NOMINATIONS

The Candidates For The Mayoralty.

THE CITY HALL EVENT

THE ADDRESSES MADE BY MOWAT AND KING.

The Meeting Was Decidedly Lively—The Race For The Prize Will Be Keen—The Aldermanic Contests—School Trustees Selected.

The nominations for the mayoralty took place in the city hall, this morning, City Clerk Shannon declaring the meeting open for nominations at ten o'clock, when there were four persons in the hall. Two nominations were later on made, Ald. Francis King, barrister-at-law, was proposed by Ald. Rigney and seconded by ex-Ald. McCartney. Ald. John McDonald, barrister-at-law, was proposed by Ald. Mowat and seconded by Ald. Behan. Before the nominations the two candidates met in the hall and engaged in a friendly talk. It was agreed that Ald. King would speak for thirty minutes, Ald. Mowat for ten minutes, and Ald. King to reply for ten minutes.

In proposing Ald. King, Ald. Rigney said that in this instance the electors had before them two citizens, either of whom would represent the city creditably as mayor. In the past there had been men chosen who were not fitted for the position. Ald. Rigney said that Ald. King had earned the respect and confidence of the city council during the past two years, especially. For five years he had served as an alderman. Upon Ald. King's record as an alderman and a business man, the speaker appealed for the support of the electors. In supporting Ald. King's nomination, ex-Ald. McCartney said that five years' work in the council fitted Ald. King for mayor. He defended Ald. King's stand on the street railway question.

Ald. Mowat nominated Ald. Mowat. He came not to discuss the matter in a political or personal sense. After seven years in the council and now being about to retire, he longed for a city council in which politics would be eliminated. He thought the time would come when the citizens would elect a man who would select his business men to be their representatives. (Applause.) In 1903 he and Ald. Mowat were in the city council for the first time. Both then were in opposition, and he had little work to do. Ald. Mowat had some work to do, and the insurance question was the first big matter for consideration. Then there was the consolidation of offices, and Ald. Mowat was on the special committee to do with that matter. At this juncture, the city clerk closed the nominations. On motion of Ald. King, seconded by Ald. Mowat, a motion was called upon to preside, and took the chair amid warm applause.

Continuing, Ald. Mowat spoke about the good results from the amalgamation of the city money offices. At present only $2,000 of the $80,000 are retained unpaid. Ald. Mowat was also on the committee of 1901 which took over the light plant and was one of those who inaugurated the reforms. He regretted that the reforms were not continued on the committee to the plant. Ald. Mowat also served on the water works committee. Ald. Mowat has been one of those inaugurating civic reforms for the past two years, he is entitled to the consideration of the people. This year he has done more than any other. This was due largely to the fact that the council of 1904 had appointed a permanent auditor. Ald. Mowat is a worker in the council. Hence the people have a man who, after moving his interests, and, therefore, desired all important matters involving expenditure of large sums of money to be submitted to the people's vote. Ald. Mowat would be no man's man, he would stand in the people's interests, and the citizens would do well to have him as their mayor. (Applause.) Ex-Alderman Behan in seconding the nomination said that Ald. Mowat would make a worthy mayor. The speaker was glad that in this contest only the municipal issues were to be discussed by the candidates, and that personalities should cease. He was glad to see that politics to a large extent were to be dropped in this contest. Kingston wanted a council composed of men who would conduct the affairs of the city in a business-like way. Both candidates, personally, stood above reproach. The name of Mowat was known all over Canada. It was the father of the present Ald. Mowat, who gave the speaker, Mr. Behan, the first step towards him in Kingston, and hence it was a pleasure to support the nomination of the son. Ald. Mowat was a man of integrity. Mr. Behan congratulated Ald. Mowat upon his stand in supporting the reforms of his government to the people. He criticized the present light committee for its neglect in not submitting to the people a by-law for extension, so that more of the people could get light in their homes. Ald. Mowat was to be admired for his stand on the street railway question, in asserting the rights of the people to vote on that big question. It would be his duty to support the city. Kingston to elect Ald. Mowat as mayor, Mr. Behan declared in closing.

