London, Nov. 29.-The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says Cardinal Wolsey, died, 1530; Polish that the government has decided to suppress the revolt at Sebastopol, The mutineers were given until last night to surrender. Meanwhile, a state of siege was proclaimed, and unless contrary to all expectations the insurgents give way, Gen. Neplinoff, who has been appointed commander-inchief, will have to give battle to-day. Judging from the information available here, the issue will not be favorable to the government. The mutineers hold all but two of the forts, and the best part of the squadron, which refused to obey orders to put to sea. It is the evident desire of the mutineers to preserve an outward semblance of respect for the imperial family. This is attributed here to the crafty counsels of their revolutionary friends.
