WENT RAVING MAD.

Witness in Murder Case Fought Till Mortally Injured.

New York, June 25.—William Herman, a negro, who was held with a witness in a murder case, seriously wounded his son with a razor, slashed himself and fought the jurors till he received mortal wounds. Herman, while shaving his son, developed a murderous impulse, and drew the razor across the boy's throat. Luther managed to break away from his frenzied father, when the latter ran to the second floor and began to slash himself about the face and neck. Keeper Sherman and his aids rushed at the man, but he kept them at bay with his razor. At last Sherman, after a desperate fight, succeeded in flooring the madman by heavy blows. His injuries were such that he died to-night. Luther was taken to a hospital in a serious condition.

A SECRET SCALE

For Denoting Character of German Officers.

New York, June 25.—The Sun has the following cable from Berlin: The German war office has a secret character scale for officers which is probably unique. It is known as a system of five S's, which are written on the margin of service notes. There has long been a great mystery about this, but at last the meaning is believed to have been penetrated. One S means a tippler; SS, a heavy drinker; SSS, a sordid drinker; SSSS, a sordid drinker of brandy.

Up to this point the Kaiser is patient and merciful, but when five S's, signifying a sordid drinker of brandy, is reached the culprit is promptly cashiered.

TRIPPING EDITORS REACH TORONTO ABOUT 320 STRONG.

Reception to Them at City Hall—Bucketshop Keepers Up Before Magistrate—Ontario Historical Society Will Meet in Collingwood.

Toronto, June 25.—The alleged bucket shopkeepers, whose places were raided by the police, last Thursday, appeared before the police magistrate, this morning, and were remanded till Tuesday next, without entering or pleading. The charge against them reads: That they, with intent to make gain and profit by the rise and fall in price of certain stocks of certain companies and merchandise, with intent to defraud, and with intent to violate the provisions of the criminal code. The brokers called were: Charles Davis, Homer Davidson, John Farrell, W. G. Barber, E. B. Brunskill, William McMillan, Michael Cummings, J. A. Cummings, J. L. Lee, H. C. Cooh and N. McKay. The charges against E. B. Ray and H. C. Cooh were withdrawn, as it was shown that they had no partnership in their respective firms some time ago.

Members of the twenty-first annual convention of the National Editorial Association of the United States, which has been in session at Indianapolis, numbering about 320, reached Toronto, this morning. They travelled in a special train of eight cars. A reception was given by the party, at the city hall, at 10 a.m., this morning, in the council chamber. Mayor Coatsworth extended the city's greetings. A suitable reply was made by G. C. Woodruff, of the Enquirer, Litchfield, Conn. At the annual meeting of the Ontario Historical Society, to be held in Congress hall, at 10 a.m., this morning, David Boyle, curator of a provincial museum, who has been secretary of the society, since its inception, has resigned.

G. P. Somers, vice-president of the Continental Life Insurance company, and president of the Ontario securities company, was a witness at the insurance investigation, to-day. All the deals made by the Continental to prevent the losses made by the company in Atlas Loan debentures becoming known to the public, were described by Mr. Somers, under a close examination by Mr. Tilley. The defence offered was that the public were to have received a false impression of the circumstances had a statement been issued. With regard to the formation of the Sterling Bank, this year, the witness, showed that the Ontario securities company required $200,000 of its government deposits. The company borrowed $60,000 from the Continental Life giving surety of $275,000 of Sterling Bank stock. The Ontario Securities Company obtained the Sterling Bank stock, and raised the loan on it. The bank was not then organized, and had no reserve. The life company did not advance money, but gave the debentures in exchange for bank stock. The Bank of British North America, advanced $75,000 on the debentures.

The celebrated "blanket" mining suit, which was heard by Chancellor Boyd, has been won by the government. The latter had entered an action to have set aside leases of valuable mining lands in the Cobalt district granted to Edward Hargraves, and the White Mining company of Bay City. Judge Boyd holds that the leases can be cancelled, but the government should allow compensation to the present holders for actual work.

WILL SENATE KILL IT.

The Uncertain Position of the Lord's Day Bill.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto News writes:

The situation with regard to the Lord's Day bill is curiously mixed. The long and the short of it is that the friends of the bill may as well give up all hope of seeing the measure on the statute book this year. After the Commons the bill must face the senate. The impression prevails that the very topmost members of the transportation companies are distinctly serene over the outlook. One very prominent railway man, who holds close relations with the government, is understood to have said that he holds a promise to kill the bill. Word of this arrangement does not seem, however, to have been passed down to their subordinates.

