A secret worth knowing is how tint laces, chiffons, silk or crocheted buttons, feathers, slippers, gloves, etc., to a gown shade. The materials required are oil paints in tubes and benzine. The benzine is placed in porcelain bowl and the paint is dissolved in it. The work has to be don quickly and of course in a fireles room. Mix the paint to the require shade in a saucer, comparing it with 13. the goods until the right color. When the exact tint is reached mix with with the benzine and dip the articles to be dyed quickly in it before the paint falls to the bottom. A hairpin comes in handily to hold the edge the goods. Shake out quickly hang up to dry. It is well to make few experiments before risking costly materials but the process is really not at all formidable.

Woman's Ingenuity.
