 Anti-Semite Disturbances Un-

St. Petersburg, June 27.—Impassioned speeches were made yesterday in the Duma on the question of the illegality of the mobilization of Cossacks. Some of the speakers maintained the Cossacks now understood matters, and would not leave their homes to act as police. Yesterday's speeches, couched in ardent revolutionary tones, were delivered with the direct object of their dissemination among the soldiers.

The authorities, who are able to confiscate papers containing telegraphic accounts of the discontent among the soldiery, are unable to prevent the publication of parliamentary speeches, and those which will be printed to-day in every radical paper in the empire, and so find their way into every barracks, camp and outpost.

Several hundred members of the supposed ultra-loyal Breobratensky regiment are reported to have drawn up a resolution declaring they want no more police duty, and in consequence of their ardent revolutionary sloying of brother officers. Other meetings are of daily occurrence. The Cossacks, at Kostov on Don, are said to have refused to leave their quarters to suppress anti-semitic disturbances unless pensions are guaranteed their families in case of death.

PITH OF THE NEWS.

The Very Latest Culled From All Over The World.

SS. Buria, McLea, McIntyre line from London, reported inward at Folkestone, Wednesday morning.

The skeleton of a man was discovered during the demolition of some offices in Bishopsgate street Within London. It was buried deeply in the ground, and there is no churchyard anywhere near the place.

Several massive gold bracelets, each weighing more than three pounds, and said to be of Roman workmanship, have been discovered in a sandpit on the borders of the Heath, a short distance from the historic Roman road through Kent known as Watling street.

Another instance of the encroachment of the sea in Kent has been reported. An obelisk situated at the mouth of the Yantlet, at Grain, has been washed away. This was known as the London stone, and marked (in conjunction with the cross stone at Leigh, on the opposite of the river), the boundary of the Thames Conservancy.

It is announced that the French minister of marine has awarded a thousand francs to Penn, a pensioner seaman on the London & Southwestern company's steamer Hilda, which was lost off St. Malo, last November.

This was the man who supported two Breton boys on the rock for twelve hours, during the terrible blizzard which prevailed at the time. Unfortunately, both boys died of exposure.

KING DENIES

HIS MAJESTY'S TRIBUTE TO THE JEWS.

Changed the Date of His Court for Them—If King Visits Canada His Progress From Ocean to Ocean Will Be Triumphant Procession.

London, June 27.—King Edward, through Lord Knollys, his private secretary, emphatically denies the report that he has conferred with Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the prime minister, or any other member of the cabinet, in regard to taking strong action against anarchists.

King's Tribute to Hebrews.

London, June 27.—The court arranged for the evening of Friday, June 29th, has been altered to June 28th, at his majesty's command. The purpose, it is unofficially stated, was to enable the chief rabbi and other leading Hebrews, to attend the observance of their Sabbath, which begins at sunset on Friday, having hitherto, prevented Hebrews from attending the courts. It is understood, that hereafter, one court annually will be held on some other day than Friday. It is suggested that the step is taken to mark the king's abhorrence of anti-Semitism.

A Triumphant Procession.

London, June 27.—The Standard comments on the eagerness with which Canadians discuss the possible visit of the king, and predicts that if the king accepts the invitation, his progress from ocean to ocean will be a triumphal procession of which history can furnish no parallel.

CAMP FATALITY.

Arthur P. German of Fort Hope, Killed.

Cobourg, June 27.—The first fatality since the opening of the camp occurred late last night, the victim being a visitor at camp. Arthur P. German, aged twenty-two, whose widow and mother resides in Fort Hope, called down from that town on Sunday to visit his two brothers. Last night about eight o'clock he said good-bye to one brother in the 46th officers' mess quarters. The other accompanied him to the station, which he presumably left about 11 p.m. He was probably making his way on a freight, and his dead body, sadly mutilated, was found beside the track this morning, about a quarter of a mile from the station.
 Dr. Elliott, coroner, empaneled a jury, which met this forenoon, and then adjourned until Thursday night. The young man had been serving in the ambulance corps in the Philippines, and had also been a ward assistant in St. Michael's hospital, Toronto; St.
 Michael's, Wisconsin, and St.
 Joseph's, Peterboro.
