AERONAUTS FALL.

Party Comes to Grief Trying to Cross Alps.

Milan, June 8.—Capt. Nazari, of the Italian army, and Signor Minoletti, a well known and wealthy Milanese, were drowned in the Adriatic sea, Sunday, after dropping from a balloon in which they had tried to cross the Alps from here.

Their balloon was carried over the Apennines and dropped into the Adriatic several miles from Ancona. A third member of the party, Signor Uselli, clung to the ropes, and was hauled by the waves four hours. He was finally saved by a torpedo boat, any make and we guarantee our work will give the best results.

He says the voyage was a terrible one from the start, and all the occupants of the balloon anticipated death. The precipitous fall into the sea was the last thing he remembered.

OIL STOVE EXPLOSION

THREE PERSONS DIE AS RESULT OF BURNS.

Preparing Lunch When Accident Occurred—Two Women Rushed to Save the Children and Their Clothes Caught Fire.

Syracuse, N.Y., June 8.—The explosion of an oil stove in a second story apartment, yesterday, resulted in the death of Mrs. Desmond Davis, aged twenty-six; Mrs. Homer Alexander, sister-in-law of Mrs. Davis, and Mrs. Davis' three-year-old daughter, Gladys. Mrs. John Wright and Mrs. Emmett Harris were slightly injured.

Mrs. Davis and her two children, Gladys and a baby two months old, were visiting Mrs. Alexander. While the two women were preparing lunch over the stove it exploded. They rushed across the room to an adjoining room to rescue the children and their clothes caught fire. One of the women threw the younger child out of a window and its life was saved, with Gladys they started downstairs, the clothing of all three on fire.

HERE'S A PLAN

Whereby No Expense Need Be Attached to Fifth Class.

One of those chiefly responsible for the petitions circulated among the public school ratepayers for the re-establishment of the fifth class in the schools, declares that everyone on his list was informed concerning the expense that might be attached to the class, and they all knew what they were signing. A few city officials, who had signed, afterwards withdrew their names.

As to the extra expense, the gentleman in question declares there need be none. He points out that for some time past, J. G. Elliott, a member of the Board of Education, has been endeavoring to get the board to decrease the number of public school teachers, as the number of pupils in some classes does not warrant so many being employed. Now, the gentleman says, there are several teachers resigning. Let the board carry out Mr. Elliott's plan by decreasing the teaching staff by two. Then a fifth class teacher can be engaged at no extra expense.

It was last year that Mr. Elliott showed up the attendance in the public schools. The management committee of that year refused to double up classes but did reduce the staff by one teacher. This year Mr. Elliott has discussed attendance at the board. If the gentleman who talks above is sincere he will be a ready helper in Mr. Elliott's plan to reduce the staff, however, to bring in a fifth class, but to save to the city treasury the unnecessary cost which he says is being paid for the extra expense.

After June 15th passengers will not be permitted to stand on the side steps of open street cars.

QUIET CHURCH WEDDING.

Miss M. E. Barry and George LeHeup Married.

June claimed yet another fair bride, when at St. George's church, Monday evening, Miss Mary Elizabeth Barry, youngest daughter of James Barry, was married to George LeHeup, a well-known city carpenter, and son of the late John Joseph LeHeup, an Archbishop Memorial. The wedding was of a very quiet nature, only the contracting parties, the bridesmaid, Miss Louise Evans, and the groomsmen, H. A. LeHeup, being present. The bride wore a smart gown of grey and carried white roses. The groom's suit was in black, and he wore a gold brooch, set with pearls, and to the best man a pearl scarf pin. The bride's friends showered many handsome presents upon her.

After the ceremony a sumptuous supper was served at the home of the bride, Chatham street, only immediate relatives being present. The tables were prettily set with flowers, and Mrs. LeHeup did not take a honeymoon trip, but went to their new home, 228 Earl street.

The following Christian Scientists left by the G.T.R., to-day, at noon, to attend the gathering in Boston, Mass.: Mr. and Mrs. Albee, Mr. and Mrs. Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert, Miss B. Gilbert, Harry Germain, A. English, Mrs. W. Holder, Miss Germain, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Rogers, Miss L. Morton.

Of the party which came from the north on the night, in Kingston over night, before proceeding by way of the St. Lawrence river route were Messrs. D. R. Allen and wife, G. H. Lutz and wife, W. D. McKinstry, C.S.B., Alfred S. Wall, C. H. Lutz, Kansas City; W. G. Agard and wife, Topaka, Ark. Ball, and Mr. and Mrs. Reeves last evening.

