STOLE $13,800

And Was Arrested in Bristol, England.

KNOWN IN PICTON

When He Went to England Early Last Month—Was a South African Veteran and Wedded the Nurse Who Attended Him When Wounded.

Toronto, Feb. 5.—Christopher Holland, accountant of the Ideal Bedding company, of Jamieson avenue, Parkdale, has been arrested at Bristol, England, on a charge of stealing $13,800 from his employers, the Ideal Bedding company, of Jefferson avenue. Holland is a South African veteran and had been in the employ of the Ideal Bedding company about two years. He was a confidential book-keeper, and while he had not power of attorney, blank signed cheques were left with him. By this means he was enabled to secure the money. He lived in fairly good style at 9 Beatty avenue with his wife and child. When he left Toronto his wife was in Grace hospital. He did not go to see her and left his child with a neighbor, without giving any intimation that he was going out of town. During the past year he purchased $1,500 worth of jewelry from Rylie, which Mrs. Holland has turned over to the Ideal Bedding company.

Each bottle of this contains a coupon for which we send you a twenty-five cent package of "Celery King" but ourselves "Ozone" without "Celery King" if you want the best results. We are putting coupons in "Ozone" good for "Celery King" because no other dealer or firm in the world has the right to manufacture "Celery King" but ourselves and no other remedy in the world will give such good results. "Ozone" kills the inside germs and "Celery King" is a tonic laxative. Ask your druggist for "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" manufactured by the Public Drug company, Bridgeburg, Ont.

Holland came from Monkton, near Torrington, Devonshire. He is thirty-three years of age, a natty dresser, was never known to gamble, but he took kindly to wine at times. He left Toronto January 12th, and the detective department traced him to Montreal, where they found he had taken steamer for England. On January 17th the warrant was issued and Scotland Yard was immediately communicated with.

Well Thought Of in Picton.

A despatch from Picton says that residents there will find it hard to believe that Christopher Holland is guilty of the offence charged against him. While in the town he was in the office of W. Boulter & Sons, as book-keeper, having made the acquaintance of Mr. Boulter while coming across the ocean in the early part of 1899. In the fall he left with one of the Canadian contingents for South Africa, and was wounded at Paardeberg. He was invalided to England, and while there won the nurse who attended him for a while. He came back to Canada alone about 1901, but his wife soon joined him. For a time he remained in Picton, and then went to Toronto. He bore an excellent reputation in Picton.

When Holland left for England he was in very poor health. He had complained to neighbors that he had to go to the old country on business and was too ill to travel. In fact he thought that the sea trip would about finish him. The sale of the furnishings of the house on Beatty avenue was held a week ago Thursday, and many who attended were surprised at the non-appearance of Holland, who had promised to be there. Holland owed debts all over town. The Adams people were among the heaviest creditors for costly furniture, nearly all of which was bought on time. Various other creditors at the sale were told by Mrs. Holland that Mr. Holland had left town for a few days, and that he had taken no money with him. At that time she had not sufficient funds to square accounts.

Chooses Husband By Lot.

Asheville, N.C., Messenger. The marriage of Miss Irene Depew and James William Mock, of Mocksville, N.C., is announced. Mrs. Mock, a well known beauty and social favorite, is reported to have determined on choice of three brothers, all of whom had been paying marked attention to her for years, by ballot. She allowed all three to draw lots, and the youngest Mock won. The bride's lottery consisted of three small pasteboards, on one of which was inscribed her name. The other two were blanks. She declared that she had been for months unable to determine how to settle it, and that she did not want to wreck the lives of the other two by choosing one. Miss Depew has received proposals from every young man in the village. Her wedding soon followed her decision by ballot.

The King of Spain.

Everybody's Alfonso, the young king of Spain, leads a busy life, made up of work and study and sport—such a life as any clean-minded man might lead. And this is what has endeared him to his people. In no monarchy was the king's majesty more hedged about with ceremony. The young king has broken it all down. His ancestors gloomed behind the curtained windows of the palace. He has gone to the people. He is part of the national life. And his frank and boyish good-fellowship have done more to make the monarchy safe than "all the king's horses and all the king's men."

Some people think they have done their duty if they express a willingness to do it. Watch Harrison Co. advt.

FREAK SHOPPING

FILLED HOUSE TO ROOF WITH GOODS.

