A FINE OLD CHURCH

A RELIGIOUS LANDMARK AT DELTA, ONT.

The Steady Progress Being Made in Ontario Diocese—Re-Open Services Were Very Bright.

One of the oldest churches in Ontario diocese has been undergoing for months thorough renovation and repair, St. Paul's, Delta. It has long been considered the history of an old settled section of country and stands beautified, one of the landmarks of the county of Leeds. The early pioneer adherents of the Church of England, from the old land and, as well, United Empire Loyalists, raised the walls of stonework in 1811. Roofing it in and laying the floor they offered to share the building with the Baptists if they

GENERAL NOTES.

Gathered Together From Many Sources.

Sir William Dunt has given £50,000 to the Presbyterian church of England. He sat as a Liberal in the last Parliament for Paisley.

In China are over 250 mission hospitals and dispensaries, 300 foreign physicians, 5,000 trained native assistants, caring for over 2,000,000 patients each year.

Following the example of the Society of St. Jerome, Italy, under the new Pope's policy, cheap copies of the gospel are being sold under the auspices of the Roman church in Brazil.

Mr. Shen Ke-I, of Shanghai, has founded a Society for the Reforming of Private Elementary Schools, and established twenty-one branches, having 200 teachers and over 3,000 pupils.

A Chicago contractor, a bachelor, who has recently, has left $20,000 for the support of a pet Scotch terrier, named Bill, ten years of age, yet missions to the heathen are still in struggling state.

Dr. Griffith John, from Hankow, in China, considers that he is now looking at the beginning of an entirely new China. The changes in the next twenty years will astonish the world, for the whole of the East seems to be undergoing a wonderful transformation.

The American consul at Hankow recently said that on the streets he could distinguish Chinese women, not only because they were neater and cleaner, but by the expression of their faces, which are happier, stronger and brighter than those of the heathen.

The editor of one of the large daily papers in Northern Japan wrote thus not long since:—"Our ideas of loyalty and obedience have been changed, and when we inquire into this great moral advance, we can find in it nothing else than the religion of Jesus."

The industrial mission in India, during the past year, has been cheered by the gift from two friends of Rs. 1,000 for a church building at Pilibhit. Services have been held in shed or tent under trees, as weather permitted.

There have been remarkable scenes in connection with the transformation of temples into schools in China. The imperial edict in Southern China. In one instance the prefect ordered his workmen to a temple beautifully situated in a grove trees, to pull the idols from their thrones, to split them in two, and to burn them.

Speaking at a meeting in South Africa, Hon. Marshall Campbell, a member of the Native Affairs Commission, said that the majority of the members of that Commission joined with the idea that they understood all about the natives, but they soon found that they had underrated the work done by missionaries in South Africa. Before the sitting he concluded, each member admitted that it was the missionary alone who was bringing the native out of darkness into light.

The unveiling of the Gladstone memorial in Hawarden church will take place on July 25th by the Bishop of St. Asaph. This date is the anniversary of the double wedding at Hawarden of Gladstone and Lady Lytton (sister of Mrs. Gladstone). During the same week, W. C. Gladstone, grandson of the statesman, celebrates his coming of age, and on the Sunday following special sermons will be preached at Hawarden church by the Bishop of Sturbridge.

A congress will be opened in Tokyo for the finding of the religion best adapted to become the State religion of Japan. Representatives of principal creeds the world over will attend. The most interesting delegate will be Abdirrahman whose name five years ago attracted the attention of the British government, an official in one of the British colonies, and president of several Christian societies. He turned Moslem propagandist for Islam in India. Another case of perverted intellect, like that of innumerable heathens.

Heathen in His Blindness.

A strange act of fanaticism caused the loss of several lives at Nasad, near Bombay. A Sadhu, who claimed to be the divinity, piled wood in a deep pit, and invited believers to descend with him into the flames. He promised them immunity from harm, and the happiness of a glimpse of heaven. Five of whom were women—went down into the pit, but soon shouted for help. Attempt was made to raise them, but the ropes broke and the fanatics fell back into the flames. Three were rescued, but the others died.

Missions Were Blessed.

A remarkable letter of thanks was received recently by the London Missionary Society, from the Christian community at Behele, Cape Colony, for the results of missionary work. Since Dr. Vanderkemp was sent thither in 1808, a century has passed. This developed into 150 churches which has 20,000 adherents. They sprang from the efforts of the Society, besides the generations of believers who have passed away in the meantime.

ABOLISH THE CANTEN.

The Trial of Abolition Has Had Bad Effect.

"Abolish the Canteen" has been a cry of but little effect in the United States and Canada. In the former land the cry of abolition had indeed had effect. The reformers began at the wrong end by forcing abstinence through privation of the opportunities. In the British army, the beginning has been in moral suasion, and the canteens of many army stations has become a grocery rather than a grogery. The Royal Army Temperance Society recently held its annual meeting under the presidency of the Duke of Connaught, and claimed 40,000 members, nearly half the army strength. The church's plan of moral influence will win out every time, because it wins, leads and associates, and grants men the privilege of sacrificing the personal liberties at their own will, but by a single command.

The first church in Western Australia was unique in two respects. It was made at Perth by soldiers shortly after their arrival in 1829 and was composed almost entirely of bulwarks. In addition to its use on Sundays, it occasionally served as an amateur theater during the week, and during the whole time at barracks.