A Painful Accident.

John Vale, teamster for James Swift & Co., met with a very painful and somewhat serious accident on Thursday evening. Indeed, he was lucky to escape as fortunately as he did. About six o'clock, yesterday afternoon, the above named party was on the cotton mill. His delivery wagon was heavily loaded with bales of cotton, when he was unlucky enough to fall off. The horses having started, the whole load passed over the driver, severely injuring his knees. No bones were broken, however, and he was removed to his home at the corner of Clarence and King streets, where he is now recovering from the effects of his mishap.

DAY OFF FOR DOMESTICS.

A New Clause in New Lord's Day Bill.

Ottawa, June 8.—The bill respecting the Lord's day, as amended by the special committee, has been reported, and it is now possible to gather a clearer conception of the provisions than was possible in the first rough draft. The exemption clause is of interest to many callings and industries, but there is one extraordinary section, No. 4, the full effect of which has not heretofore been grasped. It provides among other things that a domestic servant who is employed on Sunday is to have a full day off during the ensuing week. It, therefore, means cold dinners on the Sabbath, unless household duties are to be dispensed for a complete day later on in the week.

COMPLAINS AFTER YEARS

Woman: Alleges Non-Support—Declines to Assist.

Brockville, Ont., June 8.—Mrs. Alberry called on Police Magistrate Deacon to lodge information against her husband, George Alberry, of the township of Augusta, for non-support. She states that thirty years ago he cast her adrift. Since then she has been living in Brockville and her husband in Augusta. Alberry, she says, took up his abode with another woman, and burned their marriage license. The magistrate considered the case but lawed as far as the police court was concerned and refused to take it.

Must Die.

Boston, June 8.—Charles Louis Tucker, Auburn, convicted of the murder of Mabel Page, at Weston, in 1904, will be electrocuted in the state prison at Charlestown, during the week beginning June 10th. Governor Curtis Gould announced that he had decided not to commute the sentence to one of life imprisonment, in spite of a petition of over 100,000 signatures that asked for clemency.

The Stories In Chicago.

Chicago, June 8.—Heads of the beef trust learned, to-day, for the first time, of the reported plan of Sir Thomas Lipton, the English yachtsman, to start rival stock yards. Although the story generally is discredited among the packers, it was declared that, at present, at least six plants are to be removed from Chicago to Indianapolis.

Affairs At Washington.

Washington, June 8.—Representative Mann, Illinois, has made an emphatic statement to the house that, so far as he knows, it was the intention of the house to consider and pass a pure food bill at this session.

UNHAPPY CAREERS

OF THE FORMER QUEENS OF SPAIN

Nine Women Have Sat on Spain's Throne in the Century—One Poisoned, Three Died Mysteriously, Four Exiled—A Gloomy Outlook for Queen Victoria.

Queen Victoria's reign as consort of King Alfonso XIII. of Spain, has been shadowed in under gloomy auspices. In connection with the tragic events of Thursday at Madrid, it is interesting to recall the unhappy careers of the queens of Spain, who have preceded her.

Nine women have sat on Spain's throne during the last century. Of these one has been supposedly murdered by poison, three have died very shortly after they were married, and four have died in exile, after having their crowns torn from their brows.

The ninth is the present queen dowager, Marie Christina, who was widowed when but twenty-seven years old, and during whose reign Spain lost Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. The other eight, in the order in which they sat on the throne, were as follows:

Maria Lodovica, wife of Charles IV., great-grandmother of the late Alfonso XIII. She died in exile, bounded to the last by her hated son, Ferdinand VII., who tried to force her to give up her jewels to him while she lay on her deathbed.

Julie Clary, wife of Joseph Bonaparte, who died in exile, after being separated from her husband for thirty years.

The princess of Naples, first wife of King Ferdinand VII., who died suddenly and was believed to have been poisoned.

Marie Isabel, second wife of Ferdinand VII., who died a year after she was married.

Marie Josefa, third wife of Ferdinand VII., who shortly followed her predecessors to the grave.

Marie Christina, fourth wife of Ferdinand VII., and great-grandmother of King Alfonso XIII., during whose reign the earlier Carlist wars were fought, and who was driven into exile.

