LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The License Inspector's Work.

Kingston, Feb. 10.—(To the Editor): In the newspaper correspondence which has been going on lately between David Givens and C. W. Wright, license inspector, relative to civic insurance business, the first named makes complaint against the latter for carrying on an insurance business in connection with his duties as license inspector. I am not singular in sustaining the views held by Mr. Givens in this part of the controversy, but surely Mr. Givens is aware that his business friend and companion, the city solicitor, advised Mr. Wright that he could perform both duties.

Now, if Mr. McIntyre, who claims that he has the gift of government patronage advised this, and by a word could stop it, why should Mr. Givens be airing this part of his difference with Mr. Wright in the press? Anyone who knows Mr. Givens must admire his stand and courage, but at the same time their relations should be counted by the fact that he would vote for him if even the heavens should fall.

I think that Mr. Wright is mistaken in his idea of permitting Saturday night drinking liquor, thinking it avoids breaking the law on Sunday. He is not appointed to make the law, but to see that it is kept to the strict letter. I would like to see Mr. Wright doing better, as he has on several occasions voted liberal.—FOXY QUILDER.

MARTYRDOM DESCRIBED

Kingston Man Tells How He Suffered and Now He Was Released.

For years a martyr is how Charles H. Powell, of 165 Raeburn street, Kingston, begins his story.

"A martyr to chronic constipation, but now I am free from it through the use of Dr. Leonard's Anti-Pill."

Many who are now suffering from this complaint will be glad to learn from Mr. Powell's story that there is hope for the most stubborn case. He continues: "I was induced to try Anti-Pill by reading the testimony of some one who had been cured of constipation by it. I had suffered for eighteen years and had taken tons of staff recommended as cures but which made me worse rather than better. Doctors told me there was no cure for me."

Dr. Leonard's Anti-Pill is for sale by all druggists or by The Wilson-Edwards Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont. Mr. Powell will verify every word of these statements.

CASE OF REFORM

TEN-CENT WHISKEY; WHAT IT STANDS FOR.

More Money to Fight Local Option and Less Brawling Around the Bar-rooms Among the Cheap Drunks.

Enterprise, Feb. 6.—Following the example set by the innkeepers of Kingston, the hotel men of Camden township met in secret session here Saturday afternoon to discuss the advisability of advancing the price of whiskey from five to ten cents a glass. With this preliminary progress made at this preliminary session, these liquor dispensers expect to bring their own undertaking to a successful completion at the next general meeting to be held shortly.

While only about ten men were in session, all were extremely willing that the advance should be made. They were of the opinion that there was one difficulty in the way of the price of liquor being raised in the township alone.

"If we advance the price and the saloon-keepers of the adjoining townships do not, people can drive to those outside saloons and get their five-cent whiskey," said one of the leading saloon men. "Before we go any further with this scheme we are going to send out invitations to the saloon men of the surrounding country, and invite them to meet us at a general meeting which will be held in the near future."

With "local option" pressing closely on their heels, the saloon-keepers say they must have funds to wage the war against the steadily oncoming reform. They think by advancing the price of whiskey that they will soon have plenty of ready money on hand to spend in their cause, as the local option "fad" might strike this district at any time. Again they hope to ward off that reform craze by raising the price of their liquors, and thus placing them out of the reach of the class which would get drunk and pay on a little money. They are desirous of keeping more orderly houses, thus pleasing the inspectors and not arousing the bitter feeling of the church people. To raise the price of whiskey seems to have become a fad as well as voting for local option, and since this peculiar movement has come from Kingston, to this district, it is expected that it will soon spread throughout many of the "wet" districts of eastern Ontario.

THE FAYS IN OTTAWA.

Some of the Questions Asked and Answers Given.

Ottawa Citizen. Last evening the theatre was again filled. The feature of the programme was Mrs. Fay's divining and answering questions. These, while proving as mystifying as ever, were also frequently humorous.

"Where was I Sunday evening at 10:30?" was the question of a young man in the balcony. Mrs. Fay called out his name, read his answer, and said: "You were in the hall, at that hour standing in a hallway. The man next door absent. Mrs. Fay continuing said there was a lady with him, and she gave her first name, and said that he put his arm around her and said 'Who have you here?' The girl replied, 'I am your baby.'"

"Did John tell me the truth about those suspenders?" was another question. Mrs. Fay told the woman that she had better believe the story of her husband. "Who have you here?" she said to an aunt in the United States. "You have never seen her and she doesn't generally do that kind of embroidery, but you had better believe him," Mrs. Fay concluded.

Another woman asked about a photo she found in a certain place. Mr. Fay replied that her husband told the truth about the photo, which was in his pocket. It was given him by another man who was afraid to carry it.

With Ice Yachting. Last evening the ice yachtsmen, and nearly all the enthusiasts have rigged up their yachts and are out on the lake skidding before the breezes. The ice down the river is in the better condition for the sport, as up the bay there are a number of cracks. Capt. Louis Larush, Wolfe Island, has made the trip to Cape Vincent, via the foot of the island, and says that sailing was great, and the ice smooth at the foot. Howard S. Folger and H. B. Mills went down to Clayton, N.Y., yesterday, in two hours, became wind-bound and had to remain over until today for the return trip. In all likelihood some races will be pulled off next week, providing weather and ice conditions remain favorable.

To See The Matinee. The following composed a party of ladies who came down from Napanea to see the matinee of "Peery from Paris": Mrs. William Templeton, Mrs. J. L. Boyes, Miss McLaughlin, Mrs. A. F. Holmes, Mrs. G. C. T. Ward, Mrs. W. H. Boyle, Mrs. F. F. Miller, Mrs. E. D. Miller, Mrs. R. J. Perry, Mrs. George Perry.