Mingled Cut Glass, Ironware, Fragile China, Calico, and Furs; Never Used Any of It.

New York, Feb. 5.—More than $250,000 worth of goods bought in four years of shopping in New York, piled unused in rooms, closets and halls nearly filling a large four-story brown stone mansion in Brooklyn, lay for nineteen years unheeded. Lace were heaped upon calico, furs on cotton, the daintiest of lines and silks were stored with common household garments, 8,500 gowns from the most fashionable of dressmakers were laid on cheap "Mother Hubbards," solid silver and the most fragile of china sets were mixed with ironware, crystal and cut glass, with common glassware—all cast in piles reaching as high as the ceilings, stuffed in closets and lying on the stairs.

This was the result of a search of the "House of Mystery," 178 State street, Brooklyn. It tells of the mania of Mrs. Mary Cook King, who died two weeks ago in a Flushing sanitarium, and it explains what became of part of the $200,000 estate left to her by her husband twenty years ago. The search was conducted by J. H. South, executor of Mrs. King's estate.

There were no children born to the Kings and when Mrs. King came out of mourning two years after her husband's death, it was found she had developed an eccentricity of character bordering on insanity. She discharged all her servants; had the windows and doors of her home iron-barricaded and refused to receive visitors. She grew worse, and at the end of four years, about 1889, it was thought best to send her to a sanitarium. At the time she was promised that no one should enter her home until after her death. When the court appointed a committee for her estate it was impossible to find more than $25,000 in a bank, and she refused to tell what had become of the rest. There was then no thought of searching the house, but this was done after Mrs. King died two weeks ago.

FASHION'S FORM.

The Dressy Separate Jacket for Winter Use.

The dressy dress of the winter season shows signs of enjoying a greater vogue during the spring and summer seasons than ever before, and this vogue has created the necessity for a suitable outer garment. The spring lines show all sorts of little cotton and bolero effects, and jaunty little jackets of the pony or polo type, of lace, silk or moire antique, one of the spring favorites. A black chiffon taffeta is used in this case, the silk shirred depth and lacy just above the high feathered grille, which fastens in front with a large, silver buckle. The little vest is of white broadcloth, likewise the collar and girdle, these braided with a fine silver soutache. The sleeve is full to the elbow, there to be finished with a shirred cuff, frilled either edge, ruffles of white pousoe lace hanging gracefully from beneath the lower cuff.

To Cure A Cold In One Day. Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box, 25c.

What is a sign of age in others is, of course, a sign of sense in you.

MEN ALARMED.

Canadian Lumber Owners Visited by Customs Officer.

Ogdensburg, N.Y., Feb. 5.—Motor boat enthusiasts along the Canadian frontier are alarmed over a quiet visit in their midst of a special customs officer. This official of the Canadian government had previously paid a visit to Syracuse, where he secured what information he wanted relative to the cost of gasoline engines, the number shipped to Canadian points and for whom they were manufactured. His special mission appears to be the gathering of statistics regarding the importation of American gasoline engines into Canada. These Canadian motorists called upon freely gave all the information asked for, but there is much trembling in their midst.

It would seem an idea has become prevalent that the goods brought in were undervalued, though so far as can be ascertained the Canadian purchasers do not feel that they can be held liable, for the reason that in most instances the engines were bought from an agent at Alexandria Bay, and called for delivery at Brockville, duty paid.

Growth Of Industrials.

Atlantic Monthly. Much has been heard during the last five years of "industrials," both as investments and as an economic and political problem. The organization of the steel corporation, with a capital of $1,000,000,000, made it the largest corporation in the world, but it has been hard pressed by other large combinations with capital running into the hundreds of millions. The American Tobacco company has capital and bond obligations to the amount of $250,000,000; the American Smelting and Refining company, $201,000,000; the Amalgamated Copper company, $175,000,000; the American Sugar Refining company, $201,550,000; the Amalgamated Harvester company, $120,000,000; the Standard Oil Company, $97,000,000; and eighteen other companies of $50,000,000 or more each bring up the total capitalization and bonded debt over $3,600,000,000. The total capital and bond obligations of all the "trusts" is over $20,000,000,000, or more than one-fifth the estimated wealth of the country.

When some men borrow money they seem to think it is only an umbrella.