Ald. King's Address.
Ald. King, in beginning his address, told of an introduction to a citizen, a few days ago. Asking him if he would vote for him the gentleman replied: "I cannot vote for a thief and a liar." (Questioning him Ald. King said he found water in his glass, his informant concerning him. "I found," said Ald. King, "that he had been reading nothing but the Whig." "Hurrah," shouted some one in the hall. Some electors, Ald. King declared, were not able to fathom the real antipathy to him in the present election. However, the Whig could not fool all the people, all the time (laughter). He was satisfied with the jury that was to try him, and he hoped the verdict would be in accordance with the facts. The speaker then dealt with the facts as he put it. He said he was the senior alderman of the council, having served five straight years, and on practically every committee of the council, and been chairman of five. Ald. Mowat had served but three years in the council, and had been on only one of the most important committees of the council, the street railway committee that the speaker had been reluctant to trust. Ald. King said he couldn't see why he shouldn't have some claim upon the people at this time. He then spoke of the fact that Ald. Mowat had prepared a by-law for $150,000 for submission to the people, without proper knowledge of the conditions of the plan. This year's committee had put up eighty-five additional lights. The council had not added $150,000 to the city's debt, but only $20,000. He gave instances of reduction made in the plant's rates for light and fuel. The surplus has risen from $7,000 last year to $17,000 this year; wiped out debt to city, and the bank overdraft is, likely to be covered by the receipt of the winter quarter. They have paved the way for next year's committee.

ONLY A FEW

From The Various Trades Go On Strike.

MOSCOW AND ODESSA

SAID TO BE LIKE CITIES OF MOURNING.

Czar Definitely Refuses Universal Suffrage—Business Goes on, in St. Petersburg—Britain and Germany Will Not Send Warships to Russia.

London, Dec. 22.—Only the most meagre accounts of the initiation of the strike in Russia, have been received here. The Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent says that public opinion continues opposed to strike, and this fact is likely to be manifested in riots and massacres by those adversely affected. The attitude of large sections of the workers has not been learned. The railway men, telegraph and postal employees, the trades professions and industries alike, were commanded to cease work, but would appear, when the latest despatches were sent, that only a comparatively small proportion complied.

Business Goes On.
St. Petersburg, Dec. 22.—The banks and shops were open, car running, and electric lights burning. Several mills had ceased work, but these have fluctuated between activity and idleness since January 22nd. It is impossible yet to state the extent of the strike upon the country generally, but Moscow and Odessa are said to be like cities of mourning. The civilians are remaining indoors, fearing to go out. The streets of St. Petersburg are filled with troops, especially those in the industrial sections. The railway stations are in possession of the military.

Refuses Universal Suffrage.
London, Dec. 22.—In a despatch dated December 20th, the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, says the czar has definitely refused to grant universal suffrage. After weeks of debate, to which the Zemoitvoists were invited, and at which some ardent conversions to universal suffrage were made, the final council assembled at the Tsar'selo, on Wednesday morning, all the members of the cabinet being present. Count Witte was among the chief speakers. A majority of the council voted, unhesitatingly, for universal suffrage, declaring that the country demanded it, and it would be very unwise to refuse. The cabinet, however, refused to grant the concession. The correspondent does not state the reasons for the refusal.

Won't Send Warships.
Paris, Dec. 22.—A Berlin despatch to the Belair says that after an exchange of views between the cabinets of London and Berlin, it has been decided not to send warships to Russian ports for the protection of foreigners. A British cruiser, Sapphire, instead of going to Riga, will await orders at Kiel.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.
Young Husband Kills Wife and Self in Buffalo.
Buffalo, N.Y., Dec. 21.—Driven to desperation by the refusal of his wife to live with him ever since the day they were married, William McCoy, 384 Swan street last night, talked with her for about fifteen minutes, and then fired four shots at her. Two of the shots went wild, but one bullet hit the woman near the heart, and another entered one of her lungs. Death followed in a few minutes. Without waiting to learn whether his wife's wounds were fatal, McCoy put a bullet into his own heart and fell dead. McCoy was twenty-three years old. His wife was three years younger. The couple were married two years ago last March. The young woman had refused to live with her husband from the day they were wedded for a reason which she had never communicated to anyone, so far as could be learned. McCoy fired five shots, including the one he sent into his own heart, but the lodging place of the fifth bullet could not be found. One imbedded itself in the wall.

