MRS. H.J. CAMPBELL

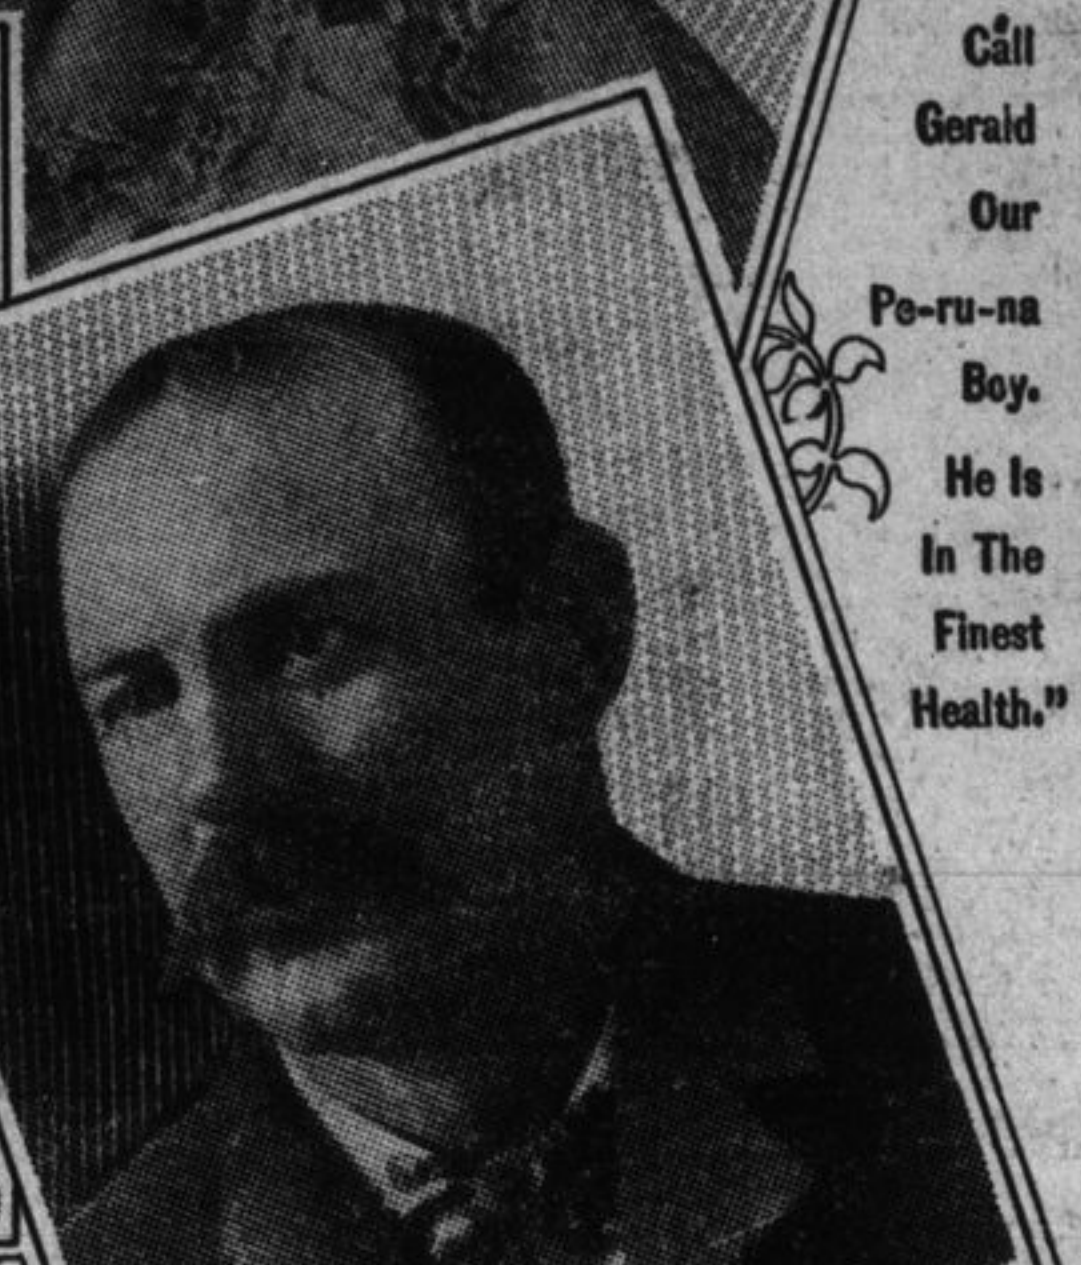

Mr. Henry S. Campbell, 1737 S. Williams St., Denver, Col., State Deputy of Modern Woodmen, Montana, and Delegate of Builders Trades Council, writes: "Peruna has been a blessing in our home. My wife was in poor health for several years and nothing but Peruna helped her. She gradually recovered her health and became the mother of a boy which blessed our home. We call Gerald our Peruna boy. He is in the finest of health and his mother has never enjoyed such excellent health."

