ATTENTION TO PARLIAMENTS

Parliamentary business in the House of Commons today was devoted to the consideration of the Budget. The House met at 11 o'clock and the Speaker, Mr. Mackenzie King, presided. The Budget was presented by Mr. Bennett, who outlined the government's financial policy for the coming year. The House then proceeded to discuss the various items of the Budget, with several members making contributions to the debate.

A WARM SUBJECT

The House of Commons today discussed the proposed amendments to the War Measures Act. The amendments were introduced by Mr. Bennett and were designed to give the government greater powers in dealing with the enemy. The House was divided on the amendments, with some members supporting them and others opposing them. The debate was a heated one and lasted for several hours.