Old Custom In Ripon.

A quaint custom is observed in Ripon, England, lasting since the city was surrounded by walls on which a watch was kept. An officer bearing the name of the "Wakeman," blows a horn at nine o'clock in the evening, as in good King Alfred's days. Three blasts are given at the Market Cross, an obelisk ninety feet high, surmounted by the arms of Ripon, a bugle, horn, and a spur wheel. After this the wakeman proceeds to the mayor's residence, and gives three blasts more; then again at the four corners of the cross the blasts are repeated. The ancient horn is decorated with silver and gilded, and bears the insignia of leading companies of the town. It is still borne by the sergeant-at-mace in civic processions. In the far-away days the "three long wailing blasts" were to gather benighted pilgrims to a place of safety, and to proclaim that the city was in safe keeping until the rising of the sun. If, after the sounding of the horn, any shops or houses were broken open and robbed the loss was made good to the sufferers. For this obligation every household had to pay a tax of fourpence a year; if he had more than one door the fee was raised to eightpence. The motto of the town is:—"Except the Lord keeps the city the wakeman wakens in vain."

Fling Out Your Banner.

Rev. George Washington Doane, 1799-1854, a prolific writer and author of a number of hymns, his works of prose and poetry, in four volumes, were published in 1850. This missionary hymn, was written at Ripon, in 1848.

Fling out the banner! Let it float
The sun that lights its shining folds
The cross on which the Saviour died.
Fling out the banner! Let it float
In anxious silence o'er the sea.
And yield the love divine.

Fling out the banner! Heavens lands
Shall tremble for the Lord's great name.
And nations crowding to be born
Shall praise the name of Jesus Christ.
Fling out the banner! Sing, ye saints,
That sink and perish in the strife,
Shall tread the path of holiness,
And spring immortal into life.
Fling out the banner! Sing, ye saints,
Skyward and onward, high and wide:
Our glory, only in the cross;
Our only hope, the Crucified!

Fling out the banner! Wide and high
Shall be the shout of Christian men:
Nor skill, nor might, nor merit ours:
We conquer only in this sign.

Marvellous Escape.

Recently the congregation at Woolley Church, near Wells, Somerset, England, were singing the hymn, "Oh, the joy and the glory must be a fireball split the steeple in two and passed through the roof. Explosions occurred, and the roof of the church, and the congregation, perished, and the doors. Several persons were slightly injured, and in response to an appeal by the vicar the congregation afterwards returned and offered special prayers for their marvellous escape. A huge block of freestone was prevented by a lead-covering and two pillars from crashing through the roof on to the heads of persons in the church.

What They Swear.

The judicial oath in the Isle of Man is so quaint as to deserve printing:—"By this book and the holy scriptures thereof, and by the wonderful works that God hath miraculously wrought in heaven above and in the earth beneath in six days and seven nights, I do swear that I will, without respect of favour or friendship, love or gain, consequence or affinity, envy or malice, execute the laws of the King, and the laws of the land, and the laws of the Christian religion, and the laws of the King and his subjects within this isle, betwixt party and party, as indifferently as the herring's backbone doth lie in the midst of the fish."

Collapse Of An Abbey.

Part of the nave of Thorney Abbey, probably the oldest parish church in Cambridgeshire, fell recently. Workmen have been rebuilding it, but there was no warning of the disaster. Fortunately no one was injured. The abbey was formerly attached to Peterborough monastery, and is equidistant between that city and Crowland, where the north wall of the abbey, recently buckled. The church, which is on the Duke of Bedford's estate, was partly rebuilt in 1670, but the nave belongs to the 12th century building.

Days Of Fendalism.

Hellingham all is the seat of Lord Tollenmache in Suffolk, about eight miles from Ipswich, England. The existing drawbridge has been raised every night for 300 years. Another fine example of a moated house is Leeds Castle, near Maidstone, in Kent, which forms almost a lake crossed by a single bridge. There is a fine moat at Wells, in Somersetshire, where the episcopal palace, an ancient castellated mansion, is surrounded with an enclosing seven acres of ground. This moat is supplied with water from St. Andrew's Well.

Overworked Clergymen.

A few examples of the manner some Church of England clergymen are overworked were given at the meeting of the Additional Curate's Society. A great parish in the north of London has only three clergymen for 10,000 persons. A parish in the Durham diocese has only two clergymen for 15,000; while two Glamorganshire parishes, with more than 10,000 people in each, had only two clergymen.

OPPOSED TO MISSIONS.

Mission Extension is Wish of Most High.

The Bishop of Birmingham, in a recent lecture, dealing with objections to foreign missions, pointed out that the doctrine that every race of mankind is entitled to the principle of evangelism was an objection to Christianity itself. There was nothing more integral to the New Testament than the doctrine that every race of mankind was to be brought within the scope of the Gospel. He admitted the difficulties in the way of a realization of the brotherhood of man, but it was only as Christianity had become catholic that its great results and meanings had disclosed themselves. There never was a moment more manifestly marked by the divine hand of Providence for missionary extension than the present. For the first time and in a fresh and new way, the civilization of the western and penetrating the countries that were not yet Christian, and if they failed to take their opportunity it would mean the doom of God on their civilization at home.
