COMMERCIAL MATTERS.

What is Going On in the Business World--The Markets.

Bank of England notes are numbered backwards, that is from one to 10,000, hence the figures 099,01.

The Canadian commercial agent in Trinidad writes to the department that the sugar crop was the largest on record. There were 127,000 bags sent to America, and 195,000 to the United Kingdom, and none to the United States.

The electric plant to be used to light the St. Clair tunnel is about ready to be installed. This will cost the Grand Trunk about $700,000. The electric locomotives to be used will employ the alternating current and will be capable of hauling a passenger train on the grade at a speed of from 20 to 25 miles an hour and a 10,000-ton freight at ten miles an hour.

Notwithstanding the policy decided upon by the Canadian Pacific railway set to sell any large blocks of land to companies, the sale for the month of June made a new high record for this month, increasing to 75,450 acres for $250,015, compared with 64,918 acres for $240,759 in the previous month.

The Canadian oil fields produced 634,000 barrels of oil in 1905, valued at $849,087. This was a considerable gain over the production of 522,422 barrels, valued at $1,048,974. In 1904 the production was 591,190 barrels, valued at $1,190,190. For the seven years from 1895 to 1902 inclusive the value of Canada's oil production was $1,000,000 per annum. In 1898 the Canadian oil fields produced 750,000 barrels.

Chesse Markets. Lindsay, July 9.—Salmonen came looking for a ten-month price and they got 11 3/4c, which was very satisfactory. The 14 factories boarded 1,508 cheese. The entire lot was disposed of.

Not Known To Him.

The secretary-treasurer of the Queen's University Athletic committee claims that he has no knowledge of the college campus being granted for practice purposes to the Kingston Cricket Club. Early in the summer several applications along this line were received from lacrosse, baseball, tennis and other clubs and all were refused on the understanding that it would be unfair and improper to discriminate and also that it was desirable that the college grounds should be more private than formerly. When the application of the cricket club was considered at a recent meeting of the grounds committee it was therefore decided that in pursuance of the policy already laid down, no action be taken and the club was to be notified to that effect.

To Air Assyrian Troubles.

Nothing materialized of the trouble among the local Assyrians for today's police court. Joseph Shatela, who has complaints to lay against Nicholas Rahal, failed to register. To-day Rahal took the proper methods in laying information against Shatela, and Wednesday's court will likely ring with trouble. Rahal claims his countryman broke a window in his home and the charge will be "abusive language and disorderly conduct."

Lease Expires On August 1st.

Some time ago, the city council, on recommendation of the property committee, decided to no longer lease the markets, but that the city should collect the tolls, as the lease expires in three weeks, a special meeting of the council will have to be held to decide who is to collect the fees.

TRIED TO OUST HIM

FROM POSITION WHILE HE WAS ILL.

Evidence Before the Insurance Commission--Spence's Charge Against Crawford--Ottawa Wants Electric Power.

Toronto, July 10.—The evidence of Thomas Crawford before the insurance commission this morning became exceptionally interesting. Mr. Crawford was for some years president of the Central Life Insurance company, the head office of which is in Guelph. He resigned from that office because of a disagreement with the managing director, John M. Spence. The history of a kind of feud between Mr. Crawford, Mr. Spence and Hon. J. W. St. John, a director, was related by the former president and managing director, respectively. Incidentally, Mr. Crawford admitted he had authorized the sale of debentures of the Provincial Building and Loan company, of which he was president, to the Central Life Insurance company, which he also president. These debentures were also previously refused as security for the government deposit by the insurance department. Mr. Crawford also admitted he had borrowed $1,000 from the Central Life company, giving no other security than his note. Mr. Spence charged that Mr. Crawford tried to oust him from his position while he was ill, and that Mr. Crawford had endeavored to secure enough proxies to elect himself manager.

A deputation representing the city council of Ottawa waited on the hydro-electric power commission, this morning, and made a direct request for the assistance of that body, under the terms of the power bill, in securing cheap electrical energy for the capital. The commissioners referred the deputation to the clause of the bill requiring that a small board, desiring to take advantage of it, must pass a resolution making formal application to the commission and saying what particular course they wish this body to pursue. Mayor Ellis said the council probably would ask the commission to lease power and then release the power to the city.

