BLAME OF DEED SHIFTED TO THE BROTHER ON SCHACHER.

Aim of the Defence in the Burglary Case—Dr. Schacher Says Charles and Abraham Are Very Much Alike.

The striking feature of the trial of Charles Schacher charged with burglarizing the McKay fur, at the afternoon session of the court of general sessions, Wednesday, was the endeavor of the defence to shift the blame for the deed from the shoulders of the prisoner, to his brother, Abraham, who is at present secure in New York.

John Burns, fireman, testified to seeing Schacher in town on the Friday previous to the robbery. The cashier in the G.N.W. telegraph office, Montreal, said he received $15 sent by Schacher of Montreal to Lawrence Harrison (alias Wood). He could not identify Schacher.

Rather a bulky exhibit was then placed in court—a tin covered trunk supposed to contain the safe-breaking articles which were to have been used by Feldman in burglarizing the jewelry shops.

As Mr. Whiting was about to take out the contents a warning came: "These things are inclined to be explosive," said Wood, and the articles were handled more cautiously.

Sugerman, with whom Feldman and another boarded the week previous to the robbery, could not identify the trunk as the one these men had. He had never before seen Schacher.

Ernest Viers, detective of Montreal, knew the prisoner. He had seen Feldman go in Schacher's house, but he had never seen Charles Schacher, and Feldman together. He had seen "Abie" Schacher and Feldman enter a Jewish gambling house. Never saw Wood and Schacher together. To Mr. Nickle he said while he was "shadowing" the trunk on the 15th, a striking resemblance between Charles Schacher and his brother "Abie."

James Lesslie, of the Canadian Express company, showed a record of a trunk being shipped on the night of November 17th; trunk on exhibit was the one. Mrs. Cooke, 93 St. Antoine street, Montreal, said Wood roomed at her place. He left, saying he was going to Winnipeg. Dr. Schacher came to her house twice while Wood was there. He asked for a Mr. Addison. Witness thought the confession called by Wood returned from Winnipeg. Wood returned from Winnipeg. Wood returned from Winnipeg. Wood returned from Winnipeg.

H. J. Beaman, manager of oxygen gas, Montreal, remembered having filled cylinders for Schacher, last fall. He would not swear he filled the cylinder on exhibit, but was fairly sure it was, because they are a rare kind and he particularly noticed it.

Johanna Feuls, machinist, Montreal, recognized the trunk on exhibit. Cross-examined he recognized the trunk as the man who did the order. A. Bisme, foreman trunk maker with a Montreal firm, recognized the trunk as one he made. L. R. Macdonald, an electrician, of Montreal, remembered selling some batteries and buying them back. He could not identify the prisoner or Wood.

S. Diamond, Montreal, baker, had known Charles Schacher and William Feldman; had seen them together. S. Ford, Montreal, G.N.W. express messenger, delivered message number 88 to St. Dominique street. A man signed for it; but he did not remember if it was prisoner.

Case For The Defence. At 4.30 the case for the defence began. Ernest W. Busch, Montreal official stenographer, division court, first witness, said he commenced a case, Carnovsky vs. Abramson, 10.15 a.m., Tuesday, and it finished at noon Thursday. Charles Schacher was the last witness.

Dr. N. Schacher, brother of the prisoner, said he had five brothers. His brother Abraham was not in Montreal the last part of November, but Charles did not leave town that month. On Saturday evening, the 15th, his brother Charles played cards; witness was also present. Preceding Saturday, witness saw his brother at the hotel register as that of his brother Abraham. Witness showed a letter from Abraham, written recently from New York. He denied having called on Wood at Mrs. Cooke's house. He said there was a striking resemblance between his two brothers, Charles and Abraham, and one could easily mistake the two men.

BLAME OF DEED SHIFTED TO THE BROTHER ON SCHACHER.

The daring robbery took place in this city. Interest in the proceedings of the case had apparently not abated, as a large audience gathered at the opening of the court. The witness gave a decidedly cosmopolitan effect, ranging from the plain every day English to French, Yiddish and German.

