THE SPORT REVIEW

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THE BOWLERS?

In the Game to Die Here— Capitals and Tecumsehs Tied at Accrue—Baseball Results at General Sporting Notes.

The fives of the Kingston Yacht Club will sail for Gananoque on Saturday afternoon next, to spend Dominion day there and take part in the regatta on Monday, at Dominion day will be celebrated on Monday this year. A large crowd of the yachtsmen are expected to go down. A cruising race will take place on the down trip, and at a meeting of the club, Saturday evening, the following handicap was arranged. The faster boats giving the others a good start will make the race interesting. If there is a head wind blowing the handicap will be greater, as more ground will be covered than with a fair wind:

What About The Bowlers.

Kingston, June 25.—(To the Editor.) What is the matter with the local bowlers that nothing is being heard from them? The college green looks deserted nowadays, and more especially so when one recalls the battles waged there in former summers. And the asylum bowlers? What of them? After the great amount of time and trouble expended by Dr. Clark in putting the asylum green into shape, it seems a pity that the local enthusiasts get warmed up, or is the game to die a natural death? I also understood that the college green was to be lighted by electricity, that play might be indulged in by night, but apparently I am mistaken. I notice also the new bowling green being constructed in front of the late Dr. K. T. Walker's, but nowhere can I discern the re-echoing sound of the ball as they bound off one another, and go wide of the "tee." A year ago several younger citizens got interested in the game, but alas! interest in the sport has fled, and why? Or could it be I am mistaken in my information?

The Canada Lawn Bowling club have decided to have an open tournament on labor day, September 1st. Scotch doubles will be the feature. SEEING THE VISION

SERMON BY DR. E. M. HILL, MONTREAL.

All Sunday Should be a Time for Heavenly Visions—Have We Seen Ours and Have We Obeyed It.

Sunday, at both services in the First Congregational church, Rev. E. M. Hill, M.A., D.D., principal of Montreal Congregational College, preached to good-sized congregations. At the evening service he took for the text his sermon, Acts xviii: "I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision."

All Sunday, he said, should be a time for visions when men retire from right case and a week's business and go to church amid songs of praise and prayer. A vision came to Paul and proved the turning point in his life: such comes once, to all men. A new keynote was struck, with praise and the musicians who must all tune up to the one note to get the perfect harmony, he had to grasp this new note to follow a new current.

The Christian of to-day, today, is to move the wills of men. Here was an appeal to the will of Paul to bring him to realize the past. Paul had been busy, religiously busy, and had not stood by the side, with him, we would have admired him. It is, however, not enough to be busy—there is a business that is not business, it is to be a busy body. Paul's business was the life and soul of men, work days and nights on an invention and after all that time, work wrong; he starts over again on a new and almost every member of the school with short work. Paul was on the wrong track; he was seeking tradition rather than truth. Self loomed up on his mental vision, rather than neighbors.

Paul saw a new interpretation of the cross. He thought Jesus had died as an example to men, but a revelation came, for He who died is a living Christ. He will be with us, bringing all to the foot of God. He obeyed the vision and worked among men.

Bringing the fact of "obedience to the vision" to later day incidents, the preacher dwelt on the lives of great men, Lord Shaftsbury, Livingston, Hudson Taylor and so many others who have opened up heathen lands for the spread of Christianity. He declared they had obeyed the vision. Our fortunes and families, our all is God's, and realizing this, it is our duty to serve and please Him above the world and ourselves. The vision with all should be "Have I seen the vision and if so have I become His follower?"

Competitive System

For House Surgeon Positions in Toronto Hospital.

The new system of competitive examinations for house surgeons of the Toronto General hospital goes into effect on Tuesday, when twenty-four candidates will present themselves for the coveted positions. All are graduates of Toronto medical colleges, except two from the college in connection with the Western University, London. Heretofore all the appointments have been made by a provincial one, doctor of the medical college, of Toronto University, but a few weeks ago notices of the competitive examination were sent to the medical colleges in London and Kingston. As the Toronto hospital is now really a provincial one, doctors all over the province demanded that the house surgeon positions be made competitive. Queen's will, likely, send up a few candidates next year, and the show is bound to become more and more serious as second to none.

