the Hon. Michael de Courcy, only son of Lord-Kingsale, and Miss Constance Woodhouse, daughter of Col. Woodhouse, of the Royal Army Medical corps. The future bride is a very handsome woman, but not much known in Metropolitan society. Mr. de Courcy is an officer in the 32nd Sikh Pioneers, at ! present quartered in India. He is heir to one of the most ancient peerages in the three kingdoms. His father, Lord Kingsale, is premier baron Ireland, and thirty-third holder of the title. His forbear in the thirteenth century was created Lord Kingsale for some deeds of valor, and his family received the privilege, their first obeisance being paid, of remaining covered in the presence of their sovereign. This right is said to have been exercised by the twenty-third baron in th presence of William III., and by the twenty-fourth peer at the courts George I. and George II.