A RECENT LETTER. A recent letter received from Mr. and Mrs. Campbell is, as follows: "We still use Peruna and in addition to our son, Gerald, who is a fat and

THE MONOPOLY GRIP SEEMS TO BE TIGHTENING ON CANADA.

The Little Fellows Will Be Crushed to the Wall--Individual Enterprise Will Be Checked--No Sunday Golf or Cricket. From Our Own Correspondent. (Ottawa), July 6.--The government's bill to amend the railway act, has been one of the important measures of the session. It has passed. To deal with the bill from a negative point of view, in order to illustrate that there are trends of opinion not satisfied with it, perhaps it would be well for a moment to consider what in the end the common referee has done. First of all, the government refused protection against the Bell Telephone company monopoly to rural municipalities. How does this work out? It means that the streets of a municipality are not its own, that the Bell company can tear them up at will, can establish their unsightly posts on the thoroughfare, and render the towns another hideous monstrosity. There is no redress; the company can do practically what it likes.

Another matter which has been refused is interconnection between telephone companies. See how this works out. A rural municipality, a farming district, or some isolated community, we shall say, has had its little telephone system of its own established for a long time. The savings of these not overly wealthy people financed it, and built it. It is there, a living fact. The Bell company's trunk lines come along and the rural company asks connection with its trunk lines. It is not a competition on the part of the small company; it is a case of a big company or trust coming into the field. The Bell company begins to establish a rival telephone system, having connections with trunk lines. The people must have long distance, and in the small company goes to the wall. There is no recourse. The government has refused to compel the monopoly to serve the public.

Another matter which has been refused is the two-cent rate. In the old country the two-cent rate prevailed, and in most parts it still stands. States it has gone into operation. Evidently the Canadian day of cheap railway travelling is not yet, but it is bound to come soon.

Another matter which has been refused is the two-cent rate. In the old country the two-cent rate prevailed, and in most parts it still stands. States it has gone into operation. Evidently the Canadian day of cheap railway travelling is not yet, but it is bound to come soon.

It was also refused to provide a date within which express companies must submit to the control of the government. A feature of our modern life has been the rise and progress of express companies and their systems. From being a luxury they are now a necessity and rank as a public utility, therefore, it was felt that it was time they were brought under the control of some responsible body, such as the railway commission. However, that seems not to be yet a white.

Two things must be remembered. The first is that this is not altogether a new matter. If the opposition, for the most part has found these questions it has been simply for the sake of opposition. The other thing to be remembered is that there are many who are in favor of it, all of which have already been dealt with and so we have certainly made progress. But one thing above all others has to be borne in mind, that there are certain companies and corporations, rather should we call them trusts and monopolies, which, if apt to be torn from the ground, would uproot and destroy individual enterprise, which is the heart of the nation. Men of that stamp should not be sent to parliament, where laws are made and legislation gives.

Take the case of Manitoba. The province has practically been ordered to build her own trunk telephone lines, and submit to all the competition possible in the way of building up a private system for the people. She can do it and will do it for a people can do anything, but she will have difficulties for there are enemies within her gates.

Another important matter was decided to-day by parliament in connection with the Lord's Day Observance bill. There will be no Sunday golf and no Sunday cricket, no such like things.

Two Drunks In Court. An old offender, a drunk, in police court, to-day, was taxed $3 and costs for his spree. A first timer, claiming to be from London, and working "back here in the country," was dismissed.

Mechanics, Farmers, Sportsmen. To heal and soften the skin and remove greasy lumps and rust stains, paint and earth, etc., use The "Master Mechanic's" Tar Soap, Albert Toilet Soap Co., Manufacturers.

A New Kindergarten. Miss Stella Knapp, daughter of ex-Ald. James Knapp, has been appointed kindergarten teacher, in succession to Miss May Martin, recently resigned.