Two Miles A Minute.
New York, Dec. 22.—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt has ordered a wonderful automobile for the Grand-Daytona Beach races, and expects to run it at a speed exceeding two miles a minute. The machine is being designed by Francis Ricardo, a French engineer, and when it is completed, Paul Sartori will run it. It will be propelled by an eight-cylinder motor, developing 250 horse-power and will weigh under the required weight limit of 2,200 pounds. Last year Mr. Vanderbilt's ninety horse-power Mercedes racing car made a disappointing showing at the Grand-Daytona races. This year the same car was entered in the Vanderbilt cup race, but an early accident kept it out of the contest. It is Mr. Vanderbilt's plan to run the fastest automobile in the world.

OLD TIME WILL.

Wife Survives All Heirs, and Causes Trouble.

Toronto, Dec. 22.—Joseph Myles, farmer of Burford township, Brnoe county, died in 1850, leaving a farm valued at $5,000, and some other assets. He willed the estate to his wife, on whose death it was to go to his brother and sisters seven in all, but the wife survived all these heirs, and now forty-four descendants, in Burford township, and other parts of Ontario and the United States, claim a share in the estate. Before Chief Justice Meredith, to-day, application was made by L. F. Heyd, K.C., on behalf of George Myles, one of the heirs, for administration of the estate. This was opposed by Frederick Myles, another relative, who wants the farm sold, and the proceeds divided equally among the heirs. Chief Justice Meredith enlarged the case till January 7th, on the understanding declared to his surrogate court at Brantford would deal with it in the meantime.

NEARLY ALL RAILWAYS.
Cease Operations—Many Strike Leaders Arrested.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 22.—Emperor Nicholas has sent to the nikaido regrets that it is impossible to begin negotiations over the treaty of commerce and friendship provided for in the Portsmouth treaty now, because of the internal troubles of the Russian empire. The czar hopes, however, to appoint commissioners next March. Nearly all railway lines ceased operations to-day, on account of the strike. The workmen are showing evidence of being wonderfully organized. The strike in St. Petersburg, numbers 300,000 men. Many of the strike leaders were arrested last night. A political strike has been declared to be waged, in common with the industrial strike inaugurated by the labor leaders. The workmen of two of three electric light plants struck yesterday evening, and consequently the streets in the major portion of the city were in darkness throughout the night.

THE BANK SALARY.
Insufficient to Keep Clerk Respectable.
Toronto, Dec. 22.—A rather unusual application was made before Chief Justice Meredith, in single court to-day. A Corlett, clerk in the Dominion Ion Bank at Fort William, asked the court to instruct the official guardian to advance him money out of $4,750, an estate to which he is entitled when he comes of age. He alleged that his salary from the bank was only $500 a year, which was insufficient to keep him respectable. Chief Justice Meredith suggested that Corlett ask the bank for an increase in salary, but Corlett replied that under the rules of the bank, he would not be entitled to an increase for two years. The court made an order allowing Corlett an interest on the estate until he is twenty-one years of age.

IN HAMILTON ASYLUM.
Things Are Not Quite Satisfactory.
Toronto, Dec. 22.—Hon. Mr. Hanns, provincial secretary, made the following statement, to-day, in regard to reports that Dr. Russell, superintendent of the Hamilton asylum, had been asked to resign: "It cannot be denied that there has been more or less bickering and friction at, and complaints from, the Hamilton asylum, during the past year, and for some time prior to this. E. E. Rogers has been asked to ascertain the cause of all these troubles, and to make a report. The inspector is giving the matter his best attention, at the present time. No concluding report of the government would be prepared to act has been reached."

Surplus From Winter Fair.
Toronto, Dec. 21.—It was announced at the agricultural department, to-day, that the receipts of the recent winter fair at Guelph, aggregated $2,105, compared with $1,843 last year, and $1,998 in 1903. There will be a surplus.
