Started Stock-taking To-day

Our Annual Stocktaking, the most important event of all the year with as, was commenced this morning, and from now on bargains will be the only rule around this store. For, as has been our custom, the whole stock in each and every department must be reduced and sold out in the next two weeks, to a veritable shadow of what it once was. What we paid for the goods and what we expected to profit on them-we'll simply forget.

Many lines of Winter Goods will be placed on sale at what will be actually less than the wholesale cost of the same. The stock must go, and the space must be had. These will be the only thoughts in our minds.

Some

And of course we haven't neglected to accept the offering of a few special items at much below the regular. From these and certain positive reductions for stocktaking all over the store, we have the following Friday bargains to
