A SERIOUS MUTINY

HAS BROKEN OUT IN ST. PETERSBURG.

Four Regiments Assume Working-men of Their Help—Fresh Massacre of Jews, Incited by Priest—600 Lost Their Lives.
St. Petersburg, Dec. 14.—A mutiny has broken out among the soldiers in the city, although it is impossible to tell how serious it is. Four regiments have joined in a notice sent to the workmen in which they say: "You do not need to fear the bureaucracy any longer. We are with you, and are resolved to annihilate all reactionaries. If we are ordered to fire on you, we will not obey. We will not spare our cartridges, but they will not be directed against you."
More Jewish Massacres.
St. Petersburg, Dec. 14, via Eydtkuhnen, Dec. 14.—The report of fresh massacre of Jews, in which more than 500 persons lost their lives, was received this morning, from Turask, Volynia. The massacre was incited by a local priest, who called on the Christian population to rise and exterminate the Jews. A mob formed and attacked all the Jewish shops, killing and abusing all Jews who fell into its hands.
Following the massacre, the priest who incited the outrage, preached a sermon, in which he preached the awful deed. The local ecclesiastical authorities ordered that his sermon should be printed, and distributed, broadcast, throughout the country.

Scott Government Sustained.

The Saskatchewan Elections Have Resulted in the Endorsement of the Scott Government.

So far the record shows the election of fourteen liberals and eleven conservatives, and some of the seats are in doubt. The result may eventually be more favorable to the government.
It was a bitter campaign which preceded the polling. Federal, provincial, racial and religious issues were mixed up indiscriminately, until it was difficult to tell what the people were voting for.
There appears to have been one clear vote all through the election, and it was a call to defend the government of Hon. Mr. Scott and give it a trial.
Mr. Haultain did what he could to confuse the electors, and towards the close of the contest, Archbishop Langriva went to his aid by spreading broadcast a creed that was calculated to excite the Catholic people.
Despite all this tumult the people generally seem to have kept tolerably cool and to have exercised the franchise aright.
Mr. Scott will do good service for the province, and he has a sufficient backing to give effect to his leadership, provided it be wise.

ALL POOL SELLING

FORBIDDEN, BY THE WAYNE, COUNTY ATTORNEY.

Mr. Hunt Calls on Authorities to Force Book-Makers Off the Tracks—Bitter Denunciation of Graft in High Life.
Windsor, Ont., Dec. 14.—In an address, last night, upon the subject of "Graft in Public Life," before the Windsor Literary and Scientific Association, F. Hunt, prosecuting attorney of Wayne county, Mich., which Detroit is a part, made his first announcement of his intention not to permit pool-selling in connection with horse racing in Detroit hereafter. He said that if pool-selling was attempted, he would take immediate steps to stop it; Mr. Hunt called upon the authorities to force the bookmakers off the local tracks. He declared that the syndicate book was a graft that has the insurance companies' graft distanced.
During his address Mr. Hunt bitterly denounced grafters in high life, and did not hesitate to name prominent citizens of the United States, among them Chauncey Depew, James M. Boston, who, he said, should be behind prison bars, instead of enjoying their present positions. He compared the plumbers of the investigation of Toronto break up a similar, own attempt to combine a year ago, in Detroit, when the combine fought through the supreme court, and won out, the court even throwing all costs upon the people.

Convert Society.
Torrey Plans Revival For New York.
New York, Dec. 14.—It is wrong to suppose that the wealthy and the middle class of New York are beyond redemption. Fifth avenue is just as accessible to the religion of Jesus as Piccadilly and Park Lane proved to be in London. What New York society needs is a great revival in its midst.
Thus spoke Rev. Reuben A. Torrey, the evangelist who has just returned to America after converting many of England's nobility and London's smart set from the error of their frivolous and often scandalous ways.
"The fashionable and the rich are very selfish," Dr. Torrey declared. "They are just as great sinners as the poor."
The stylishly attired society woman on Fifth avenue is just as much in need of religion as the bedraggled woman on the Bowery.
The evangelist's eyes beamed with enthusiasm as he spoke of the opportunities for a great awakening and revival in New York.
"First I am going to convert the wealthy and the poor of Montreal; then I shall open a monstrous campaign of religion in Philadelphia. Later I hope to come to the metropolis."
Regarding Rev. Mr. Torrey's campaign among the fashionable set of London, W. T. Stead said:
"The west end of London is the most ungodly place on earth. The rich are the most indifferent to religion. They have too good a time of it in this world to worry about the next. In fact, they are just as much as the poor."
But before he's through it's even possible that his gracious majesty King Edward may abandon bridge and horse racing and become converted.

More than 17,000 were converted in London during the revival held in Albert Hall, which accommodated 12,000 people. Lords and ladies gave up their butterfly existence and worked in the slums.
"No arrangements have been made as yet for our appearance in New York," Dr. Torrey said. "We shall remain one month in Canada, then move to Philadelphia, where we shall spend two months. No hall has been obtained there yet large enough to hold the crowds we anticipate. The Quaker City is just now ready for a wonderful religious awakening."
One thing is certain, Dr. Torrey will not accept "tainted money." "I would not use money that was dishonestly earned under any consideration," he declared. "I do not believe God would bless it."

The County Court.
At 2.30 o'clock, this afternoon the jury returned a verdict in the case of corporation of the city of Pittsburg vs. J. A. Wilmot. They were unanimous in a verdict for the plaintiff for $168.05 and costs. They expressed their opinion that the entry of the cheque for $168.05 in the treasurer's cash book was an error on his part and that it was the same as the two orders in favor of Barrett Bros. and case G. J. Hutton vs. Kingston & Pembroke, R.R. Co., is now going on.

It is reported that all the departments of the C.P.R. operating between Fort William and St. John, will ask for a substantial increase of wages and revision of the hours of labor.
St. Luke's cathedral, Halifax, was burned on Wednesday. The hall was saved. Rev. E. P. Crawford is rector. The insurance was $20,000. It was of incendiary origin.
