BESIDES FARMERS IN GETTING LABORERS.

Immigration Agent Should Be One Who Understands Every-one's Needs—Kingston Wants Laborers as Well as Front-enac.

Kingston, April 14.—(To the Editor): In a recent issue a correspondent signed "Farmer" advocates the re-establishment of the immigration agency here. He further states: "The agent chosen should be a farmer, or one who has worked on a farm." In view of the occurrences of the past few days, and the conditions in which many of the recent arrivals find themselves, we entirely concur with the urgent need of an agency here.

Conditions have changed since the agency formerly existed here. If the government wants to get the largest returns possible from the money expended in this connection, and undoubtedly it does, an agent should not be appointed in the interests of the farmers alone. He should be capable of serving a larger purpose. Many of our manufacturers and business men also need more assistance than is now available. I am credibly informed, for instance, that a Mayor of Montreal, who has worked in the business elsewhere in order to secure help, he alone would today engage from fifty to one hundred people more in connection with the mica works here, but they do not know how the cotton mill is compelled to advertise in, and import whole families from outside places in order to carry on its business. The servant girl problem also, in a very great measure, remains unsolved. And so on to the end of the chapter.

It may, perhaps, be said, there are a number of people idle among our citizens. This, if so, must in some way, be their own fault, when business men go elsewhere and secure help that can live comfortably on the wages paid.

The idea, that we shall not be overflooded with worthless, or undesirable persons who will become a charge on the taxpayers of our city, but that farmers, merchants, manufacturers, etc., shall have assistance in their business-like administration is able to secure all the help they actually require without difficulty in doing so.

In view of this I submit: The agent appointed by the government should not only understand the needs of the farmers of this district, but also the actual requirements of manufacturers, merchants, housekeepers and all branches of the employing part of our community as well.

I have in mind a young citizen who would fill the bill. To my knowledge he spent seven years working on the farm. As a result, he has a practical knowledge of all branches of agriculture, as well as the relationship which should exist between the farmer and his hired help, and also the general requirements of the employer. He is at the moment, in a general way, engaged in dairying, the poultry business, and carrying on many lines of farm work.

At the same time, by reason of the various positions he now occupies, and has for years past, in connection with labor, and educational affairs, etc., he has perhaps a wider grasp of local industrial conditions and requirements than any other citizen. Being intelligent, fair-minded, temperate and industrious, it is to be hoped that not only will the government accord to the urgent request of the farmers and others of this district and at once re-establish the agency here, as is being done elsewhere, but that in the agricultural, manufacturing, industrial and other important interests of Kingston and district the gentleman in question will be appointed agent.—Yours truly, AN INTERESTED HAYSEED.

CAUGHT A THIEF.

An Ex-Kingston Clerk Nabbed

One in Norfolk, Va.

The Norfolk (Virginia) Dispatch of the 12th says: "The arrest of Nelson Coleman (colored) yesterday for the alleged theft of shirt waist from Miller, Rhoades & Swartz, may result in a penitentiary imprisonment for him. He was held for the corporation court this morning by Police Justice Simmons, when it was found that he had been convicted of petty larceny on six or seven former occasions.

Although T. W. Derry, in charge of the second floor of the big department store, testified that he watched Coleman take the waist from the counter, and shove it in his clothes, where it was found and that he chased the fellow down the stairs and into the street, where he was caught by a mob that joined in the chase, Coleman declared he was the wrong man. He admitted that he was in the store, but said he did not take the waist. Mr. Derry told the court that Coleman knocked several young ladies down in his effort to escape from the store after the waist had been found on him.

The Mr. Derry referred to was formerly a clerk in Steacy & Stoney's dry goods store, Kingston, and is a son of P. W. Derry, Collingwood street.

THE WHIG, Kingston

That Alleged Hazing.

Hamilton Times.

It is now said that the reports about the hazing at the R.M.C., Kingston, about which so much has been said in the newspapers, have been very much exaggerated. There is no denying that one of the boys was badly used, and that is where the other boys made one of their greatest mistakes. The incident has caused so much talk that it is very probable that the practice of flogging will be prohibited in the future.

PERSONAL MENTION.

A CATHOLIC Y. M. C. A.

PLAN APPROVED BY LEADING CATHOLICS.

A National Committee to be Formed—Aid Offered to the Movement—The Idea of the Paulist Fathers.

