CAPT. JAMES HAMILTON Appointed Quartermaster of the R.C.M.A., Kingston.

Capt. James Hamilton of the 22nd Regiment (the Oxford Rifles), who has been appointed to the position of quartermaster of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, Kingston, has been connected with the militia ever since he was fifteen years of age, at which time he enlisted in the 30th Wellington Rifles in which capacity he remained for three years.

He entered the St. Marys company of the 25th (Perth) Regiment as a lieutenant in 1882, and on the 24th of April, 1885, he was appointed captain of the company.

On the 28th of April, 1891, he was appointed quartermaster of the regiment with the honorary rank of major. On the 21st of October, 1901, he became captain of No. 1 company of the 22nd Regiment, vice Capt. E. J. Carlyle resigned, which position he has retained up to the present time.

When the 6th Regiment Canadian Mounted Rifles was organized for service in South Africa, Capt. Hamilton volunteered to go and do his share in fighting for the empire. He was appointed quartermaster of the regiment, and went to the front. While in South Africa he acted as brigade quartermaster of the Canadian brigade. On arrival in South Africa he was very much disappointed to find that he was practically over, as he was thus deprived of the pleasure of seeing active service.

Capt. Hamilton has been a resident of Woodstock a good many years. The position to which Capt. Hamilton has been appointed carried with it a salary of $1,100 a year, with free house and allowance, which altogether make it worth about $1,700 a year.

At the end of the first five years his salary will be increased $400 a year and at the end of another five years a further increase of $400 a year, thus making the position worth at the end of ten years about $2,500, when the position remains fixed.

A Beautiful Showing of White Wear

Many kind words and expressions of appreciation have been made in the homes and on the streets regarding this showing.

That it is superior to anything ever displayed before seems the general opinion of the fastidious yet economical public. Our pleasure has been great also in noticing the actual enthusiasm which welcomed the showing of the many dainty undergarments for the children. Mothers now realize the folly of spending time and worry over the unending list of garments for the little ones, when here the finished articles can be had for less than the regular retail cost of the material alone.

To-day we stocked a new arrival of White Shirts, Corset Covers, Drawers, Nightgowns and all Children's Underwear in some of the most beautiful styles yet shown. Anticipate your white needs, and take advantage of the irrefragable quality, vast variety and exquisite styles provided in this greatest of all white displays. "Buy your White Wear now," is the motto.