Isabella II, Alfonso XIII's grandmother, eccentric and profligate, who was driven into exile by her infatuated subjects, and died in Paris in 1901.

Mercedes, first wife of Alfonso XIII., who died five months after her marriage.

Genuine Sentiment.

Most people have heard of Joseph Wedgwood, the famous potter of Staffordshire. A statue of him stands at Stoke-on-Trent, a few days ago it was found beset with blue ribbons. Much curiosity arose as to why it was so decorated and by whom. In the course of the day the explanation was forthcoming. Josiah C. Wedgwood, the great-grandson of the celebrated inventor, was elected member of parliament for the neighboring town of Newcastle-under-Lyme. Being afterward in Stoke he conceived the idea of "decorating his notable ancestor's monument in celebration of the centenary of his death. He went there in the dead of night, climbed the high pedestal and the figure, and garlanded the effigy with blue ribbons, the liberal election colors.

Appointed to Committees.

The Kingston delegates to the Methodist general conference meeting in Montreal in September have been assigned to the following committees:

Rev. W. H. Sparling—Itinerary and treasury; conference boundaries; local preachers; Sabbath observance; church and parsonages.

Abraham Shaw—Missionary education; book and publishing; state of work.

T. F. Harrison—Discipline; memorials.

Boardwalk Patching.

Alderman Carson, chairman of the board of works, is not satisfied with the present system of boardwalk patching, and intends to have a change made, so that the patches may be made their rounds separately and cover much more ground. The cost might be greater, but better results will follow.

More Miners Dead.

Bed Lodge, Mont., June 8.—Eight men are dead and many are believed to have met with a similar fate through the breaking out afresh of flames in the Rocky Fork coal company's mines in this city.

Made Project.

London, June 8.—Thirty-three special trains brought to London, this morning, 12,000 Lancashire churchmen to protest against the education bill.

Lovely Lace Curtains

The Last Call of the Season To Thrifty Kingston Housekeepers

To-morrow will be the second Saturday of June. That date we have always practically considered as the last day for the real spring selling of household replenishing needs.

This year we purchased all our Curtains direct from the makers—thus we are now offering Curtains for 99c. for which last year we would have marked 1.25 as a moderate price. But really you cannot appreciate this saving until you see our curtains. They represent the choicest at their prices from some of the highest makers, and you are likely to remark as did one patron the other day: "I don't see how they can make them for that price. A few years ago you couldn't get any kind of a curtain for less than three or four dollars."

Our regular curtain price range for to-morrow will be, per pair: 25, 35, 39, 45, 60, 65, 75, 90, 99, 1.15, 1.25, 1.45, 1.50, 1.69, 1.75, 1.95, 1.98, 1.95, 2.25, 2.49, 2.75, 2.90, 2.99 and up to 3.50.

And in the Beautiful Swiss Nets, per pair: 2.75, 3.75, 3.99, 4.25, 4.50, 4.75, 4.99, 5.99, 6.75 and 7.50.

But to make brisk Saturday selling, as a fitting climax to our most successful season (and to favor those who were unable to secure some of the same two weeks ago) we'll again offer these four specials—

Nottingham Lace Curtains, 3x11 1-4 yards, in a splendid floral design which shows throughout the curtain, with just enough border to finish it off attractively. Worth 2.00 a pair, but to-morrow only 1.00

Nottingham Lace Curtains, 3x11 1-4 yards, in a lovely floral design, showing just enough border to make it one of the prettiest we've seen this year. Worth 2.50 regularly, but to-morrow only 1.25

Ladies' and Children's New Hosiery

It will become monotonous mentioning our Hosiery only when people cease buying the same. We just feel that all must for their own good—know of the splendid large assortment we have. "Hosiery for All" is a title our section has very honestly earned, and we will always deserve it. These for to-morrow—

Ladies' Black Cotton Stockings, just now in one of the most complete collections we've ever had, at prices, which, because of the immense quantities we purchase for cash, are the lowest in the city for equal qualities, we're sure. Five qualities for to-morrow, 25c. per pair, 10, 12 1/2, 15, 20, and 25c.

Ladies' Summer-weight Cashmere Stockings, very light and just right for those unable to wear cotton, four splendid qualities, per pair, 39, 49, 59, and 69c.

Ladies' Fancy Lisle Lace Stockings, in pretty tans, navy blues, champagne, and white and black, nice and soft, but strong, quality, special, per pair, to-morrow only 49c.
