Is Sorry It Spoke
A feature of the government's record shows abandonment of many of the things which its members advocated while in opposition, including the Pet-typiece railway taxation bill, the abolition of the taxes on corporations, the cutting down of the succession duties one-half, the doubling up of the department of agriculture with some other department, doing away with the requirement that pulpwood cut on crown lands must be manufactured in the province, making Niagara power as free as air, and requiring that all convict-made goods should be labelled as such. These are only some of the things the Whitemites promised and are now willing to forget, and it will be seen that the list is quite a formidable one.

Evil Is Again Active.
The news from Philadelphia is disturbing. It shows that the men who were engaged in corruption in certain centres, who were supposed to be down and out as a political force, are as busy as ever.

Weaver and men who shared his idea in municipal reform triumphed in the city elections, and all over the state there seemed to be an awakening of the people.

There is, however, a new buzzing of the political bees at the primaries that precede the state conventions, and amid conflict and confusion there are disquieting rumours.

The civic reformers have become entangled in local meshes, and at the moment it is difficult to determine just what the effect will be.

Lionel Steffen, the journalist, is following the trail of the grafter. He has traced it through city and state to the fountain head of national life in Washington itself, and he is determined to learn all about it.

There is a wall of discontent in the American press. It arises from the coercive power that is being exercised by the machine in every walk of life, where political influence and preference may be recognized.

their duties properly; but no public official should be dismissed without due cause, and when changes are made a full and fair trial should invariably precede condemnation.

The Virtue Of Noise
Does an agreement to conduct a pure election contribute to its calmness? The question is pertinent because the outside papers are at a loss to account for the conditions of the local by-election.

The Toronto News has its own conclusions, and they are these: "It may be said that this halcyon calm detracts from the value of the experiment that is being made in the agreement to discourage corruption. No doubt it would be unwise to be lulled into false security if an election held under such favorable circumstances should be comparatively free from wrong doing."

Late Mr. Gildersteeve.
Charles F. Gildersteeve passed to his rest at an early hour this morning. The end came suddenly, though not unexpectedly. His case was serious from the beginning of his illness, and as it progressed complications set in and with fatal results.

The name of Gildersteeve stands for all that is honourable in public and private life. From the first one of the family there was inherited the enterprise that did not always mean advantage and profit to those behind it, but yet represented a spirit and an energy which were worthy of all admiration.

The sons of the great shipowner have served to their citizenship and have served the home of their choice with great loyalty and persistency. All of them have been in public life, have possessed the instinct for public service, and all of them have left their impress upon the pages of civic history.

Men die and disappear, but their works do follow them. Again and again something will happen to recall their self-sacrifices. Hence, though another of the Gildersteves has been removed from the field of activity, from the spheres in which he moved with an ever-widening respect and influence, he will not be forgotten. The historic marks and events of the city will keep alive a name and a memory that so many hold in high esteem.

Issue Of The Hour
About a year ago there was an election in connection with the Ontario parliament and it resulted in the defeat of the Ross government. The verdict of the people was accepted without question. The Ross government retired and gave place to the Whitney government which is now on trial.

The new administration has not had time to do much, but it has begun to make a record, and it can hardly be said to be free of errors and defects.

Now that it is dead the flood of denunciation has ceased. So it is time that some people realized that the electors are not concerned very much about the Ross government. It passed away early in 1905, and the people hear of it only as men with loose tongues, and loose morals trail through the country to tell of the great things they did to bring about its downfall.

Editorial Notes.
There is a hell, a real hell. So Dr. Torrey says. Who says there is not? Guelph is having its municipal books audited by a firm of chartered accountants from Toronto. This is a unique experience.

A clergyman in Toronto is authorized for the statement that that city is full of thieves. Must the reputation of "Toronto the good" suffer and go?

So it seems that the Whig sets the political pace in Kingston. The people are guided by what it says. It is so nice of the conservatives to say so.

The Toronto News, an independent conservative organ, says the year of conservative rule has been chiefly the development of the spoils system. To the victors belong the offices!

Mr. Ladd, the mysterious, is still at large in Montreal. When caught, as he will be eventually, and some of these days, he ought to be exhibited as the next curiosity at Kingston's political meetings.

"Deliberate liars" was what Mr. Ganey called the two eminent Canadian judges who tried his case. And D. M. McIntyre sat still and allowed this self-confessed bribe-taker to insult the judiciary of his native land.

The conservative press of England now bewails the rising representation of the labour party in the imperial parliament. It is simply shocking, to the average conservative, that a labour man should have political ambitions!

Ottawa's council has decided to take a plebiscite on the license question. Yes? It had better be careful. According to the opinion of one candidate for the mayoralty last year it is not only improper but illegal to consult the people.

A dead set was made by the tory party of England on John Burns, the labour leader, but he was re-elected for Battersea by an increased majority. The tory party everywhere has a supreme contempt for the working-men.