A gasoline vat in the Cosandaj dye works, at Saginaw, Mich., exploded on Friday morning, causing the death of four persons, as far as is known. Many persons are reported injured in nearby buildings.

Miss Kathleen Quinlan, attending the convent during the past year, is spending a few days at home in Hamilton. Miss Kathleen's father, Glesby, Burnie, before returning to her home in Belleville. A Middleville correspondent writes: Few of those who attended school with Miss Bertha Reid in the old day school of years gone by, would have recognized her in Mrs. Readman, of Kingston, who paid a flying visit to her cousin on Sunday last.

LATE SOCIAL NOTES.

Miss Nellie Skimin, M.D. C.M., who is well known here, died in Hamilton, yesterday. She was a sister of Dr. Alice Macgillivray, who was one of three who were the first graduates of the women's medical college here. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Objection to Cutting Down Trees. Kingston, July 7. (To the Editor): The communication of residents of George street, to have the beautiful row of trees cut down certainly exhibits an utter disregard for the beauty of the city. That beautiful arch of green, formed by the two rows of trees on that street, has long been one of the beauty features of Kingston, and to ruthlessly destroy this would be a piece of vandalism that should not be considered for a moment. It is unfortunate that Ald. Bassan had so little appreciation of the beauty of the trees and to a city to want more trees cut down. There has been altogether too much tree cutting this season and many fine specimens have been sacrificed to satisfy the whims of some. If the civic improvement society is not dead, it should be doing something to save our trees. TREE LOVER.

What He Meant. Ald. Bassan contended this morning that the press report of Thursday evening's meeting of the board of works misquoted him. He did not mean it to be understood that E. J. McClelland would cost the city $1,500 more if appointed city engineer than would other applicants. The idea was that paying for expert advice would, including the $1,000 per year asked by Mr. McClelland, bring the cost of maintaining the position up to over $1,500.

Late Marine Notes. The schooner Charlie Marshall is at the penitentiary wharf with stone from Cobourg. The schooner Clara Youell is at Crawford's with coal from Fairhaven. The schooner Sufel clears, to-night, for Charlottetown. The ridiculous custom of wearing that shining funnel, the silk hat, will appear as stippling to our great-grandchildren, as the custom of putting a bone through the lip or a ring through the nostril appears monstrous to us.

Murder may be the result of a visit one duel fought between Thomas Egleston and William Washington Prince in a yard on William street, Buffalo, N. Y. Prime is in a critical condition. A grocery store has been opened in the hotel at Butternut Bay by Stanley Cromwell, of Lyn. John Marsh, justice of the county jail, Belleville, since May, 1881, has handed in his resignation. P. Moran, hotel-keeper, Calabogie, was charged, by Inspector Connolly, with an infraction of the license law, the sale of liquor on Sunday. He was fined $50 and costs. Philip Slack, Athens, is dead, from a complication of disease, induced by pneumonia. He was aged sixty-four and was a staunch liberal, a Methodist and an Oddfellow.

Miss Maggie MacStevenson, eldest daughter of William MacStevenson, Picton, after an illness extending over several months, passed away on Saturday. The late Miss MacStevenson was a true friend and Christian. The barn of John Milton Hughes, Sharp's Corners, was struck by lightning, on June 28th, during the storm. It was completely destroyed, with contents, including ten tons of hay, 100 bushels grain, new binder, horse-rack, mower and other implements. Loss, $1,200. No insurance. C. J. White, Tweed, has resigned his position as division court clerk, to accept a position as manager of one of the departments in the head office of the Canadian General Electric company at Toronto. F. A. Bartlett, Tweed, is recommended for the vacant division court clerkship.

Howard C. Buckle was killed at Terra Haute, Indiana, on Monday last, a derrick falling on him and fracturing his skull. Deceased was in his thirty-second year, and was a son-in-law of Patrick McLaughlin, Napanee. He leaves a wife and one child. The remains were brought to Napanee, and interred. Mrs. C. Fraser Aylesworth, Madoc, died on June 29th from decline. She was aged forty-one years, the youngest daughter of the late David Deans. Besides her husband, she leaves two children, Misses Grace and Gladys. Her husband was unable to be present at her death or funeral, as he has charge of the government survey in North-western Manitoba, and telegrams failed to reach him in time. The home of Burton Vincent, Fairmount, was the scene of a happy gathering, June 28th, in the honor of the eighteenth birthday of his step-daughter, D. W. Rutlan, Picton. Mr. Rutlan is one of the county's oldest inhabitants, and the way he carries his advanced years speaks volumes for the healthfulness of Prince Edward. One feature of the gathering was the presence of four generations, which were composed of Mr. Rutlan, his daughter, Mrs. Edgbert Dolong; Mrs. Dolong's son, Everette, and his little son, Ernest.