Secured Toronto Contracts.

Henry Wilmot, carpenter contractor, formerly of Kingston, but now engaged in Toronto, was in the city over Sunday, returning to the Queen City at noon to-day. He has recently secured the contract in connection with the new Avenue Road Methodist church, the masonry of which has also been made a provincial one, by J. W. Little. Mr. Wilmot reports that the building trade in Toronto is continuing to boom and that the Limestone City colony are right in the swim and getting their share of it.

Fine Selection of Goods.

Provest, Brock street, has received another lot of Scotch tweed and fancy worsted and serge, suitable for suiting, for his order work department. They are without doubt the finest patterns and quality he has ever had in his store. They were brought under value. A suit of them made to order will be sold under the usual value.

Positions As Wine Clerks.

Thomas McCall expects to leave this week for Murray Bay, where he has been appointed wine clerk for the season. "Paddy" Hunt will retain his position as wine clerk on the steamer store Toronto instead of going to the Bay as he first expected to.

Shoemakers To Meet.

A meeting of the cobblers and manufacturing men have been called for this evening in the Golden Lion block. An effort will be made at the gathering to have a uniform scale of prices for all members of the trade in this city.

Subscriptions Asked.

Kingston, June 25.—(To the Editor.) May I take advantage of your columns to ask for subscriptions to the work in Persia of Dr. Samuel O. Esch, who lived in Canada, since he was seven years old, and took a medical degree in Queen's University, and is now working among his benighted countrymen. "Every cup of cold water" will be much appreciated by him in his work, among his benighted countrymen.—Yours gratefully, A. C. M., "Elmhurst," Centre street, city.

14th Companies For Cobourg.

This evening, at the armouries, will be held the last meeting of the 14th men, who are to go into camp, at Cobourg for four days. Every man who intends to go must be on hand and receive camp equipment and final instructions. The company will be in command of Capt. Mills and Sparks, and Lieut. Simpson, Major, the Rev. Canon Starr, who also accompany them, to act as chaplain for the company regiment. The companies will go up to-morrow morning on the 9.15 o'clock train.

Ho, For Rochester!

Much Praise For A Kingston Girl.

Nine young women received diplomas of graduation on Thursday last, from King's County Hospital Training School for Nurses, Brooklyn, N.Y. The graduating exercises were held at 3.30 o'clock at the chapel attached to the county institutions in Clarkson street, Flatbush, N.Y. The addresses were made by city officials and clergymen, and the presentation of diplomas followed. The important part of the programme was the charge of Miss M. O'Neill, superintendent of the hospital. Together with her diploma, each nurse was presented with a gold medal, given by the city. The graduates were: Misses Margaret Darragh, Louise Wardhouse, Florence Dakin, Eleanor Daly, Almetta Calder, Sadie McMahon, Lila Quirk, Harriett Ash and Elizabeth Collins.

Miss Margaret Darragh was the only Kingston girl who graduated, and it to be congratulated by her many friends for her great success while in King's county hospital.

The steamyacht Dave Wagoner, towing the house boat Waunegak, came down from Collins Bay this morning for supplies. The party have not found any too good fishing up that way and contemplate going down the river, instead of up the bay.

A former Kingstonian now residing in Belleville celebrated his wedding yesterday and was visited by a number of friends from the Limestone City. Each brought along a suitable memento of the occasion and the collection of wooden mousetraps, potato mashers, clothes pins, etc., would be sufficient to start up a small sized store.

"COPPER SUNDAY."

A Sermon to the Cadets, Yesterday.

The boys of "Copper Sunday," so long a feature of the closing days of the Royal Military College, have been gracefully abandoned, as instead the cadets choose the hymns for the morning service, at St. George's cathedral, on the Sunday before the end of the term and they sing them with a vigour that does the heart of the congregation good to listen to. Yesterday, the service was very hearty, and the big body of young men in the right-hand gallery formed an auxiliary choir, which did them proud. Canon Starr preached to them basing his stimulating words on the story of David's use, in manhood, of the sword of Goliath, which had been the trophy won by him in youth.

