A WOMAN'S BACK IS THE MAINSPRING OF HER PHYSICAL

SYSTEM. The Slightest Back-Liable to Cause Years of Terrible

No woman can be strong and healthy unless the kidneys are well, and regular in their action. When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to have filtered out of the blood are left in the system.

The female constitution is naturally more subject to kidney disease than a man's; and what is more, a women's work is never done-her whole life is one con-

How many women have you heard say: 'My, how my back aches!" Do you know that backache is one of the first signs of kidney trouble? It is, and should be attended to immediately. Other symptoms are frequent thirst, scanty, thick, cloudy or highly colored urine, burning sensation ing under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, floating specks before the eyes, etc. These symptoms if not taken in time and cured at once, will cause years of terrible kidney suffering. All these symptoms, and in fact, these diseases may be cared by the

THE SIKH BROTHERHOOD.

Having to Oppose Force With Force It Has Developed Into the Finest

Fighting Race In India. The visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales to Amritsar, the capital of the Sikhs, has led to the digging up of much Sikh lore. The Times says: Amritsar makes another and stronger claim than that of mere picturesque interest upon the Heir Apparent to the British Crown. It is the sacred city of a people who, alone among the peoples of India, have come to look upon British rule as the fulfilment of prophecy foreshadowed more than two centuries the first. ago by one of their inspired leaders. The Sikh brotherhood, which ulti-Rev. Dr. McMullen has retired from | dia, had its origin in a movement of

Just about the time when Luther was raising the standard of revolt in Europe a holy man known us Baba Nanak, the first guru, or spirbegan to preach in the Punjab denounce ing the idolatrous superstitions of the Hindu priestcraft, the greed and bigotry of the Brahmins, and the fictitious restriction of caste. The seclusion of women, female infanticide, and the living cremation of widows were as abhorrent to Nanak as the mendicancy and asceticism of the sanyasis.

There are passages in the Sikh scriptures which recall not only the spirit,

but almost the words, of Christ's own The Northern Navigation company teachings, "Worship the Lord, take pity Know God thyself, and cause others to Dr. J. W. Shaw, Lansdowne, was in the steamer City of Windsor, for know Him. Thus shalt thou become a partner in Heaven." "Impurity of the heart is greed, impurity of the tongue is falschood, impurity of the eyes -is lustfulness, impurity of the ears is listening to slander. Pure are those who is to return good only for good, but the holy man returneth good for evil." Gradually, however, as the Sikh brotherhod grew in numbers and influence, it aroused the jealousy and suspicion of the worldly powers, and itself learnt in turn that self-preservation required force to be opposed by force. Especially, under the fanatical rule of the Emparor Aurangzeb, the courier, just arrived from Cumberland | hand of the Mogula was heavy upon Lake, reports a serious accrient which | the Sikhs, but they had sworn loyalty to his great forebear Akbar, and to It appears that an old cannon used | release them from the obligations of that oath the sacrifice of a life was

According to Sikh tradition, it was his own fondly-loved son Govind, a child of tender years, who pointed to his father Guru Tek Bahadur, the ninth in succession to Nanak, the therny path of duty. Guru Tek Bahadur delivered himself up to Aurangzeb at Deihi, where bribes and torture were equally vainly employed to induce him to accept Islam. One day he was brought up before his persecutor on the frivolous charge of having turned his eyes up to the latticed windows of the Imperial zenana. It was then that the Guru replied in prophetic words "My eyes gazed not, O Emperor, upon thy private apartments or upon thy Queens, but far beyond them into the west upon the fair-haired hosts who shall come from beyond the seas to tear down thy purdahs and destroy thy

Many decades were to pass, and the Sikh Confederacy, after establishing its Sikh Confederacy, after establishing its own power at Lahore on the ruins of January the Mogul Empire, was to be shattered in turn by British arms on more than one stricken field before they interpreted the meaning of Tek Bahadur's prophecy. Now, however, it has store at become almost part of their creed, and one of the most striking instances at the Delhi Durbar of 1903 was the solemn gathering of the Sikh chiefs at the shrine which commemorates Tek Bahadur's martyrdom, where on the anniversary of his death they renewed in each other's presence their vows of fealty to the King-Emperor beyond the western seas. Upon none is the their children in white during the cold sanctity of such vows more binding ly inculcated upon them by their religlous teachers.
