THE OLDEST HOUSE IN AMERICA, IS SAID TO BE IN SANTA FE.

The Population is Mixed, Mexicans, Bright-Blanketed Indians, mingle with the White's—a Most Interesting Letter. Santa Fe, N.M., Nov. 14.—(To the Editor): My pilgrimage over the lines of the Denver, Ohio, Grand railway brought me here to the oldest city in the United States, Santa Fe, "City of the Holy Faith," in English, where the oldest house and the oldest church in the States is said to be. The church was built in 1555, or about twenty years after Columbus discovered America, and still standing, and the house also. Both are built of adobe, sun dried clay, which in this country of little or no rain lasts for ages. I wish I could draw you a picture of the quaint old city and its equally quaint inhabitants. There is an exceedingly mixed population, for not only is the majority of the Mexican race, the business portion largely American, and the Indian strolling round, in all the glory of their brightest blankets, dyes can produce, but health seekers from many lands add to the variety. Amongst the professional men (Canada is well represented by Dr. Massey, formerly of Toronto, who has an excellent practice here. He is a son of the late warden of the Toronto reformatory, and with his widowed mother, and a sister most hospitably represents Canada, and entertains the "Canuck stranger" within Santa Fe's gates, as I can gratefully testify. The principal or business part of the town is built around the plaza or large square. It is a beautiful park, filled with trees. In the centre is a statue to the heroes who fell in some of the savage Indian battles, and to heroes in various battles of the late civil war. Here, on Sunday afternoon the crowd, men, women and children meet to listen to the music of a fine band, and while the many seats are filled with a gaily dressed crowd, a still larger crowd promenades the four sides of the square. Another large crowd, some on horse back, both men and women riding astride, more in rags of old description from Governor Otero and his beautiful wife in an up-to-date automobile, to the humblest Mexican two-wheeled go-cart, went out about nine miles to an Indian village, where one of their sacred dances was being given. I claim no credit for my good Sabbath observance in not going out also as I only learnt of it when too late.

The Indians are a harmless and rather effeminate looking lot, but dressed in all the colors of the rainbow. There is a large government Indian school here, and I noticed in the Presbyterian church here yesterday, quite a number of them in attendance, and one young girl was admitted to membership on profession of her faith. The Mexicans, on the average, are a rather uninteresting lot, dark-skinned, black haired, black eyed and sinewy, they look rather like a depressed race. Possibly the fact that they are not held in great esteem by their American neighbors is giving many of them a sort of fugitive look. They are Roman Catholics, and very devout, I should judge by the crowds going to church at their various services. The cathedral is a very fine building, and there are many convents and schools all over the city. What interests me most after the people is their queer, ornate houses, and in the town, built for several families. All are one storey, built of adobe, and the roof the same, with gutters to run off the rain, which seldom falls, or melted snow, which is more frequent. And the next is the burros. They are as numerous as dogs in Kingston, and seem as happy as they are certainly a healthy lot. I think they have the "run of the house" in most establishments where they belong, and to see them come into town with a load of wood piled high over their backs, and jogging along at their ease, would give one an idea of their usefulness and strength.

As I said people come here to seek health, and many come to stay, and go into business, whilst many more start the quest too late, and death comes here, as well as to the east. And by the way just where east is, has given me some amusement to find out. To the very common question, "Are you from the east?" I reply "where do you mean by the east, and you really get answer, Kansas City, or some place in Kansas, Texas or Missouri. And when I tell them from Kingston, Ont., Canada, they seem to never have known there was a world east of the Missouri river."

BAD KIDNEYS Can Only Be Cured Through the Blood.

Bad backs—aching backs—come from bad kidneys. Bad kidneys come from bad blood. Bad blood, through the kidneys with poisonous impurities that breed deadly diseases. And the first sign of that fatal trouble is a dull, dragging pain in the back. Neglect it, and you will soon have the coated tongue, the pasty skin, the peevish temper, the swollen ankles, the dark-rimmed eyes, and all the other signs of deadly kidney disease. Plaster and liniments can never cure you. Kidney pills and backache pills only touch the symptoms—they do not cure. You must get right down to the root and cause of the trouble in the blood—and no medicine in the world can do this so surely as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because they actually make new blood. This strong, rich, new blood sweeps the kidneys clean, drives out the poisonous acids, and heals the deadly inflammation. That is the only way to rid yourself of your backache and have strong, sound kidneys. Mrs. Paul St. Onge, wife of a well-known contractor at St. Alexis de Monts, Que., says: "I suffered for upwards of six years from kidney trouble. I had dull, aching pains across the loins, and at times could hardly go about. I lost flesh, had dark rings below my eyes, and grew more wretched every day. I was treated by different doctors, but with no apparent result. I despaired of regaining my health, and was becoming a burden to my family. I was in a deplorable condition when one of my friends advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began taking them, and after using three or four boxes, I began to feel better. I continued the treatment for nearly three months, when every symptom of the trouble vanished and I was again a well woman. I feel justified in saying I believe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my life."

New blood—strong, pure, rich blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make, cures not only kidney trouble but a host of other ailments, such as anaemia, indigestion, rheumatism, erysipelas, St. Vitus' dance, locomotor ataxia, paralysis, and the worst ailments women do not like to talk about, even to their doctor. But only the genuine pills can bring health and strength, and these have the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" printed on the wrapper around each box. If your dealer does not keep the genuine pills you can get them by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50, by writing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
