

LATE W. H. ROGERS

DIED AT NORTH CASTLE, N.Y., ON THE 6TH.

Born of English Parents—Entitled to An Estate, But Relinquished Claim—Well Known in Kingston as a Contractor.

On June 6th, there passed quietly away at North Castle, Westchester county, N.Y., a native Kingstonian, William Hoy Rogers, for many years identified with the political, business and social life of Kingston. He was the only surviving son of the late Job Rogers, of Cornudas (estate) Gloucester county, Eng. Being early left an orphan, he was adopted by the late Robinson Loynes of Adolphustown, Ont. At the early age of fifteen, he began what proved to be extensive travels, becoming a lover of nature in all respects, visiting the whole fisheries of the north, the lands of China, India, and the islands of the East and West Indies.

It was during this period that he revisited England and was recognized as lawful heir to his family ancestral estates, which had recently been sold by the inheritor, not of the family. Not desiring a lawsuit he quietly relinquished his claim.

For several years after this trip, he continued the life of a business man and property owner in this city, but removed to Watertown, N.Y., thence to New York city, in each of which places he carried on a business as contractor and stair-builder. At the time of his death he was superintendent and part owner of a planing mill in Connecticut, busy and useful to the last.

On December 23rd, while returning home from the mill, he was thrown from his runabout and for a time was seriously ill. He afterwards rallied and was not considered to be in a dangerous condition, when he fell from his chair at the dinner-table (on the evening of June 6th), and expired without regaining consciousness.

There were present with him at the time of his death, his wife and his daughter, Miss Priscilla Rogers. His two sons, Job Rogers, C.E. and W. W. Rogers, B.A., assistant to the history professor, were summoned from Cornell University, Ithaca, as were his four other daughters, two teachers and two students from New York city. Among the other survivors are his sister, Mrs. Edward Woodard of Ithaca, and her family, also the children of his late sister, Mrs. Burgess, of San Francisco, Cal.

Having been baptized at St. George's cathedral, confirmed at St. James, married by the Rev. Mr. Mulock, the burial service was read by Rev. Mr. McGill, also Episcopalian. In his political life the deceased was an ardent reformer, for many years a member of, and to the day of his death, an interested reader of the Daily British Whig. In his family and social life, he was the friend and helper of the aged and the little children turned to him instinctively, and never lacked the sympathetic word or smile. In business he was honorable, just, generous, leaning always to the side of mercy.

Pictou's present high school will soon be torn down and replaced by a more modern and up-to-date structure, which the growth of the town, and the prosperity of the county has for the past few years so urgently demanded to supply the necessary and adequate accommodation of pupils. The building was completed in the year 1878.

MISS HELEN BELLHOUSE

Died in Hamilton and Quite Suddenly. Napanee, June 21.—Our citizens were deeply grieved, yesterday afternoon, to learn of the death, at Hamilton, of Helen Bellhouse, second daughter of W. A. Bellhouse, manager of the Merchants Bank, Napanee. It was not known that she was ill at all, and the news came as a shock.

The deceased was a bright and amiable girl of but nineteen years, and has been in Hamilton studying music for the past six months, and was preparing for her examinations in a few days. A nervous trouble was thought to be the ailment, and nothing of so serious a nature was thought of. Her father, upon hearing of her illness, Monday, went to Hamilton, and remained with his daughter until the end came. The mother and sisters here are prostrated over the sad bereavement. The funeral will take place, at Hamilton, on Friday next. The sympathy of the whole town goes out to the bereaved parents and two sisters, Misses Marguerite and Agnes.

DEN DISCOVERED. Where it is Said Skeletons Were Found. Zurich, Switzerland, June 21.—Near Ruttli, a village in the Zurich Oberland, the police have made a highly sensational discovery. For a long time a remote farm house was occupied by a family named Oberholzer, consisting of two brothers and a sister. For some time evil rumors concerning the Oberholzers had been floating about, and they were accordingly shunned and feared by the other villagers. A number of robberies had been committed in the neighborhood, but although grave suspicion rested on the reclusive brothers, their guilt could not be brought home to them. Unwelcome visitors to their farm were received with gunshots, and so they were left unmolested until a few days ago, when the authorities found cause to search the house. An immense quantity of stolen goods was found, but worse things were discovered later. A wall excited suspicion owing to its peculiar shape, and when an opening was made, a rough coffin was found enclosing a female skeleton with the clothes still adhering to it. Its identity has not yet been established, but that some awful crimes have been committed in the house appears to be now practically certain.
