OFTEN THE BEST PART OF LIFE

Help for Women Passing Through Change of Life

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfil our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Mrs. M. J. Dabruzzi

Nervous exhaustion invites disease.

When everything becomes a burden, and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the mere suggestion, and you cannot bear to be around people, then you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once!

To build up women's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Here is an illustration.

Mrs. M. J. Dabruzzi, of 100 Main St., Winnipeg, Manitoba, writes:

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a blessing to me through that delicate period known as the change of life. For six years it disturbed my entire system. I had fits, was extremely nervous, became pale and debilitated, very irregular in the monthly flow, and the blood all seemed to be in my head. I had frequent palpitation and throbbing of the heart, in fact, my whole system seemed to be in disorder.

"I received no relief from the suffering incident to this period until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary J. Dabruzzi, of 100 Main St., Winnipeg, Manitoba, writes:

"Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick and ailing women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service, free of cost."

Montreal to-day. Mrs. Grant Macdonald went up to Toronto, to-day.

Miss Dorothy Cross was expected down, to-day, from Toronto, to visit Mrs. Burton Smith.

Miss Grace Worrell is now in Moncton visiting her aunt, Mrs. Whitehead, and she will come up here later, where she may be sure everybody will be glad to see her.

Mrs. W. T. Miller returned to Toronto, to-day.

An Ottawa paper tells us that Miss Vera Toller, Miss Mary Fitzpatrick, Miss Pansy Mills, Miss Dorothy Cotter, and Miss Gladys Irwin, are coming up for the dance at the R.M.C. next week.

This morning's Hamilton Herald contains a pretty cut of Miss Jessie Gartshore, at whose marriage Miss Beatrice Tandy was guest of honor.

Lieutenant-Colonel Victor Rivers has had yielded up some fine plans to help adorn the drawing room, and pink carnations were the flowers used.

Very enjoyable part of the afternoon was the playing of the orchestra, the strains floating out, now bright and enlivening, now soft and low. Many an appreciative word has been spoken of this feature of the R.M.C. In the drawing room, helping his sister look after people, was Miss May Ford, who ushered the visitors into the dining room. Mr. W. G. Angus, who had dinner and coffee. Here a mahogany dining table reflected in its polished surface the lights from unshaded candles, in silver candle sticks and made an admirable foil for the lace centre, and many lace doilies thereon; and for the white carnations and greenery, that filled the vases upon it. At a separate table Miss Maude Charlton, second daughter of the Hon. W. A. Charlton, to Mr. John J. Gibson, of Barrie. The marriage will take place in April.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Baldwin, Brooklyn, N.Y., for the marriage of their daughter, Laura, to Dr. Edward James Cochran, of Toronto, on Saturday, March 12.

The engagement was announced by Miss Katie Murray, Miss Minnie and Miss Edith, Misses Katie

Miss Florence Cunningham, Miss H. Braden, and the two younger daughters of the house, Miss Eva and Miss Mabel, with Miss Mumie Anglin to keep them company.

On Tuesday evening about forty young people were asked to a dance, to round out the day, and they enjoyed themselves heartily. Two or three of Mr. Richardson's most friends whom he had asked for a quiet game of whist, also enjoyed themselves, so that the Richardson household succeeded on Tuesday, in giving a great many people much pleasure. They do say that one of the greatest helpers in the day's enjoyment, was little Master Jack, the admired and petted of all.

A pleasant afternoon, with the long eod nor wind, and the cold, and a fair sky, made people think with pleasure of the walk to Mrs. Adam Short's, yesterday, and the same north wind, and the same winter weather made the same people very glad of the cosy house and the bright fires which added their welcome to the cordial one of Professor and Mrs. Short, whose hospitality is always so delightfully simple and genuine. Mrs. Daniel Gordon, and Mrs. J. C. Dalton poured tea and coffee at the table, whereas a large mirror reflected golden daffodils and their green spikes, the lovely flowers which speak of spring. Miss Katie Gordon was often seen, a ten-year-old girl, in her room, in reality merely honorary command of the forces of young men. Professor Short's own students, who were the reason for the function's being, the ten was pleasantly reminiscent of the Glee Club concert, for Mr. McKee and Mr. McDonald sang their hunting duet, and then Mr. McKee was asked for "Ford of Kahab River," and sang it; playing his own accompaniment. A further request happily brought another song, Miss Gertrude Fortescue, and Miss Muriel King played early in the afternoon, and the ten was pleasantly reminiscent of the Glee Club concert, for Mr. McKee and Mr. McDonald sang their hunting duet, and then Mr. McKee was asked for "Ford of Kahab River," and sang it; playing his own accompaniment.
