FOR BEDORE.

Just now the papers are saying the The Man Wanted to Find Out if Mrs. Neddo Was to Appear Against Him and Tell What She Knew-Fortune Teller's Revelations.

In regard to the Sharbot Lake mystery there is very little new evidence to be gleaned and until the return of Chief of Police White, Perth, from Rice lake, whither he has gone to apprehend Frank Beaver, no new developments are anticipated. Since the history of the case has been given to the public those following the several clues have become more guarded in their statements, but the sensational story still continues the topi of conversation, in the district. If a murder is suggested, people who take an interest in the mysterious have food for thought; those who believe the future can be foretold, may have another instance to quote.

The remarkable predictions of the fortune teller is really interesting. According to the case, as exclusively outlined in the Whig, of Monday evening, it will be remembered that an old fortune teller, at Mountain Grove, forebrushes sold at Gibson's Red Cross | told the circumstances of the mystery about a year ago and set such gossip and rumors on foot that interested parties made themselves scarce. So far as any one knows the fortune teller had never been in the vicinity of the scene of the supposed murder yet it is next | said she gave an accurate description of the place and of the conditions surrounding and results following the tragedy, asserting that the boys had been murdered and the bodies burned. But that is not all. She gave a most remarkable account of a search party which went out after the disappear ance of the lads. The woman told where the party had driven stakes as marks and also that a brother of one of the boys had fainted while near the graves. These things actually happened and the fortune teller was entirely ignorant of their occurrence except as she learned it through 'her mysterious art. It will also be borne in mind that all this was foretold before Mrs. Neddo had given out the secrets with which she alleges Bedore made her acquainted.

Another little incident has come to light which may, or may have been placed around the building, the acquaintance of Bedore while both were awaiting trial in the county jail. According to Woods' story Bedore approached him one day and got him to write a letter to Mrs. Bedore, This was necessary as Bedore could not write. In the communication Bedore asked his wife to find out if Mrs. SELBY trial and say anything against him,
