The synod resumed its pusiness sitting Thursday at 10 a.m. Prayers were said by Canon Starr. The bishop and the chancellor spoke of the windows that were to be erected in St. George's cathedral in memory of three prominent archdeacons of Untario, vien Archdeacon Unil Stuart, first archdeacon of Ontario diocese, and Archdeacons Patton and Bedford-Jones. Itis lordship asked that subscriptions be sent in for th memorials. Sir Sandford Fleming, chancellor of Queen's University, and a leading Presbyterian, had sent twenty dollars to the bishop as contribution for the window in memory of the late Archdeacon Bedford-Jones, who was greatly esteemed outside as well as inside his own communion. The three archdencons named had done great work for the dioceso

Trinity College Question. The report of Trinity College and its federation with Toronto University evoked some discussion. Provost Macklem desired an expression of opinion from the synod upon the question of he troposed removal of Trinity to Queen's Park. No definite arrangement about a site had yet been made, Lieut.-Col. Halliwell moved, seconded by Rev. H. H.