FIXED HOUR OF DEATH.

Writes Her Obituary With Strange Exactness.

New Castle, Pa., July 10.—Miss Nannie Kyle, a handsome young woman of Springfield township, handed a sealed envelope to William Johnston, an undertaker of New Castle, two months ago, with instructions that it be not opened until after her death. The undertaker, laughing, took the envelope, and read that, judging from its appearance, he would keep it a long time, as Miss Kyle, who was twenty-seven years old, was the picture of good health. He placed the envelope in his safe and forgot about it. Johnston was called to the Kyle residence, and found Miss Kyle dead. She had died of stomach trouble. When the undertaker returned to his home, he opened the envelope and found that it contained the announcement of the girl's death, giving the day and hour, correctly, the cause of her death, and her biography.

THE WOMAN FOUND

Who Will Testify Against Harry Thaw.

New York, July 10.—The district attorney officials disclosed the woman who will be the star witness in the prosecution against Harry Thaw. The woman is Mrs. Beatrice Schwartz, who was an intimate friend of Thaw. She was also acquainted with Evelyn Nesbit, and was present when Thaw, in a rage, drew a revolver from his pocket and declared he would yet kill White. She, however, heeded the warning. The kindest feelings for Evelyn Nesbit, when she told him of Evelyn Nesbit's marriage to Thaw in Pittsburgh, White said: "Poor, wayward kid, that is the best thing that could have happened to her." Mrs. Schwartz is a woman of independent means and will be an irreproachable witness.

PASSING CHEQUES

That Were Stolen From One of Departments.

Ottawa, July 10.—Thomas Corcoran, the clerk in the marine and fisheries department, who disappeared on May 24th, having stolen a check book of the department, forging the name of assistant chief clerk and obtaining $10,000 in Ottawa, is alleged to have passed more of the checks in New York. More checks from the book stolen by Corcoran have reached the local banks, and others have been returned to the finance department. The dominion police have been unable to trace the alleged thief, but are keeping up the search.

CAN'T LIVE ON $800.

Resigns on Account of Low Salary.

Ottawa, July 10.—Rev. J. A. Shaw, rector of Sandown, diocese of Ottawa, has addressed an open letter to Bishop Hamilton, resigning from the ministry. His reason is that he cannot keep his family on $800 a year, the stipend as he got when he entered the ministry a single man. He says at this figure live more than seven-tenths of his brethren. He asks that some single layman take up the work that he is quitting.

LITTLE PARASOLS.

Fashion of Fifty Years Ago Revived.

London, July 10.—The picture hat appears to be in danger, for fashion has decreed the use of a parasol so tiny that it can do little more than protect the eyes from the sun's rays, and the wearing of a wide-brimmed hat at the same time verges on the ludicrous.

This is a revival of a style that was in vogue half a century ago, and the young women who are already appearing with the miniature sunshades give one the impression that some of John Leech's pictures have come to life. In Leech's day the little parasols had fringes of silk and tassels. The present style resembles the carriage umbrella, but is much smaller. As fashion is not altogether capricious, it is fair to conjecture that the return of the little parasol is due to the motor car, for it can be disposed of in a car more readily than the familiar large parasol. It is being whispered that the little parasol may be the forerunner of a small beauty for young women and matrons, for if the revived article is to stay there must be headgear suitable to it.

Missappropriated $1,500,000.

London, July 10.—A sensation was caused in London financial circles today by the disclosure of a discrepancy of about $1,500,000 in the affairs of a well known business man who died recently, and who was connected with some of the largest financial firms in England. It is learned that this man was a Winchester street solicitor, who left property valued at $300,000. He appears to have "transferred" in Kaffir stocks and to have used his clients' stock to cover his losses.

Silence Cure For Women.

A London physician has taken his life in his hand and declared in favor of what he calls the "silence cure" for nervous women. The doctor is a specialist of renown with a high reputation among society dames. He says that all that is needed by an exhausted leader of the social swim is to pass an hour or so every day in absolute silence. This will not only soothe the nerves but will cause the lines of worry to leave the face and will impart an expression of peacefulness and beauty. "If nervous women," he says, "can be persuaded to hold their tongues and permit the brain to rest we shall have fewer breakdowns and neuralgia and nervous prostration."