New York, April 16.—A plan to establish in this country a national association for Catholic young men on the lines of the Young Men's Christian Association has already taken definite shape and has the approval of Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Ireland, Farley and Ryan, and the leading Catholic laymen of the country. John D. Crimmins, Mayor Dunne, of Chicago; W. Bourke Cockran, Justice McKenna, of the United States supreme court, the Countess Leary, and other wealthy Catholics have offered their aid in the movement. A million dollar trust fund has been suggested as a foundation for the plan. The plans will be thoroughly discussed at Baltimore next month, on the occasion of the centennial celebration of the Baltimore cathedral. It is expected that a national committee will be formed at that time, to further discuss the matter and take the necessary steps for carrying out the plan.

The movement, which has been agitated for some time and has been growing slowly in importance, took definite shape when the Paulist Fathers in West Fifty-ninth street came out publicly in favor of such an association. The Paulists are regarded as the leading exponents of American Catholicism, and have contended that wealthy American Catholics should support liberally a national movement for young men, just as others support the Young Men's Christian Association.

The Paulist idea is to build one or more association buildings in each town with the accessories and inducements of club life—library, reading room, baths, study room and a department of higher study, with competent professors, etc. There would be no charge for the use of the building, and the Paulists are expected to have jurisdiction over all the branches throughout the country. Present clubs or societies would be done away with or absorbed in the new association.

In many of the larger cities there are costly and well equipped clubs and lyciums under Catholic auspices, which, it is felt, are not built on lines broad enough to reach all Catholic young men. There is also a feeling that thousands of Catholic young men frequent the Young Men's Christian Association and are affiliated with it, because they have no where else to go. There is the same feeling about young women.

PERSONAL MENTION.

King's Evidence Man in the Fur Burglary Case.

The police have a visitor in the station today, about whom the veil of mystery hangs, and it is in the case of "mum's word" with all the members of the force. It is known, however, that Police Constable Craig made the trip to Montreal and returned Saturday morning with the man whom it is believed is the one who has been doing all the sneaking in the McKay fur robbery case. He has been identified as the one who remained a few days at the British-American Hotel just previous to the Brock street robbery. The day clerk at the hotel, who makes the identification, says, he particularly remembers him because of some fuss he had at the time of paying the hotel bill.

The clerk at the Randolph hotel says he remembers the man and identified him as being one of the quartette who were about his hotel just before the robbery. He gave a name and asked to be shown to room 18, the one which he believes is the one in which the man, William Feldman, occupied. It seems to be the general opinion that local parties are implicated in the robbery.

After police court was adjourned this morning the man was brought up privately before Magistrate Farrell and remanded for a week. Feldman, who has spent the winter in jail, will come up for trial, Monday, April 23rd.

The arrest of Nelson Coleman (colored) yesterday for the alleged theft of shirt waist from Miller, Rhoades & Swartz, may result in a penitentiary imprisonment for him. He was held for the corporation court this morning by Police Justice Simmons, when it was found that he had been convicted of petty larceny on six or seven former occasions.

W.C.T.U. Resolution.

Kingston, April 16.—(To the Editor): The provincial W.C.T.U. has requested us to have the following resolution inserted in the local papers. Will you kindly do so?

"Whereas, the sanctity of the Lord's day is being invaded in Canada, and the rights of many of our citizens, to a day of rest, are being encroached upon; and whereas, we note with gratitude the bill to remedy these wrongs which is now before the house of commons; resolved that we, the Women's Christian Temperance union, humbly pray that you will stand by the measure, and not weaken it with adverse amendments, and your petitioners will ever pray," Secretary, Kingston W.C.T.U.

A daring robbery was committed in the office of Howell, Hudson & Martini, solicitors, Winnipeg. The offices were entered during lunch hour and $1,100 stolen, the thieves making a clear getaway with the booty.

Eludes Law By Suicide.

Mount Holly, N.J., April 16.—George R. Young, who, it is said, was wanted in St. Louis for concealment, admitted suicide here today. He was fifty-five years of age, Young was cashier of the Postal Telegraph company in St. Louis, and it is alleged he fled from that city last January last, to avoid the law.

He was arrested in Palmyra, N.J., last night, and while being brought to the Mount Holly jail, swallowed cyanide of potassium.

Knee Smashed.

Underskirts!

Some people may think any kind of an undershirt will do, so long as it is clean and whole. But this is a mistake, for with the skirt of today, the undershirt must fit smoothly around the hips, and have plenty of fullness around the bottom. Our satine skirts fill this requirement. Made of excellent quality satine, no skimping of material, and full deep accordion plaiting or ruffles and dust frill at bottom. All lengths, from 75c. to $2.50.

Of course, with the very light satins so fashionable this spring, nothing but white skirts can be worn, and of these we have an abundant supply. Made of fine white lawn, with deep flounces trimmed with tucks, both deep and narrow, Valenciennes lace and insertion and open and blind embroidery. From 75c. to $2. You are now invited, and we are sure you will agree with us that our undershirt values cannot be equaled in the city.