The first witness, Morris Friedman, a Montreal fur manufacturer, said he sells only cuttings—the little pieces left over. Witness said prisoner bought cuttings from him on a Friday in November at two o'clock for $32. Prisoner was there on the Saturday night to get the cuttings, but witness was too busy to go to the third floor of his store to get them, so Schacher went away, returning on Sunday morning for them. Witness got Schacher's cheque, on Saturday night and it was dated for Monday, 20th. To Mr. Whiting, witness said he had made the entry of the transaction in his books.

Q.—"Why was the cheque not dated the 19th?" A.—"Lots of cheques are made that way, when Sunday comes between." Q.—"Is that your custom?" A.—"He is an orthodox Jew and wouldn't sign on Saturday." Q.—"But he didn't mind writing out the cheque and trying to get the goods on Saturday?" A.—"When were you first asked about this case?" A.—"I was served with a subpoena." "How many transactions have you had with this man?" "Two; the other one in February, a year ago."

Relative to this second transaction witness could not recall days of Schacher's visit, hours or any other details. He said it was the cheque that brought back the first cheque. To Mr. Nickle witness defined the Jewish Sunday evening, until stars began to shine Sunday eve. Dr. Sophia Pouchkovsky, a graduate of Mount Pelier University, France, gave her evidence through the interpretation of Prof. Macgillivray. Witness has practised in Montreal since last July. She was present at the confinement of Mrs. Charles Schacher, September 26th, and attended at night confinement November 16th. Witness made a book in which she made entries of these attendances. She was not paid for attendance on Mrs. Schacher until Saturday, November 18th; Charles Schacher paid her his own house, 161 St. Dominique street, about noon. Witness remembered date of her being paid, owing it being two days after the date of an entry in her book.

"Did you ever see Mr. McKay before?" "No." "Do you work for Schacher?" "No." "How do you live on $120 a year?" (all she said by practising during the past year.) "I got $300 from my brother in Prussia."

Witness recalled the dates on which she had been called for attendance in other cases. Replied, in answer to the question, she said she remembered the date, she said Mrs. Schacher reminded her, and she remembered the circumstances, perfectly, that Schacher was present on the 15th and did the paying.

Ester Colmanovitchsky, through Mr. Lilton, a Yiddish interpreter, said she until November 18th, last year. She was there that night about the night to get her pay. Her father was a carpenter. Charles Schacher gave her a cheque, but her father said she would want the cash. To Mr. Whiting witness said she did not know what date, to-day, was.

C. Fein, a Montreal German Jew, manufacturer of cheese and butter, gave his evidence through Prof. Macgillivray. He was a witness in Montreal case—Carnovsky vs. Abramson, Thursday, when Morris Schacher, was a lot of $3.50 from him. On Saturday witness went to Morris to get his money. Morris was "Charles." He is frequently at Schacher's. He saw Charles that night but did not speak to him.

Witness said he came to this trial without a subpoena; he had not told the Schachers what he knew of the case. He said there was a robbery in Kingston through a post office. $427 from the congregation of St. George's. Fourteen parishes have contributed to date, less than one-fourth of the number.

SYNOD OF ONTARIO REPORT UPON THE STATE OF THE CHURCH.

Archdeacon Macmorine Says it is a Wonder the Church Holds Its Own—Mission Address by Rev. Dr. Tucker.

A mission address by Rev. Dr. Tucker and general routine business occupied the time of the synod on Wednesday afternoon. On motion of Lieut. Col. Halliwell, the synod passed a resolution expressing its grateful appreciation of the splendid contribution of the Woman's Auxiliary to one of the embarrassed funds of the diocese.

This resolution was adopted by the synod rising, on motion of Rev. C. A. French, seconded by Canon Grout: That the synod of Ontario has heard with great regret of the diocese of the late Right Rev. the late Bishop of Selkirk, and it would hereby express its deep sympathy with the diocese and with Mrs. Bompas in the sad loss occasioned thereby.

The bishop appointed this committee to consider and report upon the S.P.G. thank offering: The archdeacon, rural deans, the chancellor, the treasurer, Mr. Pense, Dr. Preston, Dr. Gardiner, J. R. Dargavel, Mr. Wright, Mr. Kidd.

