TO WIN $50,000.

Man Makes Unique Wager With Rich Uncle.

Chicago, July 14.—Nelson Barnes, well-known young business man, is trying to quit cigarette smoking to win $50,000.

It was John M. Barker, of Michigan City, Ind., uncle of Mrs. Barnes, who is said to have wagered $50,000 with Mr. Barnes that he could not give up the smoking of cigarettes. The nephew accepted the terms and his friends who have tried in vain to thrust their cigarettes on him, are betting on him to win.

Told in the Twilight

Really the nicest place in town for a garden party, or a wedding tea is "Maitland House," with its sloping lawns, where in by high stone walls, its grand old trees, and its outlook over the river flowing by. Mrs. Skinner arranged that her informal little tea, for Miss Magee, on Thursday, should all be out of doors. Every body had tea and ices on the verandah, and later went down to the water's edge. The day was perfect, and with all the inducements of pleasant surroundings, and a pleasant surroundings people found it very hard to go home. There was nobody to look without a shade of the hostess and her daughter, and of their privileges in living in such a delightful place. Among the guests were Miss Muriel Dobbs, Mrs. Edward Birkett, Miss Straubenzee, Miss Frances Macaulay, Miss Etta Callaghan, Miss Edith Folger, Miss Adele, Miss Elsie Taylor, Miss Constance Cooke, Miss Mildred Cooke, Miss Louise Cunningham, Miss Florence Cunningham, Miss Etta Kirkpatrick, Miss Dorothy Kirkpatrick, Miss Fairlie, Miss Frances Sullivan, Miss Madeline Carter, Miss Elsa Campbell, Miss Adelaide Ritchie, Miss Violet Smith, Miss Gertrude Whitehead.

Yet in spite of this scanty and monotonous diet, the boy is fully developed, of normal size, and of good weight. He is inclined to be a bit rickety, and is rather nervous. He attends Parry's School, and is one of the best pupils.

He will not take anything but milk.

The choicer morsels of food have been offered him, but he refuses to be coaxed away from his milk diet.

On one occasion his mother forced food down his throat, but it made him ill at once, and he ate a lot of milk. His diet each week consists of a pint of milk mixed with sugar and water, which is by no means an excessive quantity for even a twelve-month-old infant.