Mrs. Aaron Insley died very suddenly in Picton, on June 29th. She was taken ill the previous evening and the crying of her baby alarmed the neighbors. Mr. Insley, who is a member of the 14th Regiment, was away at camp and Mrs. Insley and her little child were alone in the house. Getting no response from within, the door was forced open and Mrs. Insley was discovered on the floor in convulsions. The deceased had evidently been about to retire for the night and fell with the lamp in her hand. Medical aid was summoned, but the woman never regained consciousness. The deceased was twenty-six years of age.

May Play Again.

The Irishmen and the Three Linkers will probably meet again in the near future. The last time these teams faced each other on the diamond, a most interesting contest resulted, so that should another game be arranged it should attract the fans. The Catholic cemetery committee intends getting up a picnic for the 30th of this month. The proceeds to be devoted towards improvements to the burial ground. An effort is being made to arrange the game for that date.

A Big Undertaking.

William Leslie, of this city, has been awarded the contract to float the Allan steamship Havarian, which is on a rock, sixty miles below Quebec. Several wrecking companies have been at work, but have failed to release the big vessel. Mr. Leslie is now going to try, and he is sure he can accomplish the task. If he does so, it will be a great feat for Kingston's veteran marine wrecking company. It is understood that if Mr. Leslie succeeds, he will get one-third the value of the vessel.

Accepted Professorship.

J. N. Dales, B.A., of the Kingston Collegiate Institute staff, has accepted the position of professor of modern languages, in McMaster University, Toronto. The departure of Mr. Dales is greatly regretted by the Board of Education and all connected with the collegiate. For eighteen years he has been the faithful teacher of French and German at the institute here, and won the respect and confidence of the pupils and his teaching associates. It is likely that his successor will be John Hale, who has acted as assistant to Mr. Dales during the past year.

Old Boys' Home-Coming.

Many people are asking about what reception the city will tender to the Old Boys when they come home on July 28th. There will be nothing elaborate as the city council has seen fit to make no grant. No money is being collected. The Victoria day celebration committee made a grant of $200. It is likely that the excursion will be met by a band and that a Sunday evening concert will be arranged. The yacht club will likely have its reopening and race on Monday, the 30th, civic holiday. The SS. Escalona, Thomson line, from Middleboro, inward, at Father Point, 5:45 a.m. First Sleeplessness, Then Melancholia. Brooding, restless, sleepless, these dreadful conditions go hand in hand. Brooding disappears, restlessness gives way to calm, and sleeplessness merges into that rest that makes for health. With lassitude and dispair turned into energy and life, hope, the enormous benefits of Ferrous are at once realized. "I fell into a state of exhaustion, was run down and couldn't sleep," writes Mrs. J. Streed, of Dexter, Pa. Q. "I tried Ferrous and was quickly benefited. To anyone suffering from overworked nerves and sleeplessness, I can recommend Ferrous. No tonic better." Sold everywhere. 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50. By mail from N. C. It is not the Fortnightly Club giving the dinner and picnic, Monday, at the park. The mistake arose through some of the club's members being among those instrumental in the picnic.

To-night only a 25c. guaranteed tooth brush and bottle of tooth wash for 20c., at Best's. Physical director, Beall, of the Y.M.C.A., would be glad of the loan of two tents or a couple of row-boats for use at the Y.M.C.A. camp. The deceased was twenty-six years of age.

Fred Was Promoted.

Frederick Hephurn, the famous old caterer, is not seen on Lakes Ontario waters as of yore. And many regret it, too. But the Rebel and Ontario Navigation company found him such a valuable man that he was given the most prominent position in the company's gift, the stewardship of the palace steamer Montreal, running between Montreal and Quebec. He has magnificent equipment, dining-room, steward's hall, etc., and his team is of the excellent type, his American friends declaring his cuisine the equal of anything on the waters of the continent. Fred is fond of old friends and a Whig man, down east recently, was highly entertained both by stories and tempting viands. He fills the bill to the queen's taste on the palace steamer.