The registrar's report was presented by Canon Grout, and adopted. Rev. Dr. Tucker, Toronto, general mission secretary, was called upon to address the synod upon the work in which he was engaged. He stated that Ontario diocese had nobly done its duty in regard to missionary effort, and going with the twin diocese of Ottawa had been an incentive to the other diocese. Ontario diocese now raising $6,000 a year for the missionary cause. Dr. Tucker spoke of his visits to the other dioceses, and in all of them the outlook for contributions were most promising. He was confident that in 1906 more than $100,000 would be raised. Archdeacon Pentreath and Lloyd, two distinguished men, were coming to Ontario diocese to help in the mission campaign this year. The development of New Ontario demanded greater missionary effort on the part of the Church of England which so far has neglected the work.

Chancellor Macdonald presented the report of the committee on deceased members of synod, viz., Dean Smith, Dr. R. T. Walker, K.C., chancellor, R. L. Sheffield, (Leeds Area), Lancelot D. (Brookville), D. E. Clark, (Troyton), and James Bailey, (Markham).

These reports were presented and adopted. Rural Dean Dobbs—Of diocesan board of general missions, rejoicing over the full payment again of the school offerings are steadily rising, having nearly doubled this year. St. James, Kingston, lead this year with $916. A strong forward movement among young people was urged. The report of the committee on the deputation work last year was excellent, and this year Archdeacon Pentreath and Lloyd, from the west, will visit with Rev. Dr. Tucker.

Edw. J. B. Pense, of the committee upon memorials to Archbishop Lewis and Dean Smith, reporting the placing of a contract for the oak reredos at the cathedral of imposing design; recommending a design for a pavement of marble altar steps, and that two inscribed brass tablets be ordered, all to be completed within the original estimate of $1,750. The subscriptions received so far amount to $1,081, including $300 from the bishop and $427 from the congregation of St. George's. Fourteen parishes have contributed to date, less than one-fourth of the number.

Rev. C. P. Emery moved a resolution, requesting the bishop to consult the house of bishops regarding the advisability of a petition to the archbishop of Canterbury to send a mission of spiritual help to the church in Canada. His lordship said that he considered such a request, and it was useless to pass the resolution. However, the resolution was dropped.

On motion of Dudley L. Hill, the question of closing the financial year was referred to a committee. Mr. Pense presented this amendment to the diocesan mission fund: "The board may on recommendation of the lord bishop grant to a missionary up to his first appointment to a sum not exceeding $100, as an allowance to enable him to procure a travelling outfit in such a request, and it was passed without a second, and the resolution was dropped.

Synod adjourned at six o'clock to sit again at 10 a.m., Thursday. (Continued on Page 3.)

INTO THE QUARRY WENT CARRIAGE AFTER RUN-AWAY HORSE.

Occupants of Vehicle Badly Hurt—Some Hopes for Mrs. Cass' Recovery—Mrs. Ryan Not so Badly Hurt.

Yesterday afternoon, between four and five o'clock, a very serious runaway accident occurred in the northern section of the city. Mrs. Alice Ryan was driving down Russell street, towards Montreal street. On the west side of the road, sitting in the bottom of the pelicle. On the road they met two men, named Peters, pushing a cart, loaded with wood. The horse took fright, and the driver was unable to check its wild career. On the left hand side of Russell street, as one approaches Montreal street, is a quarry without any surrounding fence. Into this the unfortunate party was precipitated. All were badly bruised, Mrs. Cass in particular being seriously hurt. R. J. Reid's ambulance was hurriedly summoned, and accompanied by Dr. Campbell, who was quickly on hand, the injured women were conveyed to the General Hospital.

In the mix-up, Mrs. Cass was thrown under the horse and carriage, sustaining a fracture of both jaws, and severe injuries to the head. Very small bones are held out for her recovery. Mrs. Ryan escaped much better, however, and is not seriously hurt. Mrs. Ryan was able to leave the hospital this morning being so far recovered from her injuries. Mrs. Cass, on the contrary, is still in a precarious condition, and her recovery a matter of doubt.

It appears that the horse sprang into the quarry carrying vehicle, occupants, and all along with it.