Why, then, this hubbub in the Commons?

Sir Wilfrid Laurier gave a hint in his speech on Thursday: "Last year it was Shearman; this year it is Shearman." It would help him at present to be represented in Ontario, as the man who is driving the Sunday legislation through in the teeth of the opposition of his own province of Quebec. The Quebec opposition is certainly strong, and some part at least of it is sincere.

There was no sham fighting about Mr. Bourassa's rebellion on Thursday, and he has the support of many French liberals who ordinarily do not share his independence. But Mr. Bourassa is not taken wholly into the councils of the government, and the impression in Ontario, as the man who is driving the Sunday legislation through in the teeth of the opposition of his own province of Quebec. The Quebec opposition is certainly strong, and some part at least of it is sincere.

So curious a situation, so intricate a game, must mean complications, and they are quite numerous enough. One is the manner in which the French-Canadian revolt has emboldened the English-speaking parliamentaries to represent special interests to fight the bill by line.

Another is the heat which the contest generated to the straining of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's authority over the bill.

Apart from his stand-up fight with Mr. Bourassa the bill has had a very rough time.

Now there is a postponement, and Mr. Aylesworth has come to Toronto, on a Thursday night, instead of waiting for the week end.

In view of the difficulty which is being experienced in forcing the measure through the Commons, without resorting to the hazardous expedient of passing the word around that reliance is to be placed upon the senate, the minister of justice has gone to consult the powers behind the Lord's Day Alliance to represent to them the strength of the forces aroused against their measure and to try to secure a compromise.

BOY KILLS COMPANION.

Victim Told Slayer the Gun Was Not Loaded.

St. John, N.B., June 25.—A. Sussan, N.B., dispatch says that William Ryder, aged eighteen, was killed there by a bullet from a rifle in the hands of his cousin, Wesley Kincaid, aged fourteen. The boys were alone in the woods at Jordan Mountain. Ryder passed Kincaid his rifle, and told him it was not loaded, if he did not believe it to point it at him. This he did and fired, and Ryder fell, with his forehead crushed in and both eyes put out. Ryder lives some time, but Kincaid ran for help. Marshall McLeod, of Sussex, went to the scene.

LARGEST IN OTTAWA.

Successful Pastorate of Rev. William McElroy.

An Ottawa special to the Whi says: "Hon. Mortimer Clark, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, will lay the cornerstone of the new St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, on Thursday evening. This is the church Rev. William McElroy, formerly of Kingston, has charge of. He has been instrumental in wiping out a debt of $5,000, and in the capture of the transportation companies in Ottawa, the largest Presbyterian one in Ottawa."

THE KING'S HEALTH

Is Causing Great Uneasiness—Drowsiness the Trouble.

London, June 25.—Alarm is felt, to-day, over King Edward's health, or more troubles having come with the increase in flesh. Drowsiness is his greatest enemy, and it is whispered that during the luncheon to Mr. Longworth he was several times asleep, and also dozed in his box at the Ascot races.

Sues Warden Platt.

The escape and rearrest of Chartland, the penitentiary life convict, has furnished a civil action, arising out of the reward offered for the convict's arrest, by Dr. Platt, warden. Some time ago, Dr. Platt, commissioner of the Dominion police, awarded $100 equally between Constable W. I. Mallory, R. Davis and R. Gyles, for a part they took in the capture. Mallory, who made the arrest, declined his share. Now he has sued Dr. Platt in the division court for the $100 he hung out in his telegram to police officials the morning Chartland escaped.

Dr. Platt says he is not liable for the amount, as he named it only for the Dominion police department.

A Quiet Wedding.

The groom, though a resident now of Montreal, is well known in Kingston, his home city. He was formerly connected with the News. The bride received many very handsome presents as a token of her popularity.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis left on the noon train east for their home in Montreal.

Accident in Mountains.

Winnipeg, June 25.—Train 96 from the west was cancelled yesterday, and a special arrived nearly twelve hours late. The cause of the delay is reported to be an accident in the mountains, in which a bridge was destroyed. Three men are believed to have been killed, but no particulars of a definite character can be learned.
