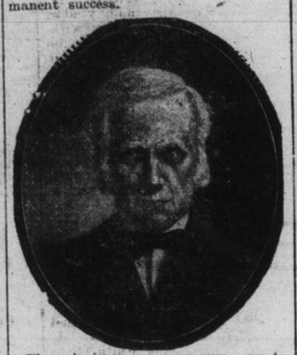
Piles Quickly Cured at Home

Instant Relief, Permanent Cure—Trial Package Mailed Free to All in Plain Wrapper.

Piles is a fearful disease, but easy to cure if you go at it right.

An operation with the knife is dangerous, humiliating and rarely a permanent success.



There is just one other sure way to be cured—painless, safe and in the privacy of your own home—it is Pyramid Pile Cure.

We mail a trial package free to all who write.

It will give you instant relief, show you the harmless, painless nature of this great remedy and start you well on the way toward a perfect cure.

Then you can get a full-sized box from any druggist for 50c. and often one box cures.

If the druggist tries to sell you something just as good, it is because he makes more money on the substitute.

Insist on having what you call for.

The cure begins at once and continues rapidly until it is complete and permanent.

You can go right ahead with your work and be easy and comfortable all the time.

It is well worth trying.

Just send your name and address to Pyramid Drug Co., 13889 Pyramid Building, Marshall, Mich., and receive free by return mail the trial package in a plain wrapper.

A MILD SCANDAL

KING CALLS THE KNIGHTS NAUGHTY SCHOOLBOYS.

Some of Them Have Been Letting Their Houses to People Anxious to Live in Castle Precincts.

London, Feb. 20.—King Edward has had to call the old military knights of Windsor to order like a pack of naughty schoolboys. These military knights are a number of old army officers of good family and service, who are really pensioners of the king, and have little houses on the Windsor castle premises and certain snug allowances and emoluments. They are practically guests of the king for life under a general scheme founded by Edward III., amended by Henry VIII. and improved by Elizabeth.

All went well until quite recently, when it was discovered that some of the military knights of Windsor were quietly letting their houses to people who did not mind paying high rents for the privilege of boasting that they lived at Windsor Castle. Then there came quarrelings and bickerings and jealousies among themselves, some of them writing to the Duke of Argyle and Viscount Esher, the constable and deputy constable respectively of the castle, complaining that fellow knights had planted bushes or hollyhocks in their little front gardens and were shutting out their neighbors' light. So a few days ago the king appointed a strong man as the new governor of the military knights, in the person of Maj.-Gen. Courtney, who is well known in the British army as a strong disciplinarian. The knights are chafing at the introduction of what they call "an outsider" as governor and urge that one of their own number ought to have been appointed. But King Edward had an object of his own in appointing Gen. Courtney. His majesty is determined to have good behaviour among the military knights, especially as their vagaries of late have tended to bring odium upon the precincts of Windsor Castle.

When you use Ozone use "Celery King" with it. Whatever kind of Ozone you buy you will need to use "Celery King," which is a companion remedy to Ozone.

The purest form of Ozone is "Solution of Ozone (the 'coupon kind.)" Each bottle contains about twice as much for your money as other brands, besides which each bottle contains a coupon entitling you to a package of "Celery King" free. This is a great advantage as you save money on the Ozone and also get the "Celery King," which you would otherwise have to buy.

No other brand of Ozone contains these coupons. "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind,) is fifty cents and one dollar at your drug store, including the coupon for the package of "Celery King." Take no other kind, and if your druggist does not carry it, write to the Public Drug Co., Bridgeburg, Ont.

Troubles On The Railway.

Toronto Globe.

To a Globe reporter who spoke to him last night in regard to rumors of a threatened strike on the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario railway over the appointment of a senior conductor, C. B. Smith, chairman of the railway commission, said there had been a little dissatisfaction, but it was being satisfactorily adjusted, and he did not anticipate further trouble. During last year Mr. Judge, who has had many years' experience as a train conductor, acted as trainmaster. Such an official was necessary, owing to the difficulties of operating the first section of the line. There were sink holes compelling deviations and other natural difficulties to contend with, and the trainmaster's duty was to insure the despatching of the trains in spite of these. Now that they had been overcome the position of trainmaster had been abolished, and Mr. Judge had assumed the duties of senior conductor, a position he would have taken from the freight, but for the circumstances mentioned.

