BOYCOTT VICAR.

Still Preaches Thrice Each Sunday in Empty Church.

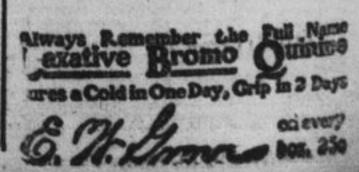

London, Feb. 28 .- In the village of Stokelyne, Oxfordshire, the extraordinary spectacle is presented of a vicar giving three services every Sunday to an absolutely empty church. Vicar Bryant has been boycotted for two years because the villagers sympathized with his wife, who left him. Her two daughters by a previous marriage, had both left before owing to disagreements with him, and one

Until a month ago the only individual present at his services was his own six-year-old daughter. But she committed suicide. He says it was because the villagers boycotted her. They say it was because of her miser-

Since then the vicar has been wholly cut off from all communication with his flock. He has to do all the menial work himself, and as the villagers will not even sell him food, he has to go a long distance for supplies." He will fight, he declares, as long as

Preparing For The Immigrants. Winnipeg, Man., March 1.-The local officers of the Salvation Army are busy making preparations for the large body of immigrants who will arrive here from England during the coming summer. About 3,500 British people will be brought west directly under the care of the army and the first steamer with part of these immigrants started from England to-day. This is an undertaking of the Salvation. Army, prompted by the double intention of relieving the situation in Great Britain and to supply much needed help to the farmers and busi ness men in the west of Canada. Of the 3,500 to come to Winnipeg it is expected that about 1,500 will be located in Manitoba, while the rest will go to Saskatchewan. The Salvation Army does not intend to bring the paupers and the scum of the British population to this country and deals only with hard working and willing people. who may be temporarily out of carployment or wish to better their con-

SION OF ISLAND.

The Young Men of Barra Landed Unopposed and Parcelled Out the Land for Farms Among Themselves Belongs to Lady Gordon Cathcart.

Edinburgh, Feb. 28.-Flags were flying and pipes were skirling when, on Monday, the young men of Barra went aboard their fleet and sailed to the Island of Vatersay.

Their landing was unopposed-the island was uninhabited and having celebrated their victory in the custionary fashion of the Highlanders, they parceled out the conquered lands among themselves, and, throwing off their martial attitude, settled down to cultivate it.

Barra is a Hebridean island which is overcrowded. Its younger men, unable to find homes for themselves and their families, have squatted in wooden huts along its shores and east envious eyes on Vatersay, a mile off in the ocean. which has been unoccupied since the beginning of the last century. Vatersay's pastures are rich and soil is fertile, and it seemed a land of promise to the overflow of Barra. For a long time they have been petitioning the congested district board to buy Vatersay from Lady Gordon I

But the congested board sit far all who are made no answer to the islanders. So, following the example of their brethren in South Uist three years ago, they determined to seize on farms for themselves and leave it to the any.
