A beautiful gravure reproduction of Mr. Fred Morgan's charming Oil Painting, size 281/2 inches by 193/4 inches, printed on fine plate paper 40 x 30 inches, with no adverfising matter, is given Free to users of BOVRIL who save the coupons, one of which will be found over the neck of every bottle of BOVRIL.

This Bonus Picture must not be confused with cheap um pictures. It is a work of art worthy a place in the most cultured home. The subject is extremely interesting.

On the grass in a charming woodland spot by a lake a mother and her three beautiful children have spread their picnic table cloth. Everything indicates wealth and health and happiness, the cake and Everything indicates wealth and health and happiness, the cake and fruit are served on choice china with snowy linen, and both mother fruit are served on choice china with snowy linen, and both mother and children are daintily attired. Standing apart and gazing with wondering, wistful eyes at the luncheon so temptingly spread, are wondering, wistful eyes at the luncheon so temptingly spread, are atiny girl and her tinier brother, barefoot and evidently less fortunate in worldly possessions. Prompted by her mother, the wee tot of the picnic party, with some of the best of the luncheon on a plate carried before her, is advancing toward the little ragged intruders, tendering with shy and gentle grace her offering. The little barefoot boy seems embarrassed yet delighted by this immediate prospect of good things and is shyly putting out a little brown hand to receive. Altogether the picture is one of the most charming conceptions, and is sure to please and delight.

ISLAND WHERE ST. JOHN LIVED IN CAVE.

Some Present Day Scenes-Many

The Isles of Greece, "where burning, Sapho loved and sung," are forever reappearing in history. Just the other day it was the ancient Lesbos, called in modern times by the name old-time capital, Mitylene, at which the allied fleets of Christendom planned to make a demonstration against the Turk. Factional fights between the sympathizers of the Sultan and the Greek patriots in Crete every few months threaten to make the haunt of the Minotaur the scene of international complications. Samos has been in the lime light several times since the Greek war for independence, and the investigations of European and American archeologists in Delos, Aegina and Euboea have kept those islands in the public eye. Very few, in fact, of the members of the Grecian archipelago, barren and untenanted though they are, have entirely drifted out of notice. Even the least known of them all in antiquity, hardly mentioned by the pre-historic writers, but made famous by the visions of the best-beloved the apostles, Patmos, is frequently familiarly spoken of, though seldom visited. For throughout the length and breadth of the Christian world many difices stand in commemoration St. John. Great and small, bumble and grand, cathedrals, churches and chapels, they cover a period of his tory extending from the day the conversion of Constantine Christianity the official religion of civilization down to the present time.
