacate the seat. It is probable that a majority of the elections held in this country could be voided for a similar reason. The hiring of teams for conveying a voter to the polls, is not a very heinous offence against the moral law, and the law against it does not appeal very strongly to the public conscience. What public morality there is would survive if the law were re pealed. A law that nobody respects is not of very much value.