What People You Know Say About Gin Pills

TORONTO, June 6th, 1905.

I take great satisfaction in writing to you and telling you of the splendid condition of health that I am now in, which was brought about entirely by taking your Gin Pills.

For years my kidneys have been my weak spot and kept me unhealthy, and although I knew the cause, I could not get relief. Six weeks ago I heard that Gin Pills were being widely sold in Ontario, and I concluded to try them, though I did not believe that they could entirely cure me, but they have, and I am now sure that my kidney trouble has disappeared.

I will always have some of the pills on hand, and will recommend them to my friends who are troubled with ailments due to the defective work of their kidneys.

Yours respectively,
F. E. BASKERVILLE.

FASHION'S FORM.

Here's Simplicity For the Little Maid.

Simple, dainty little frocks, employing fine materials, are far more effective on the small girl than numerous frills and furbelows, which not only give the child a rather over-dressed appearance, but cause no end of work for the laundress. Any of the sheer summer materials will make up well after this style. A yoke effect is attained by the deep shirrings, and the long skirt portion reaches to just below the knee line. The neck is finished with a narrow stitched band of the material, in this instance a sheer white lawn, and a similar band gathers in the full bishop sleeve about the wrist. A bow of white taffeta ribbon ties the little maid's hair on the left side.

CONFER A FAVOR.

Mariners Asked to Look Out for Them.

New York, Feb. 20.—Should any deep sea skipper off the Cape of Good Hope run foul of a flock of albatrosses, which look as if they had been used for models in a school for writing "ads," he will confer a favor upon Capt. Jarvis, of the British four-masted barque Lawhill, now at Newpier, 14, East River, by noting the date and position, says the World.

On his trip from Hong Kong, Capt. Jarvis and his crew took pains to decorate such stray sharks and birds as come aboard, and turn them loose again. In the China Sea a fourteen-foot shark was landed on deck. With indelible red ink, Capt. Jarvis had the man-eater inscribed with the following legend: "Submarine, No. 1,-999. H. B. M. Shark." Followed by the date of launching and the ship's position. After the monster had been properly christened it was dropped overboard again.

While the vessel was running around the Cape of Good Hope, an excellent opportunity presented itself to inveigle a large number of albatrosses and Cape hens aboard.

The albatrosses were enticed aboard with a bait of pork upon a hook, which caught in their bills.

With the red ink a dozen or so of them were appropriately labelled and set adrift. Across the smooth pure breast which is so compact and well oiled that it has a solid, impervious front, the name of the ship and her position, with the date, was inscribed.

A motto was generally added. One bird was let go with the title conspicuously displayed: "I am the queen of the air," Another bore the legend: "I'm a high flyer," "Cape Aero Club, No. 1," "I'm always scoffing" and "I'm not the eagle bird," were other designations. As they were thrown into the air again their fellows flew close to them and inspected the mottoes critically.

ROMAN CATHOLIC SCHOOL.

The Claim They Have Upon the Government.

Catholic Reporter, Ottawa.

The present government has shown a liberal policy towards the University of Toronto. It proposes the same generosity to the public schools. In all fairness it cannot close its doors to the demands of the separate schools. Nor should our people lose the present opportunity. Whilst we stand for religion in the education of our children, we do not wish to see our schools fail, or be in the background, for want of funds or efficiency of work. To secure any desirable improvement it will require unity of plan and action from one end of the province to the other. It is not a question of some local advantage which will work successfully here and there, but which will have no adaptibility elsewhere. It is a question of system—organized and encouraged and supported—in and through which our children may receive a thorough Catholic education. It is a question which calls for something more than half-hearted support—the demand of a minority confident in their cause, earnest in their appeal and devoted in their perseverance. It is for the bishops of Ontario to speak, not one here and there, but all together, with the same union and courage as characterized the Catholic bishops of England in their guiding letter lately. When such serious changes are taking place in education it is time for supporters of separate schools in Ontario to advance and improve with others. To be left behind whilst our neighbors get still farther ahead, is very much like denying the principle of religious education. At best such support is too faint-hearted to preserve what our fathers fought for, what we must be ready to fight for, and what forms the trial and suffering of the faith in lands where Catholic education is ostracized and persecuted.