Queen's Will Challenge. It is the intention of Queen's, as senior champions of the Intercollegiate Hockey Union, to challenge for the Stanley cup, and if they can get a game with the holders of it by March 1st, they will keep in practice. The new Stanley cup rule now is that only one game will be played for the trophy instead of the best two out of three as before.

To Refuse Him Admittance. Queen's medical faculty has decided to refuse further admittance to the college to the student who charged two of his comrades with assault. This action, it is understood, is taken in view of the fact that he has not paid his fees, and on account of the strong feeling over the police court case.

Baby's Own Tablets. Meets the mother's needs in caring for the health of her little ones as no other medicine in the world can. The tablets cure constipation, indigestion, colic, simple fevers, diarrhoea, teething troubles and expel worms. They break up colds and prevent coughs. They induce children sleep naturally and healthily, because they remove the cause of sleeplessness. And they are the only medicine that gives the mother a solemn guarantee that it contains no opium or poisonous, anything stuff. They are good for children from birth onward; they always do good—they cannot possibly do harm. Mrs. George J. Barry, of Bath, says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the troubles that come to little ones with perfect satisfaction. I think there is no medicine can equal the tablets. Every mother ought to keep a box of these tablets in the house as a safeguard for her little ones. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail at 25 cents a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Tank Water Contamination. Medical Health Officer Bell states that the little girl, whose case of typhoid he reported to the board of health as likely originating from milk, does not drink any well water as reported. A second test of the milkman's well shows the water to be all right. There was contamination in a tank into which water from the well was pumped. This tank, situated close to a cow barn, from which so-called water is drawn, the health officer evidently enters the tank from underneath. A concrete bottom will be put in the tank which will also be otherwise protected. The health officer does not say positively that the typhoid originated from the milk, but bacteriological examination proved the water supplied to the cows and with which the milkman's cans are washed, contaminated, and this he had to have remedied.

A Healthy Business. Capt. Holmes, who represents E. W. Gillett company, Toronto, is in the city calling on the jobbers. The captain states that business has largely increased so far over last year in his line of goods, especially on Magie Baking Powder and Gillett's Cream Cheese, which are being placed in the same category as Royal Yeast and Gillett's Perfumed Lye, and are considered standard articles by the retail grocers. The Gillett company's preparations are advertised daily in the Whig.

A Curling Match. The "tenns" were out with their brooms and granites for a game last night and Bailey's rink outplayed Hayne's bunch by 5-1. H. B. Craig, J. Reid, J. M. Elliott, S. R. Bailey, skip, 16. Col. Massie, H. B. Bibby, Prof. Kirkpatrick, G. E. Hogue, skip, 9.

The curling match in the Dr. Clarke tank rink, which was to be played tonight has been postponed, owing to last night's fire at Rockwood.

A COMMON MINER

C. ROBERTS IS ENTITLED TO DUBLIN ESTATE.

Was Supposed to Be Dead, But is Contented Laborer in Montana Cyanide Camp.

Kendall, Mont., Feb. 10.—In a humble cottage at the Kendall mine, living in contentment and obscurity, satisfied with daily wage received as a toiler by night in the cyanide plant, lives Charles Roberts, nephew of the distinguished English general, Lord Roberts. Not only is Charles Roberts the great general's nephew, but he is by hereditary right entitled to a vast ancestral estate in Dublin which Lord Roberts has occupied for years.

The story sounds like a romance, but the fact of Charles Roberts' relationship is acknowledged by Lord Roberts himself and was publicly proclaimed by him at a meeting in London on the occasion of his nephew's visit to that city.

A secret service man visited Kendall some months ago. He was sent by Lord Roberts to interview his nephew. The fact was unknown to anyone save Mr. Roberts and his wife, who maintained silence on the subject. Soon afterward Mr. Roberts left for London, on August 23rd.

The lineage came about through the fact that his father, Richard Roberts, and Frederick Sleigh (Lord Roberts) were brothers.

Richard was the oldest son, but owing to his untimely death never succeeded to the inheritance, but according to the rule of hereditary succession his eldest son should have been in line for the peerage and estate. Charles Roberts, of Kendall, is the eldest son of Richard Roberts, but when his grandfather died Charles was adrift somewhere in Canada, none of his relatives knew where. It was reported that he was dead and no special effort was made to verify the report until recently. Lord Roberts took possession of the estate which rightfully belonged to his youthful nephew. Not long ago, however, an advertisement was inserted inquiring the whereabouts of Charles Roberts. The visit of a secret service man followed and the subsequent journey to England which established the relationship absolutely.

Mr. Richards has in his possession a photograph, personally presented to him by his uncle, Mr. Roberts. It is thirty-eight years old. He was born in the province of Ontario, Durham, Canada, and in 1896 was married. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts have one child, a bright little girl, who is attending a public school.

NEW VALUE ON CHARCOAL

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better, it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions, and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectually clears and soothes the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of tartar.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptic in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women

Are the Up-to-Date Remedy.

Medicines, like clothes, are made from different materials now than they were twenty-five years ago. Some of the materials used in making Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women had not been discovered then. You cannot get the same ingredients in the old time remedies. And yet these ingredients are used now in diseases of women by all the world's greatest physicians.

Progressive women—thinking women—keep up-to-date in the matter of medicine as well as clothes. They are buying Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets, the twentieth century preparation for women, and the one now recognized beyond doubt or question as the one best adapted to their special needs.

They make healthy women.
