Toronto, Feb. 2.-The following resolution was passed at the annual convention of the Canadian Press Association: "That this association endorses, most heartily, the work which he Canadian Associated Press is do ng in connection with its cable service, and expresses its approval of the character of the despatches which are being brought to this country, from England, by this agency. The service which is thus being rendered to Canada is one whose benefits are shared by the people generally, and must have a beneficial effect in cementing those sentimental ties beween the motherland and Canada, which are the enduring bonds o

"This association believes that the government of the dominion would be following a policy approved by the whole press of Canada, if it were to continue to encourage the Canadian Associated Press cable service upon the same basis of financial assistance as has for the past three years been "The association also feels that not

In this practical age there are people who are not glad to take advantage of the opportunity to add to their incomes should the occasion occur. And for persons who keep their eyes open there are many channels at the present day in which any man or woman may, if so inclined, turn their energies to profits. Perhaps one of the best of these lies in the securing of many kinds of antiques and art treasures in demand by collectors which are to be found in very large numbers all over the country if only one knows where to look for them, The most likely places of all where this kind of thing is to be found are in the out-of-the way villages, and it is no squabbl