Somebody started the story that the government proposed to adopt the closure at the coming session of parliament, and Mr. Borden and his followers are in consequence badly scared. The whole thing is a pure fabrication.

For chapped hands and roughness of the skin use Dr. Chown's Buttermilk and Almond Cream, 25c.

MONEY IN POULTRY

WHAT MR. JOHNSTON HAS TO TELL.

He is Going Extensively Into the Business—A Remunerative Part of Farming.

Cobden Sun.

James R. Johnston last year kept account of the revenue derived from his poultry and gathered some interesting information which may be something of a surprise to conservative people who do not consider that keeping hens is a very remunerative branch of farming. Mr. Johnston has provided for his poultry a house of the plan approved by the poultry experts at the government experimental stations, he keeps well-bred fowl only and feeds and cares for them as nearly as his time will allow as it is done at the experimental farm. On the first of January last he commenced with seventy-five hens and this average was maintained throughout the year. At one time the number got down as low as sixty, but in the fall some pullets commenced to lay and were put in with the hens to keep up the average. From January 1st till December 31st, 11,767 eggs were gathered, of which on an average each hen laid eighteen dozen. These eggs sold for $200.90, realizing an average of 20½c. per dozen. In the fall Mr. Johnston killed and dressed according to government experimentalists' instructions enough young birds to fill two crates. These he shipped to Montreal, and received therefor the very highest market price. One crate's birds averaged five and one-half pounds each and on these he realized $15.84. Other shipments brought similar amounts. Mr. Johnston did not keep an accurate record of what it cost to feed during the year, but the amount did not exceed $90. He considers poultry raising one of the most profitable branches of agriculture. Last year he made a handsome profit in the face of heavy losses in the spring when crows invaded his poultry run and killed and carried off scores of chicks. He has discovered that the best time to sell chickens is when they have reached what in commerce is called the broiler stage and weigh between two and three pounds. Cost of bringing a bird to a weight of three pounds is a mere trifle compared to what it costs to put every additional ounce of weight on them after they have reached three pounds. Having assured himself that handsome profits may be had by keeping hens and raising poultry, Mr. Johnston is going into the business next summer to a larger extent than ever.

Rheumatic Virus Expelled.

In any established case of rheumatism the action of the kidneys and digestive organs is perverted. Poisons are created and allowed to remain in the system when they should be expelled. Any effective rheumatic cure must cause a general housecleaning of the system. The proper functions of organs must be restored and they must be set to work. This is what Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure does. It completely cleanses and revitalizes the system. It does this thoroughly, and by so doing cures all acute or chronic cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, etc. Price, 50c. Sold only at Wade's Drug Store. This is the preparation that cured S. O. Taylor, Charlcote, Ont.

The home of James Bradley, Bongard's, was the scene of a quiet wedding, February 14th, when James Aaron Vanmeer, Carman, Man., secured a valentine worth the having in the person of Miss Ella Bradley. The bride wore a travelling suit of brown with white trimmings. After the ceremony, performed by Rev. M. W. Leigh, B.A., a wedding dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Vanmeer will reside in the west.

Hoarseness, Irritable Throat

Can be Cured in a Short Time by Inhaling Catarrhozone.

Persons who are susceptible to throat troubles should inhale Catarrhozone for five minutes a few times each day. It is soothing and pleasant, gives prompt relief and prevents your catching cold.

The vapor of Catarrhozone is both antiseptic and healing. It cures soreness and tenderness, allays inflammation and cures coughs and colds in a short time.

S. T. Wright, of Skeads Mills, Ont., says: "I had a bad attack of sore throat, with inflammed tonsils and sore chest. I inhaled Catarrhozone and it cured my trouble. I greatly admire its pleasant and soothing effect."

James Ferguson, of Perth, Ont., writes: "I have used Catarrhozone for sore throat and cold in the head and find it is a good remedy. I highly recommend it."

Rev. Mr. McKay, of Goderich, Ont., writes: "Catarrhozone is an excellent remedy for throat irritation arising from public speaking. It works splendidly in catarrh. I am glad to say your medicine does all that is claimed for it."

For all throat and lung troubles, bronchitis, catarrh, coughs and colds there is no remedy that will give the prompt results of Catarrhozone. It is quick, harmless and cures without deadening the stomach with drugs.

Two months treatment costs one dollar. Trial size 25c. Sold by all druggists.
