RUSSIA'S SKY

Is Still Clouded By Gloom Of Anarchy.

A DAY'S ARMISTICE

ANNOUNCED BY THE REBELS IN MOSCOW.

Both Sides Exhausted—Ephiphany—May See Fresh Outbreaks—Riga at Mercy of Lithuanian Revolutionists—Grodno Recruits Revolt.

Moscow, Dec. 29.—The cannonading abated somewhat to-day. The revolutionaries are distributing leaflets, announcing a truce till to-morrow. All the members of the social revolutionary committee of Moscow were arrested, to-day, as were ten others. The council of workmen's delegates is discussing tonight the question of terminating the strike. The medical bureau has registered 105 killed and 650 wounded. One thousand unidentified bodies are lying in the mortuaries of the Lutchoff quarter.

No Ground For Confidence. London, Dec. 30.—The correspondents at St. Petersburg are stating that the revolution in Moscow has been checked. The streets are slowly assuming their normal appearance, but there are no present grounds for confidence, that the revolt is ended. The indications are of rather mutual exhaustion. The arrest of 200 members of the Russian Christmas, January 6th, or the anniversary of Red Sunday, January 22nd, will see the troubles renewed. Telegraphic and telephone communication between Moscow and St. Petersburg is still interrupted. A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph company, from St. Petersburg, says that the situation in Nijnin Novogorod is exceedingly grave. The rebels are using bombs freely, and the workmen at Gornovo are in readiness to march to Nijnin Novogorod. A council of workmen at Krasnoarsk, Siberia, are planning to seize the government institutions. The governor, owing to lack of troops, is unable to check the revolutionaries, who are now practically masters of the situation.

Riga is now at the mercy of the Lithuanian revolutionists. Many houses are ablaze here. At Grodno a large number of military recruits have mutinied. It is proposed to proclaim a general armed revolt throughout Poland, on Sunday.

The prisoners of St. Petersburg are full of rebels. Threats To Kill. St. Petersburg, Dec. 30.—The Molyva, formerly the Russ, says that revolutionaries who have held Zerkoff in the United States, have been posted. They have formed a local republican organization, and have the red flag flying over the government armory factory there. When the local authorities threatened to send Coslovsky to neighboring villages, the revolutionaries threatened to kill the officers of the factory.

Approaching Normal. St. Petersburg, Dec. 30.—Early advices from Moscow show that things are rapidly approaching normal. Many of the shops are opening. The street cars are running and builders are already at work, repairing the buildings which were damaged during the rioting.

To Make Tea Tablets. Washington, Dec. 30.—The latest novel experiment to be made by the United States department of agriculture is that of compressing tea into tablets, one of which will make a delicious cup of tea. As a result, what would ordinarily make a big package of tea can be put in a small space about the size of a safety match box. The tea is grown at the department's experimental tea gardens at Sumnerville, S.C. It has been the object of the department for some time to find means of providing food for the army and navy which could be prepared in such a way as to save space, but so far all attempts have proved unsatisfactory. It is now believed by the officials of this department that these tablets will fill, not only these requirements, but also those of general merchandise and family use.

Winter Term.

The winter term of the well-known and long established Kingston Business College, head of Queen street, begins on Tuesday, January 2nd, and already a large number of new students have made arrangements to enter on this date. This institution is doing superior work in the departments of business education and shorthand training, and is a safe school to patronize.

The vote will take place in Prince county, P.E.I., on February 1st, on the proposed repeal of the Scott Act, which the friends of prohibition wish to replace by what they regard as the more stringent local option law of the provincial legislature.

EXEMPTIONS

Prof. Carr Harris Writes About Them.

AND IN THEIR FAVOR

THE POLICY OR THE WISDOM OF EXEMPTION.

Stimulates the Extension of a City's Industries—Think the Plan Will Do Kingston Good—Do Not Check the Growth of Industries.

Kingston, Dec. 29.—(To the Editor): Regarding exempting the Locomotive works, tannery and hosiery works, I desire to draw attention to the fact that these pay taxes in the shape of the taxes paid by their workmen, in addition to the taxation made by the assessor upon their buildings and machines. For example, take the case of a man working in the locomotive works, he pays taxes on the house he lives in, not upon the provisions that he buys from his grocer. It is a clear fact that the manager of the locomotive works has to pay the workman enough wages to meet the man's living expenses, and these living expenses include the man's house tax and the extra charge in his provisions that his grocer must impose to let the grocer pay his own taxes. The buildings and machines of the locomotive company are only the tools with which the men work and to tax these buildings and machines is only taxing the tools of the workman. In brief, these works are only asking exemption from a double taxation. They are not asking exemption from the tax on their individual workmen. In the preceding I have only explained the necessity of this exemption asked for, but a few more additional words upon the policy or the wisdom of exemption may not be amiss. The effect of a policy of exemptions is to stimulate the extension of the industries of a city. Adding to the industries will add to the population and city treasury. Thus, the Locomotive works company pays (indirectly) the taxation of say 400 men and also pays direction tax upon its buildings and machines and if, in consequence, it doubles its men from 300 to 600, the result will be that it will consequently pay the indirect tax of a double amount of men and thus the city can not lose by exempting the Locomotive works from the tannery and hosiery works from the taxation of their buildings and machines.

My only object in writing you is that, as a property holder, I would like to see Kingston richer and more populous and the present system of taxation being imposed doubly upon the city's industries is having the effect of checking the city's progress.

R. CARR-HARRIS. Mrs. Fitz In South Dakota. Sioux Falls, S.D., Dec. 30.—Mrs. Robert Fitzsimmons, wife of the pugilist, arrived here on Monday, but her identity was not discovered until to-day. She has taken apartments at the Calumet hotel.

"I am simply here for a rest," said Mrs. Fitzsimmons, "I expect to reside in this state in future, and will study music preparatory to a professional career. All the mean things that have been said about me are untrue. I have nothing to say about my private affairs. This is nobody's business. I do not know about any legal tangles that may involve me or my friends other than those I have read in the newspapers, and they are far from true. I did not go to Europe last June, as reported."

It is said Mrs. Fitzsimmons has secured the services of a well-known firm of divorce lawyers, and there is no apparent object in her coming here other than to acquire a residence and then begin an action for divorce.

Relic Hunters Desecry Warship. Ottawa, Dec. 30.—Mr. Sims, engineer of the public works department, who was sent to Chatham to investigate the statement that Detroiters had arranged to raise and convey to Detroit three British vessels sunk in the Thames during the war of 1812, has returned in his report. He states that one of the vessels in question was raised by the city of Chatham, and placed in the park, but since July 1905 it was carried off by relic hunters. He recommends that measures be taken for the preservation of the remaining two ships, which are about seventy-five feet long and covered by about six feet of water. Public feeling in Chatham, he says, strongly favors the retention of the hulks for historical reasons.