The preacher said a good word for manly sports, asserting that God and His church and the empire looked on with approval at the youths of the land struggling in a clean and manly way for supremacy on the football field, and in the other forms of sport. He urged them to develop reverence, which is the treating of worthy things worthy, reverence for their bodies, for their minds, for their souls, and above all, for their God.

It being the Feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, the altar was lavishly decked, the flowers being that of a gift from the penitentiary garden. A set of markers, from the altar, has been given to the cathedral, by Canon Starr.

Bank Clerk Lost Treasure.

A young man recently appointed to the local staff of a bank is carrying about a long face to-day, and bemoaning the loss of a panama hat which was the pride of his heart. He was down the river on the steamer North King, yesterday afternoon, when a gust of wind was unkind enough to carry his "sunbonnet" into "drink." On arriving home he immediately secured a small box and went in search of his treasure, but it was nowhere to be found and apparently the fishes had enjoyed a treat.

Notice The Glasses.

The appearance of the thoroughly washed and polished glass in which serve your ice cream soda is an example of the purity we maintain in every detail of making and serving soda water. Finest fruit juices, pure ice cream and prompt and dainty service at Wagoner's Drug Store.

Collapsed On Street.

This morning about half past eight o'clock, Fred. Marks, formerly of Brantford, but now employed as wine clerk at the Collyer Hotel, was taken suddenly ill, and collapsed on the street at the corner of King and Brock streets. The unfortunate man was conveyed to the hotel as quickly as possible, and everything done for his comfort. A doctor was summoned and quickly came to the relief of Marks, who is now resting as quietly as could be expected.

Youth's Vitality Sapped Away.

Your child looks poorly, is tired and fretful. You would like his boy or girl to be more robust, more energetic and vivacious.

"The something" that is wrong is simply this: stomach and bowels need attention. Constipation and indigestion must be relieved, new life and vigor are required in the blood, slight assistance is needed for the kidney's and liver.

Go back to the old standby. Nothing is so effective as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They put new life into young folks as well as the old ones. Every child should use this medicine regularly because its benefits are not to be had in any other way. Full box 25c. at any dealer or by mail from N. C. WESSEL MOVEMENTS

LATE ARRIVAL OF THE UP BOATS.

Caused By Sinking of Barge in Lachine Canal—Steamship Ceylon Released By One of the Calvin Tugs.

The steamer Alexandria was the first boat to arrive in port, from Montreal, since the stop to navigation, caused by the sinking of the barge in Lachine canal, last week. The Alexandria arrived at 11 a.m. Sunday, and left two hours later, going direct from here out into the lake to Rochester. She will be late on her down trip and will not likely arrive in port until Tuesday morning. The steamer Belleville was the second boat in port from Montreal, arriving here at 3 p.m., Sunday. The steamer Picton arrived at nine o'clock, last night.

Aground And Off Again.

The steamship Ceylon, which ran aground on Thursday on Farrer's Point, just above Cornwall canal, was pulled off Saturday by one of the Coteau tugs. No damage was done. The Ceylon is rather a heavy craft, (being built for the upper lakes) to ply on the St. Lawrence and she got caught by the current. Only her nose went aground and it was but the delay of shifting her cargo of lumber. She proceeded to Quebec.

Marine Paragraphs.

The steamer Rideau Queen made the trip to Washburn lock to-day.

Schooner Bertie Kalkins is at the asylum with coal for Oswego.

The steamer Kingston was forced to come to a stop yesterday afternoon, on her way from Point Frederick to Swift's wharf. Some one in a sailing skirt attempted to cross the liner's bow and to avert a collision the captain had to stop the engine.

Hereafter the entrance to Belleville harbor at night will be between two red lights, namely the lighthouse and a red light on the end of the railway wharf, the latter elevated nine feet above the water. This arrangement will be a great convenience to vessel and steambot men.

Thompson, from Oswego, and cleared for Ujdenburg and Montreal with two coal and one grain laden barges; tug Hall cleared with two coal barges for Montreal; tug Emmerson, from Oswego, returning with one lumber and two light barges; propeller Parent arrived to-day from Chicago.