EVENTS AT QUEEN'S
THE DRAFT HAS BEEN PRACTICALLY ACCEPTED.

Great Not Coming for Theatre Night—The Pittsburg Trip May be Taken—The Latest in Athletic Circles at Queen's.
Manager "Dick" Mills, of Queen's Hockey Club, has completed all arrangements for the team going to Pittsburg should the members so desire. That point will be finally decided this evening. It is proposed to play two games in the Smoky City on the evenings of January 26th and 27th, against the Carnegie Institute and the School of Technology, seven.

The collegians would leave here on Thursday at noon and return Sunday night. All of the first team would be able to take the trip, except E. Sutherland, the cover-point, and Mills, the goal. These two players find it impossible to get away owing to the time required. It is just possible that the club may cancel the outing, as they do not wish to visit the scenes of former triumphs, and the city where Queen's introduced hockey into the United States, unless their strongest setpiece can be induced to get on the trip.

Theatre night at Queen's has been called off, as Greet and his company find it impossible to come on the evening of the 26th, as had been arranged. This gives the evening on which the theatrical dance which promises to be the social event of the college year.

It has been decided on the request of the track club to petition the senate of the university to change the annual holiday for field events from the first Wednesday in October to the second Wednesday of the same month.

The constitution of the Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Union was gone over by the executive committee and the executive of the different athletic clubs of the university and the draft practically agreed upon by McGill and Varsity has been accepted. A meeting will now be called on February 2nd, in Toronto for the closing of details and practically the formation of the union which is expected to do much for intercollegiate sport. At the initial meeting, Prof. Shortt and W. H. MacInnes will represent Queen's, the former being of the faculty, and the latter of the student body. It is suggested by Queen's that the union get in touch with like organizations in this and other countries, for the purpose of making some kind of reciprocity arrangements, but no affiliation will be agreed to that will in any way tie the hands of the new body.

The basketball club will visit Montreal along with the hockey club and the conclusions against McGill experts in that sport.

It has been definitely decided to run an excursion to Toronto on February 2nd, the occasion upon which Queen's hockey club go up to play against Varsity in the Queen city. A special will leave here ahead of the international limited, on Friday noon, the tickets will be good returning till Sunday night.

The next meeting in the intercollegiate debating union will be held in Montreal, some time in February, when Queen's and McGill will cross swords. The local university will be represented by Messrs. R. Byden and D. C. Ramsey, who have chosen the negative side in the following resolution: "That the time has come for substantial reduction in the Canadian tariff regulations."

At the last meeting of the athletic committee a resolution was passed favoring the withdrawal of the Canadian intercollegiate football union from the Canadian football union and leaving the playing of Dominion championship games to the discretion of the club winning the intercollegiate championship.

FROM GIRLHOOD TO WOMANHOOD
Mothers Should Watch the Development of Their Daughters—Interesting Experiences of Misses Borman and Mills.

Every mother possesses information which is of vital interest to her young daughter.

Too often this is never imparted or is withheld until serious harm has resulted to the growing girl through her ignorance of nature's mysterious and wonderful laws and penalties.

Girls' over-sensitiveness and modesty often puzzle their mothers and baffle physicians, as they so often withhold their confidence from their mothers and conceal the symptoms which ought to be told to their physician as this critical period.

When a girl's thoughts become sluggish, with headache, dizziness or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude; when she is a mystery to herself and friends, her mother should come to her aid, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will at this time prepare the system for the coming change, and start the menstrual period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

Hundreds of letters from young girls and from mothers, expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them, have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., at Lynn, Mass.

Miss Mills has written the two following letters to Mrs. Pinkham, which will be read with interest:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (First Letter)
"I am but fifteen years of age, am depressed, have dizzy spells, chills, headache and back-ache, and as I have heard that you can give helpful advice to girls in my condition, I am writing you."—Myrtle Mills, Oquawika, Ill.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (Second Letter)
"It is with the feeling of utmost gratitude that I write to you to tell you what your valuable medicine has done for me. When I wrote you in regard to my condition I had consulted several doctors, but they failed to understand my case and I did not receive any benefit from their treatment. I followed your advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now healthy and well, and all the distressing symptoms which I had at that time have disappeared."—Myrtle Mills, Oquawika, Ill.

Miss Matilda Borman writes Mrs. Pinkham as follows:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my months were irregular and painful, and I always had such dreadful headaches."
"But since taking the Compound my head aches have entirely left me, my months are regular, and I am getting strong and well. I am telling all my girl friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Matilda Borman, Farmington, Iowa.

If you know of any young girl who is sick and needs motherly advice, ask her to address Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and tell her every detail of her symptoms, and to keep nothing back. She will receive advice absolutely free, from a source that has no rival in the experience of women's ills, and it will, if followed, put her on the right road to a strong, healthy and happy womanhood.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of cures of female ills of any medicine that the world has ever known. Why don't you try it?
